Showdown to Come Today on Measure.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—[Special.]—In a whirlwind of administration lobbying for votes, the closely contested bill clothing President Roosevelt with vast powers to reorganize the administrative branch of the government is approaching a final showdown in the senate tomorrow.

The fate of the measure hangs on the votes of the following five senators: Ellison D. Smith [D., S. C.], Elbert D. Thomas [D., Utah], Elmer Thomas [D., Okla.], Hattie W. Caraway [D., Ark.], and Ernest Lundeen [Farmer-Labor, Minn.].

The White House lobbyists have been doing intensive missionary work with these doubtful senators and the administration leaders are confident that all five now will cast their votes for the bill. Senator James F. Byrnes [D., S. C.], who is in charge of the measure, tonight said that the motion to recommit the bill to the committee for further modification, which will be voted on at 3 p. m. tomorrow, will be defeated by not less than three votes. Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], leader of the opposition, would not venture a prediction.

Lobbyists Work Feverishly.

Tommy Corcoran and other White House lobbyists have done heroic work getting Democrats into line for the bill and have qualified for the positions of assistant to the President created by the measure. These are the assistants which the Brownlow committee, author of the bill, said should have a passion for anonymity, a fundamental qualification for lobbying.

Not since the ill-fated bill to pack the Supreme court has the administration been compelled to pay so high a price [in the tax payers' money] for support of an administration measure. Senator James P. Pope [D., Idaho] voted against the Wheeler amendment which would have emasculated the bill and within three days was rewarded with a 10 million dollar dam and power plant for Boise, Idaho. The project previously had been turned down by the reclamation and budget bureaus and the house appropriations committee.

Flood control projects in Arkansas costing 40 millions were offered Senator Caraway. Senator Smith was promised the green light for his 130 million dollar cotton crop subsidy bill. Senator Lynn J. Frazier [R., N. D.] was threatened with discontinuance of WPA relief work in his state.

Roosevelt Signs Mortgage.

Even President Roosevelt was compelled to mortgage his future course to check threatened defections. He promised the railroad brotherhoods that in reorganizing the government he would not lay hands on the railway pension administration.

"Never in the history of congress," said Representative Roy O. Woodruff [R., Mich.], "has there been such open and intense coercion of members as has taken place on the reorganization bill pending before the senate. The most unfortunate aspect of this whole situation is that apparently President Roosevelt and his advisers find themselves unable to concede to any of their critics—even their own best and oldest friends—the slightest sincerity of purpose."

The bill would clothe the President with dictatorial powers to rearrange, consolidate, and abolish bureaus and other agencies of the government, with the exception of the interstate commerce commission, the federal trade commission, and other quasi-legislative and quasi-judicial bodies. He would be able, for example, to abolish the TVA board of directors and incorporate the administration of this project in an executive bureau. Thus he would be enabled to make good his removal of Dr. Arthur E. Morgan from the TVA board, even if the Supreme court should hold the removal invalid.

Civil Service Perilled.

The bill abolishes the civil service commission and places the entire classified service under a single administrator, who would be under the thumb of the President. According to the opposition, this provision would deliver the classified service

Goes for Her Purse, Then for Her Smile, Then to Jail

South Bend, Ind., March 27.—(AP)—Miss Frances Hynek of La Porte and her escort, Harry Hecklinski of South Bend, parked their car here and a thief stole her purse and Harry's hat and coat. The two saw a man later wearing the hat and coat. Miss Hynek walked up, flashed a come hither smile and made a date with the man to go to a café. Hecklinski telephoned police, who arrested John Sobieski, 24 years old, for investigation.

EX-CONVICT TO GIVE UP TODAY IN SLAYING QUIZ

Protests at Final Release Bared.

BY MARCIA WINN.

How Edward Shuler, slain Friday after constant threatening by labor hoodlums, urged the state to continue supervision of a paroled convict whom police now seek in connection with his murder, was disclosed yesterday by Miss Helene Leach, childhood friend and personal attorney of the slain man. She is the first person to talk of Shuler in defiance of the possibility of personal persecution. There was a report last night that the ex-convict would surrender today for questioning.

Helene Leach.

Miss Leach told of the events leading up to Shuler's death, all of which grew out of troubles in local No. 399 of the International Union of Operating Engineers, of which he was a member. Her story, told in her home at 5481 Ellis avenue, was given with misgivings, however. It may imperil the life of her father, Andrew Leach, she fears.

Incurs Union's Anger.

It was in supporting Leach's candidacy for the presidency of local No. 399 that young Shuler, 35 years old and a comparative newcomer to labor circles, first incurred the local's anger.

The paroled convict she named is Lee Philips. Philips was sentenced to Joliet prison for armed robbery in 1929 and was paroled on Sept. 24, 1934. Shortly after he was freed he was given a job by local No. 399, of which he, too, is a member.

In October Shuler was severely beaten at a union meeting. Four men, one of them Philips, were arrested and arraigned on charges of attacking Shuler.

When witnesses, singularly and fearfully silent, failed in court to identify the four as attackers, Philips and the other three were freed and there began the series of threats against Shuler that ended only Friday when his body was found.

Discharged from Parole.

Because of these threats Shuler and Miss Leach sought to keep Philips, the parolee, under the state's supervision. T. P. Sullivan, superintendent of the supervision of parolees, admitted that pressure was brought to bear on the case, but Philips was discharged from parole on Feb. 16. This discharge, making it impossible to send him back to prison should he be caught in violation of parole rules, was made despite the pleas of Shuler and Miss Leach that they feared harm from him.

Miss Leach explained the factors that brought about Shuler's conflict with the union in the last months of his life.

"My father," she said, "is a labor man of the old school—a real labor man." Andrew Leach interrupted: "There's nothing better than unionism, when it is good." Miss Leach went on:

"He has been a member since 1906, but since 1931 had not been active until last year, when several members asked him to run against Richard Wren for president.

"He ran for the office, and got 700 votes. Wren claimed 2,200, but there weren't that many paid-up members who could vote; not more than 1,500."

Throws List at Wren.

Leach and Shuler, his most valiant supporter, then prepared certified copies of the paid-up members list for an appeal to the union's national board. They were told the matter first would have to be considered by the local union. Wren refused to do this.

U. S. Treasury Halts Mexican Silver Buying

Washington, D. C., March 27.—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said tonight the United States would discontinue until further notice the purchase of silver from Mexico.

He made the announcement after President Lazaro Cardenas of Mexico said in Mexico City that the United States would abandon its monthly purchases April 1.

In a statement, Morgenthau said:

"In view of the decision of the government of the United States to reëxamine certain of its financial and commercial relationships with Mexico, the treasury will defer continuation of the monthly silver purchase arrangements with Mexico until further notice."

Deals Profitable to Mexico.

The United States treasury has been buying 5,000,000 ounces of newly mined Mexican silver each month, paying around $2,500,000 for it at the artificially maintained New York price, which gave Mexico sizable profits.

Well informed persons expressed belief that American buying of the silver was cut off because Mexico's recent expropriation of the foreign oil companies in that country was considered officially here to be unresponsive to the Roosevelt administration's policy of being a "good neighbor" to other nations in the western hemisphere.

The Mexican government took over the $400,000,000 oil industry operated by seventeen British, American, and Dutch companies March 18. The drastic move followed refusal of the companies to comply with an arbitral award raising wages and other benefits of their 18,000 workers.

VIEWED AS REPRISAL

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, March 27.—(AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas of Mexico today announced the United States had canceled its purchases of Mexican silver, effective April 1, in a move interpreted here as reprisal for Mexico's expropriation of the foreign oil industry.

Diplomatic sources said the effect of the cancellation on Mexico's economic program might be negligible for the time being, but was significant as indicative of a major shift of the

EINSTEIN DISCOVERS MATTER UNREAL, HE SAYS IN NEW BOOK

Princeton, N. J., March 27.—(AP)—Albert Einstein, in a new book out tomorrow, predicts that science is on the verge of discovering that matter is not the fundamental reality of nature. The one great reality, he says, will be found to be "the field," something that both permeates and surrounds matter and man. Everyday examples are cited. Gravitation is a "field" that every one feels.

Magnetism is another field. A person in a strong magnetic field feels nothing; but his watch feels something, a force that stops it. Another example is the electromagnetic field. Radio is an illustration of that field. Light is another sample of the electromagnetic field.

"We could regard matter," Prof. Einstein states, "as the regions in space where the field is especially strong."

LUXURY YACHT OF GOERING HAS TEAKWOOD HULL

HAMBURG, March 27.—The first detailed description of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's new yacht, the 95 foot Karin the Second, became available here today. The ship is of teakwood on the outer hull and is luxuriously outfitted.

The boat is constructed to operate both on open sea and in inland waters. With three propellers the yacht is powered by two Diesel engines and develops fourteen knots. A radio room has been installed from which it is possible for Goering to carry on telephone conversations with all parts of the reich while cruising.

New York, March 27.—[Special.]—A boy and a girl were officially judged here last night to have the biggest smiles in New York. They are Rose Rushit, 7 years old, and Jimmy O'Brien, 4. They won their titles by smiling along with a lot of others at the annual boys' Athletic league contests held at Spear auditorium.

Very Gorgeous Blonde Almost Conquers Evil

Harry A. Atwood, an able journeyman burglar for twenty of his forty-two years, decided Saturday night to reform and settle down, he told police yesterday. His last alma mater, San Quentin, whence he was graduated on parole in 1935, had proved a terrible bore anyway. And the truth was that Mr. Atwood had fallen in love.

As Atwood tells his story, it came about in a tavern where he met a blonde, a very gorgeous blonde. While she was not at all the type to give her address and phone number to acquaintances of the evening, it seemed she was somewhat smitten herself and she gave Mr. Atwood directions for finding her again. She told him she lived in room 1694 at the Chicagoan hotel, 65 West Madison street.

He Decides to Propose.

Atwood gave the matter a lot of thought over night and yesterday morning decided to go over and ask the lady's hand in wedlock.

But as Mr. Atwood reached the prescribed door, a man came out.

"O, O," thought Mr. Atwood, "hoaxed again! This blonde has fooled me. She is married and this is her husband. I'll get out of here and never trust a blonde again."

Suiting action to thought, he fled. But the strange man was a little fleeter of foot and he seized the reformed burglar.

Surprise for Mr. Atwood.

When the stranger turned him over to the police instead of shooting him down in his tracks Mr. Atwood was much relieved, but he was amazed no end to find the police booked him on a burglary charge instead of one of home wrecking.

The only trouble with his story was that there was no blonde. The occupant of room 1694 is a gentleman named Jack Tavlin. He had left his room door unlocked so a friend, Jack Andrews, could make an early morning call. It was Andrews that Mr. Atwood encountered.

Andrews said Atwood was inside the room when he came in. And to prove it, there were the trousers of Jack Tavlin, the right pocket turned inside out, and minus the eight dollars Tavlin had left there.

It began to look yesterday as if Mr. Atwood would reform all right, for a while anyway. There are no gorgeous blondes at Stateville prison.

Woodmere, N. Y., March 27.—[Special.]—Four men, lured from a Manhattan night club by the headlight glare of an 18 carat diamond, converted a Long Island mansion into a modern torture chamber this morning. They seared the bare feet of Charles Milgrim, 49 years old, wealthy Manhattan couturier, to learn the hiding place of the family jewels. They stifled the screams of his wife, Sally Milgrim, one of the country's leading dress designers.

Arrow indicates scene of Milgrim torture. Crosses mark sites of previous crimes of similar nature.

They bound the parents, two children, and two servants, threatening to chloroform them. Then, after cutting the telephone wires, they escaped in broad daylight with $94,700 in gems and cash.

Boldest of Four in Half a Year.

It was the boldest and most lucrative of four similar raids on the Long Island millionaires' colony in the last six months. Police believe all were the work of the same band of marauders.

The thirteen room Milgrim mansion on Willow road, Woodsburgh, situated about 80 feet back from a winding country byway in an exclusive development just off the Rockaways, was quiet when John Waller, 32 years old, the colored houseman, arrived at 8:30 a. m. from his home in Woodmere. He went direct to the kitchen and began preparing orange juice for breakfast. Suddenly he felt a prod in the back and a voice said: "Stick 'em up!"

Bandits Not Masked.

Waller turned. He was confronted by a man with a revolver. Three others, similarly armed, were entering the kitchen from a door leading to the cellar. They were not masked.

"Take us to Sally Milgrim's room," the leader demanded.

Mr. and Mrs. Milgrim had been hosts at a party at a night club on 57th street, New York City, in honor of their niece, who recently had become a mother. They had arrived home at 4:30 o'clock and were still asleep.

Waller, with a pistol in his back, led the quartet to the master bedroom on the second floor. The gunmen awakened the sleeping couple.

Refuse to Reveal Ring.

Milgrim and his wife refused to answer. They and Waller were bound with neckties.

Then the intruders awakened the two Milgrim children, Franklin, 12 years old, and Paul, 9, and their governess, Alwine Gorgus, scantily clad as she was taking her setting up

SPANISH TROOPS BLAST PATHWAY INTO CATALONIA

200 Planes Wither Loyalist Lines.

Italy Warns France

ROME, March 27.—(AP)—An official Italian statement today warned France that any French intervention in Spain "might compromise peace on the European continent." The organ of the Italian foreign office, Informazione Diplomatica, published the statement declaring Italy was "following with greatest attention the campaign of French leftists for intervention in Spain."

HENDAYE, France [At the Spanish Frontier], March 27.—(AP) Spanish rebel forces late today entered Catalonia, capturing the village of Masalcorreig outh of the strategic Saragossa-Lerida highway.

Cavalry and infantry crossed the Cinca river aided by an artillery barrage and 200 planes and routed the enemy to move on to Catalonian soil in the province of Lerida.

The point of entry was a short distance due south of Fraga, only fifteen miles from the city of Lerida, provincial capital, and less than 100 miles from Barcelona. Other rebel forces crossed the Cinca river north of Fraga.

From the bluffs on the edge of the valley Gen. Francisco Franco's legions could see Lerida along the highway leading to Barcelona.

Dynamite Bridge and Retreat.

Government fortifications six miles west of Fraga meanwhile were shattered and the defenders withdrew, leaving many casualties and dynamiting a bridge leading to Fraga, which is on the east bank of the Cinca. Moroccan legions besieged Fraga.

One hundred sixty rebel warplanes virtually razed Fraga and heavily damaged Lerida. Forty other planes roared up and down the highway between Fraga and Lerida blasting away with bombs and machine guns.

The small village of Rosell, near Tarragona, was said to have been reduced to shambles by a rebel air raid which inflicted an undetermined death toll.

Government planes downed five rebel planes in combats along the Aragon front and bombed advancing rebels around Alcorisa and Mas de las Matas.

Loyalist Defenses Crumble.

Loyalist defenses all along the Catalonian frontier were crumbling under the greatest rebel offensive in the twenty months old civil war. Rebel communiques said the advance was continuing at an accelerated pace along the 190 mile Aragon front.

Cleanup forces trailing Franco's burnoosed Moors captured 227 government soldiers at Candasnos west of Fraga. Everywhere, the rebels reported, government troops were "fleeing in disorder."

100 Towns Captured.

At dawn, rebel military dispatches said, more than 100 towns had been captured in the preceding twenty-four hours along with thousands of prisoners and an "incalculable" quantity of war materials.

On the southern end of the long front, Franco's red and gold banners had been carried into Castellon province and assault troops were drawn up for an attack on Zorita, thirty-five miles from the Mediterranean.

The rebels fought toward Zorita yesterday and into Castellon, one of the three provinces of the ancient kingdom of Valencia, despite a bitter, last ditch struggle by outnumbered government forces. Loyalists said two Italian tanks were captured.

Rebel strategy seemed to call for a march to the sea through Castellon while terrific pressure was applied to the Catalonian defenses to the north.

Morella Next Objective.

The next major objective of the southern columns was Morella, a few miles south and east of Zorita and but thirty miles from the coast midway between Barcelona and Valencia, present and former provisional government capitals.

The past week of warfare had straightened and lengthened the rebel front so that today it reached from the northwestern corner of Castellon province to the foothills of the Pyrenees.

Motorized units and cavalry swept through the populous foothill country west of the Catalonian frontier while Gen. Juan Yague's army of Moroccans and Navarrese occupied Sarinena, leaving secondary forces to clean up the Alcubierre mountains.

Thousands of Troops Trapped.

Dispatches from rebel Irun said between 10,000 and 20,000 government soldiers were surrounded in the Alcubierre mountains, northeast of Saragossa and west of Sarinena.

The Barcelona command drew trained troops and material from the Madrid and southern fronts to make a stand on the Catalonian frontier.

The defenders feverishly dug in on the east side of the Cinca river on a 70 mile line from Fraga north to Boltana. The river, roughly paralleling the frontier, long has been considered Catalonia's emergency line of defense.

The Ebro river was a dividing line between the northern and southern wings of the rebel drive toward the Mediterranean. The defense line south of the Ebro seemed based on Morella, Valderrobres, and Caseras.

Strike Some Resistance.

East of Caspe and Alcaniz Gen. Miguel Aranda and Gen. Garcia Valino, commanding a mixed force of Italian Legionnaires and Navarrese, struck at the central government defenses, encountering stubborn resistance before Maella, on the Catalonia frontier and less than 40 miles from the coast.

At dawn today the government still held Maella, despite the fact that the rebel air force held the whip hand in this sector.

Franco's airmen won aerial control there in a series of battles yesterday and then rained tons of bombs on government positions and strafed open trenches with machine guns.

Rebel Legions Fight Way Into Catalonia

Spanish rebels yesterday fought their way into Catalonia for the first time after a heavy attack south of Fraga. Fraga was bombarded by artillery and 160 planes. The rebels straightened their line to the north of Fraga and reported 10,000 to 20,000 loyalist troops were surrounded in the mountains near Sarinena. In the last twenty-four hours of their drive the rebels had captured 100 villages and towns.

'CLIVEDEN SET' OF ASTORS AIDS FASCISM, CLAIM

STOCKPORT, England, March 27.—(AP)—Laborite Sir Stafford Cripps tonight bitterly accused the "Cliveden set" of driving Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain toward an "international Fascist alliance." Chamberlain meanwhile was a week-end guest at Cliveden, the Buckinghamshire home of Viscount Astor and his American born wife, where many influential Conservatives frequently gather.

"That is the way the Cliveden set is driving Chamberlain," Cripps said in a speech. "They are the people who got Viscount Halifax to go to Germany behind Eden's back. They are the people who have been entertaining Joachim von Ribbentrop [former German ambassador to Britain and now foreign minister] and making friends with many other Nazi Germans.

"They are the people who are running the policy behind Chamberlain and they are the people who would like to see Britain a Fascist state as well. Chamberlain must go."

SON OF JAILED U-BOAT PASTOR IS CONFIRMED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 27.—When prayers were offered today for the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, imprisoned Protestant pastor, in his church in Dahlem, a Berlin suburb, the officiating clergyman announced that this would be a bitter Sabbath for the former U-boat commander.

The pastor said Niemoeller had hoped he would be on hand to confirm his son, Hans Joachim. Niemoeller had taught the boy and other children of his age in preparation for the confirmation. It had been whispered that Niemoeller perhaps would be allowed to leave the concentration camp long enough to confirm the class.

There are 16 Protestant pastors in prison, 58 have been expelled from their communities, and 36 have been forbidden to preach.

Jap Militarists Gain Control of Man's Life and Property

TOKIO, March 27.—(AP)—Militarism held potential control of the most fundamental human and economic liberties today through its sweeping victory in the 73d diet.

Formal adjournment of the diet [parliament] closed one of its stormiest sessions in history.

Pleading wartime necessity, the government introduced and gained enactment of:

1. The national mobilization bill, which places the life and property of the lowliest citizen as well as the greatest corporation in government hands during "time of war or national emergency."

2. The electric power bill, which signs over to the government complete control of the electric industry.

3. A regular budget of 2 billion 876 million yen [more than $830,000,000] and a military budget to meet the costs of the war in China in 1938 of 4 billion 850 million yen [more than $1,400,000,000].

4. Legislation empowering the government to create and partially finance two huge corporations for exploitation of conquered areas in North and Central China.

As an instrument of highly centralized state control the mobilization measure is extremely important.

Through declaration of a condition of emergency the government may expropriate personal goods of the average citizen, impress him "into national mobilization work," deny him the right of free speech, suppress his newspaper, or close his bank.

Similarly, the government is given the power to direct, restrict, or prohibit virtually every function of business and finance externally and internally.

HEAD OF FINNISH MILITARY FORCES CALLS ON HITLER

BERLIN, March 27.—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler turned his attention today to the military situation in northeastern Europe as he took a day off from oratory in the Austro-German plebiscite campaign.

In the Sunday calm of his chancellery he had an earnest conversation with Gen. H. Oestermann, commander-in-chief of Finland's armed forces.

Official word of Hitler's meeting with the Finnish general was confined to the bare announcement that Oestermann, accompanied by Aarne Worimaa, Finnish minister, was received by the Fuehrer.

Gen. Oestermann has been in Berlin for several days and has had numerous conversations with high military circles. He came to Berlin on the invitation of Wilhelm Keitel, Hitler's chief of high command of armed forces.

JAPAN TO PAY U. S. FULL CLAIM FOR SINKING OF PANAY

TOKIO, March 28.—[Monday.]—(AP)—Domei [Japanese news agency] reported today it had learned the Japanese government had decided to pay the full amount of the indemnity asked by the United States for the sinking last December of the gunboat Panay. The Japanese reply to the United States note claiming the indemnity, it said, was expected to be sent in a few days.

United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew last week presented to the Japanese government the American claim for $2,214,007.36—$1,945,670.01 for property loss and $268,337.35 for death and personal injury.

The Panay was sunk Dec. 12 on the Yangtze river in China in an attack by Japanese war planes.

80 JAP BOMBERS ATTACK HANKOW; BLAST AIR FIELDS

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

SHANGHAI, March 27.—Another gigantic air raid, the greatest that Hankow has thus far experienced, was carried out this afternoon when upward of eighty Japanese naval bombers and pursuit planes appeared over China's temporary capital and dumped "several hundred large size bombs" there and on Wuchang immediately across the Yangtze river.

The raiders' objective in Hankow was the Chinese military airdrome and at Wuchang their objectives were the airdrome, the Canton-Hankow railway terminus and military warehouses.

Japs Warn Missionaries.

SHANGHAI, March 28.—[Monday.]—(AP)—American missionaries in southern Shantung province—still at their posts in China's bloodiest war zone—were informed by radio today of Japanese charges that mission property was being used by Chinese forces.

Missionaries at Lini and Yihsien particularly were warned of the possibility of Japanese retaliation.

Japanese military sources reported one southern Shantung force was ready for a final assault on Lini, about seventy miles northeast of Suchow, but Chinese declared the invaders were being driven back.

Conflicting Battle Reports.

There were conflicting reports on the war at Yihsien but the Chinese asserted they were making a heavy counter attack. Yihsien, on a spur of the Tientsin-Pukow railway, lies forty-five miles northeast of Suchow.

A Chinese army, reinforced by new artillery, mechanized units, tanks and crack troops, was reported to have crossed the Grand canal at Taierhchwang, forty miles northeast of Suchow, and to have assaulted Japanese positions near Yihsien.

Simultaneously, it was said, other Chinese columns drove across the canal at a point farther west, recaptured Hanchwang, twenty-two miles north of Suchow and drove on north to threaten Lincheng.

WOMAN RAPED IN HOME BY 2 MEN; ONE IS CAPTURED

Miss Maizie Zrawski, 37 years old, 1236 North Paulina street, was raped last night in her home by two young men, one of whom was seized by police soon afterward. He is Teddy Glowa, 19 years old, 1203 Chicago avenue, said to be out on bond on a morals charge in Niles Center.

Glowa broke into Miss Zrawski's home through a rear porch window, and was followed into the place by his companion. The two menaced her with a revolver, and then attacked her.

Not long afterward Policemen John O'Donnell and Edward Kennedy arrested Glowa in an alley in the rear of 1337 Huron street. Identified later at the North Racine avenue station by Miss Zrawski, he confessed. His companion is known.

Hankow Bombed

(Story in adjoining column.)

Eighty Japanese war planes yesterday bombed military objectives of Hankow and Wuchang (1). American missionaries at Lini and Yihsien (2) were warned against allowing Chinese forces to use mission properties. Heavy fighting raged around Lini and Yihsien.

FRANCE URGED TO DROP CZECH PACT AS PEACE MOVE

PARIS, March 27.—(AP)—The National Peace council, representing French peace societies, today suggested that France free herself of military obligations to Czechoslovakia in case of a German attack.

The council is composed of delegates from the peace groups and its members include Leon Jouhaux, who has 5,000,000 followers in the powerful General Federation of Labor. Members of the Popular Front also belong as does Victor Basch, president of the people's assembly, governing body of the Popular Front.

A statement issued by the council declared that if France fulfilled her Czech treaty she would be forced to stand alone before "Germany swelled by Austria, Italy, and Japan without a guarantee of British help.". The council's statement said it believed France "must adapt to new circumstances the convention concluded on bases which in fact no longer exist."

'Reformed Government' of China Set Up in Nanking

SHANGHAI, March 28.—[Monday.]—(AP)—Inauguration of a Japanese-sponsored "Reformed Government of the Republic of China" was officially announced today to replace the régime of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Establishment of the new régime today in Nanking, China's Japanese conquered capital, was made public in a manifesto signed by Liang Hung-tze as chairman of the new executive yuan, a position equivalent to premier.

SOVIET RUSSIA PARTIAL TO RICH MEN AS envoys

Washington, D. C., March 27.—(AP)—Millionaires to Moscow! That describes in part at least the state department's policy in picking envoys to the soviet union.

The appointment of Alexander Kirk, Chicago millionaire and veteran of the foreign service, to be counselor of embassy in Moscow, is in accord with it.

The state department acts on the theory that communist Russia wants us represented by capitalists. Diplomats say Russia does not want any country to send representatives who lean toward socialism or communism—they might meddle in soviet political affairs. In particular, the Anglo-American "parlor pink" is anathema.

The first United States' ambassador to the soviet union was wealthy William Bullitt, now ambassador to Paris. Bullitt's successor was multi-millionaire Joseph E. Davies, who has been named ambassador to Belgium and will leave Moscow for Brussels shortly.

282 ITALIANS DIE FIGHTING IN SPAIN FOR GEN. FRANCO

ROME, March 27.—(AP)—An official communique today announced Italian losses in Spain since the Spanish rebels launched their latest offensive March 9. Casualties were listed as: 29 officers and 253 men killed; 123 officers and 1,349 men wounded, and 33 missing.

An Italian column was said to have advanced more than sixty miles on the eastern Spanish front moving forward between two Spanish insurgent columns commanded by Gen. Miguel Aranda and Gen. Juan Yague.

The Italian troops were reported to have thrown back government defenders rushed hastily to the Aragon front from Madrid.

GERMANY HAILS AUSTRIAN CHURCH SWING TO HITLER

See Path Opened for New Vatican Accord.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 27.—Nazi Germany today scored a signal victory over one of the most powerful organizations in the world, the Vatican, which heretofore has repeatedly denounced Nazlism and what it called its "anti-Christian campaign."

The Vatican's leading representative in devoutly Catholic Austria, which was conquered by Adolf Hitler two weeks ago, issued a solemn declaration urging the population to vote for the union with Germany at the plebiscite on Sunday, April 10, and praising Nazlism. The declaration, which was read in all Roman Catholic churches, contained a pledge of allegiance to Germany.

Cardinal Sides With Nazis.

While a number of high Roman Catholic dignitaries in Germany, who had greeted Hitler's reign with enthusiasm because they believed he would fight the "Godless scourge," were engaged in a bitter feud with the Nazi government, Cardinal Theodore Innitzer, archbishop of Vienna, was openly siding with the Nazi power holders.

German church dignitaries have been at loggerheads with the Nazis because the education of Catholic youth had been taken out of their hands. This, the Catholics assert, is a violation of the concordat signed by Hitler and the Vatican.

The warmth of the message of the Austrian cardinal to the Nazis caused the German church prelates to voice the hope that their colleague had succeeded in obtaining promises from the Nazis for a better interpretation of the concordat or possibly a totally new treaty to govern relations between the government and the Catholic church.

Archbishop Cesare Orsenigo, the papal nuncio to Berlin, has had several conferences with Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, in the last few weeks. The conversations gave rise to reports that the Nazis hope to sign a new concordat before "election day."

Cardinal Adds "Heil Hitler."

The letter which Cardinal Innitzer wrote to Joseph Buerckel, Hitler's commissar to the government of the province of Austria, was reproduced in the pan-German press. It showed that under the typewritten letter the cardinal added "Heil Hitler" in his own handwriting.

Cardinal Innitzer also sent the text of the declaration to Buerckel.

"From this you see that we bishops have done our national duty voluntarily and without coercion," the cardinal wrote. "I know that effective cooperation will follow this declaration."

In the preface to the declaration, Cardinal Innitzer and Bishop Sigismund Waitz of Salzburg, who signed it, explained they were urging Catholics to vote for the union of Germany and Austria because Buerckel "has announced the forthright line of his policy which is under the motto 'Render to God all the belongings of God, and to Cæsar all the belongings of Cæsar.'"

Cheer War on Bolshevism.

The declaration itself said that the bishops issued it "of their own free will."

"We recognize joyfully what the Nazi movement has accomplished and is accomplishing for the racial and economic structure as well as for the social policy of the reich and nation, especially for the poorest classes," said the document. "We are also convinced that through the efforts of the National Socialist movement the menace of the all destroying godless bolshevism was averted."

The declaration said in conclusion that "on the day of the plebiscite we bishops will find it our self-evident duty to stand up as Germans for Germany and we expect all faithful Christians will know what they owe their people."

Issuance of the declaration assures an overwhelming victory for Hitler. It is expected to draw to the polls those who heretofore had decided to abstain because of the conflict between the Catholics and Nazis in Germany.

The American consulate in Vienna is being besieged daily by 1,400 Austrians—many of them Jews. They are applying for permission to join relatives in America, but the quota for the year is only 1,413. Consequently the vast majority of the applicants will be rejected. Their only hope is that as a result of the annexation of Austria they will be classed as Germans and thus be permitted to enter the United States under the German quota of 17,000.

Storm Troopers who picketed Jewish owned shops and warned Austrians not to enter them were withdrawn today, a move which the Jews hope will ease their situation at least temporarily.

FRENCH WORKERS TO BACK BLUM IN CABINET CRISIS

See Fascism if People's Front Falls.

PARIS, March 27. — (AP) — Leon Jouhaux, secretary of the General Confederation of Labor, today pledged the support of its 5,000,000 members in the government's fight with the senate against a national union cabinet. Fears have been expressed such a ministry might serve as an excuse to put the rightists in power.

Leon Jouhaux.

Jouhaux, speaking at Caen before 3,000 leftists, declared:

"The working class will go as far as an active general strike in order to bar the road against threatening domestic Fascism."

Jouhaux demanded that the People's Front cabinet institute foreign exchange control, "nationalization of trusts" and other measures. He also said it was necessary for France to furnish arms to the Spanish government.

Communists Urge More Strikes.

Meanwhile Premier Blum and his ministers labored unavailingly to end strikes in the metal industry as an implied invitation from communists to organize more and bigger ones was debated by the premier's Socialist followers.

The Paris communist party unit has proposed a "powerful demonstration by the masses" to meet what it termed "reactionary" opposition in the French senate to Blum's financial program.

An estimated 30,000 workers were on "stay-in" strikes already in metallurgical factories of the Paris and Lille regions—a movement which started three days ago to show, among other things, support for the Blum government.

A thousand workers of a Nantes sugar factory accepted an arbitral decision of their dispute, but the ranks of strikers in the metallurgical industry were not reduced.

Between talks with workers' and employers' representatives today, Blum lunched with Winston Churchill, Conservative member of the British parliament and world war cabinet minister.

Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour conferred with Charles Corbin, French ambassador to London. Diplomatic sources said Corbin stressed the British government's interest in seeing the French domestic situation restored to normal as soon as possible, lest Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler take advantage of the crisis by staging another "adventure" in central Europe.

AUTONOMY DEMANDED FOR GERMANS BY NAZIS IN THE CZECH REPUBLIC

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, March 27.—(AP)—Hundreds of Sudeten German [Nazi] mass meetings today defiantly demanded new elections and autonomy for Czechoslovakia's 3,250,000 German minority. Konrad Henlein, Nazi leader, remained in background but his lieutenants stirred big crowds in the regions bordering Germany to a high pitch of Nazi enthusiasm.

The biggest meeting was at Reichenberg in northern Bohemia, where Johann Neuwirdt, a Sudeten German deputy, warned the Prague government that if it still wished to face the facts it must act quickly "before it is too late." Speaking to an audience of 23,000, he demanded both autonomy and immediate elections.

"Our unity is a fact; discipline has been established and Henlein is undisputed leader of the German Sudetens," said another speaker. "The march into the future has begun."

GERMAN SOLDIER PIERCES FRENCH FORTS ON BORDER

Says He's Deserter; Paris Believes He's a Spy.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 27.—Military authorities are worried about a young German soldier who sped at 80 miles an hour across the French border in an armored car and told the customs officers who arrested him that he was a deserter.

The French and Belgian general staffs have good reason to believe that this "deserter" is, in fact, a daring German patriot.

His plan, they believe, was to find out whether the famous Maginot line, the steel and concrete fortifications which are described in military circles as the "life belt of France," could be penetrated.

Military Experts Puzzled.

The military experts are puzzled by such facts as these:

1. How could this German soldier steal an armored car from a barracks without the alarm being given at once?

2. How could he drive for fifty miles in Germany without being detected?

3. How could he pass the German frontier, which, since Adolf Hitler's military purge last month, has been practically closed?

The self-confessed deserter appears to have known secret passages between the net of barbed wire and steel posts which cover the "No Man's Land" between the frontier and the Maginot wall, for he was compelled to use them to break through the line itself.

Seek to Enter Legion.

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, March 27.—Suspicion has been aroused and is finding expression in the Paris press concerning the large numbers of young Germans who recently crossed the frontier into France and sought to enlist in the French Foreign Legion.

The German element in the legion was already large owing to the flight of young Socialists and anti-Nazis into France. Now this new stream of recruits has begun and La Republique today asked: "Isn't it possible that these young men have been charged with the task of seeding the legion. There may be a method in this sending of Hitlerian agents into Africa."

Former legionnaires, while admitting the possibility of such a plan, said that it will not work because loyalty to the legion will dominate every other loyalty in the minds of the legionnaires.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT FAILS.

An elderly man, found with his wrists slashed in Union park yesterday, told police he had tried to end his life because he felt old men weren't wanted. He is Theodore Hellmann, 70 years old, of Downers Grove. He will recover.

EFFORTS TO ADD PROCESSING TAX DRAW NEW FIRE

Wallace Advocates Levy of 200 Million.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—[Special.]—The attempt of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace to add a 200 million dollar system of processing taxes to the general tax bill which will be taken up by the senate this week is encountering growing opposition in congress.

Senator James P. Pope [D., Idaho] has offered the processing tax amendment which was drafted for him by department of agriculture experts. It is Secretary Wallace's hope to thus add 200 millions a year to be distributed in bounties to farmers in addition to 500 millions a year in soil conservation payments.

In general, the proposed processing taxes [called tarif equalization fees] in the hope of avoiding the odium attached to the old processing taxes which were recognized as sales taxes passed on to the buyer are about half the rates imposed under the invalidated AAA of 1933.

Lower Rates Proposed.

As an example, the old rate on wheat was 30 cents a bushel while the new rate is to be imposed on flour, being equivalent to a tax of 15 cents a bushel on wheat.

Outside of the farm state congressmen, members of both houses are balking at further cash payments to farmers. It is pointed out that the government has turned over to farmers during the four fiscal years 1934-1937, as cash bonus payment, a sum equal to approximately one-seventh of all the taxes collected by the federal government. Total federal tax collections during the last four years have amounted to 15 billion, 314 million dollars. Federal bonuses to farmers total 2 billion 42 million.

It is estimated that, directly and indirectly, including the bonuses, about one billion dollars per year of federal funds is being spent for the special benefit of farmers and it is estimated that during 1938 this sum may grow to one billion, 275 million.

Apply to Five Crops.

The processing taxes would be applied to wheat, corn, cotton, rice, and tobacco. They are to be imposed under the theory that prices paid by farmers for what they buy are higher because of industry's tarif protection.

The total duties collected on all imports during 1937 amounted to $486,356,592, which is above the average for the last four fiscal years.

Taking the amount of duties as a measure of the additional cost to the farmer for what he buys, and assuming that as he constitutes a quarter of the population of the country, this would mean that the tarif would cost him approximately $121,589,149 last year, opponents of the Pope amendment argue. To offset that, on a tarif equalization basis, he has been and is being given 500 million dollars a year, on an average.

As a matter of fact the farmer undoubtedly has as much protection through a tarif as does industry, these legislators assert. For instance, the tarif of 40 cents per bushel on wheat is a protection of more than 50 per cent based on the average farm price of wheat in the country today.

Eastern Money Goes West.

Another phase of the program is the extent to which money is being taken from eastern taxpayers, including eastern farmers, for the benefit especially of western and southern groups of farmers.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, processing taxes cost the state of Maine approximately $841 for each $1 received by the farmers of that state.

On the other hand, the people of Iowa, Secretary Wallace's home state, paid only 14 cents for each $1 received by the farmers of that state.

Hold Fate of Roosevelt Dictator Bill

WOMAN DEFIES KILLERS; TALKS OF UNION TERROR

ler took all the certified copies and threw them at the president. He was trying to establish a point of precedence so he could present this appeal to the membership at large.

"Then Wren said, right from the stand, 'Give it to them, boys.'"

It was at this point, she related, that the four members slugged Shuler, Leach, and John Hanrahan of 5405 Woodlawn avenue.

"After their case was dismissed," she continued, "we decided it was no use fighting. The union has a bunch of racketeers and muscle men on its pay roll, whereas Shuler was really an honest American.

"But I knew about Philips' record and wrote to the parole board, telling them of the slugging, since I knew his case was supposed to come up soon for discharge.

"Early this year a parole official came to my office and asked about the slugging. I told him all I knew. He then talked to Shuler, who had known Philips since 1934 when they worked together at the Barclay hotel. He told the official a lot."

Points to Identification.

Miss Leach [whom Wren last night characterized as "meddlesome" and a busy body] pointed out that John Jung, janitor at the City National Bank building, 208 South La Salle street, had identified Philips' picture at the bureau of identification as a man who had sought Shuler on several occasions at the bank building.

Lieut. Otto Erlanson of the homicide squad and Police Captain Harry O'Connell, in charge of the murder investigation, yesterday issued an order for Philips' arrest. This was followed by the announcement of Attorney George Crane that he will surrender both Philips and Wren for questioning today.

In the meantime, Capt. O'Connell sought to learn the names that Edward Shuler is thought to have whispered to his brother the night before he was slain.

Shuler, the night before his murder, confided to his brother, Russell—"Just in case I get it, I want you to know who did it." But Russell, his tongue clamped by fear, has refused to reveal the names. Miss Leach, implying that she knows them, volunteered the information that Russell will talk "just before he leaves Chicago."

Funeral to Be Tomorrow.

This may be shortly after the funeral services at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow, when the Rev. Edward S. Keogh, Shuler's parish priest since childhood, will sing the requiem high mass at Holy Rosary Catholic church, 113th and South Park avenue. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

After the services, Mrs. Ruth Holt Shuler, mother of the slain man, who arrived here yesterday from Los Angeles, will make a formal demand for prosecution to State's Attorney Courtney, Miss Leach said.

Shuler's life as a unionist was brief.

MARY JANE CURTIS, PLANE HOSTESS, AND R. L. NELSON TO WED

The engagement of Miss Mary Jane Curtis, a hostess for the Transcontinental and Western Air lines, and Richard L. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert U. Nelson of Sunset road, Winnetka, was announced yesterday. The marriage will take place on April 16 at the home of Miss Curtis' grandparents, the Edward J. McArdles of Wilmette. After their wedding trip the Nelsons will live at 702 Reba place, Evanston.

Mary Jane Curtis.

He attended the University of Chicago for three years and since 1924 had divided his time between aviation and inventing.

He joined the union in 1933 when, returning to Chicago from Los Angeles, he appealed to Leach, an old friend of his father, for aid in finding work.

In addition, he was president of the newly organized Transportation Seat company, manufacturing a swivel chair for Pullman cars, his own invention. He has been a licensed pilot for the last 14 years and was a lieutenant in the National Guard air reserves.

5 in Family Ill; Serum for Only 3; 5th, a Boy, 18, Dies

Wenatchee, Wash., March 27.—(AP)—The five members of the Lawrence Steele family were stricken with botulism poisoning last Thursday after eating home canned greens. Physicians obtained a supply of serum by plane from Portland, Ore., but discovered there was only enough to save the lives of three. Doctors were forced to decide who was in the gravest danger. They gave the serum to Steele, his wife, and daughter Opal, 15 years old. Robert, 18, and his sister, Crystal, 9, did not get the serum. A new supply of serum later was received, but treatment failed to rally Robert and he died today.

Showdown on Measure to Come Today.

over to the political spoils men lock, stock, and barrel.

The measure also would abolish the office of controler general, whose invalidation of administration expenditures as contrary to law has angered the administration. In place of a controler general with power to stop illegal expenditures there would be an auditor whose power would be limited to reporting illegal expenditures to congress after they had been made. The bill would create a new department of welfare and establish a national resources planning board.

The house has passed two bills which are roughly parallel to three sections of the senate bill. In one bill it authorized six assistants to the President. In another and more important one it authorized reorganization by the same formula sponsored in the senate, and authorized creation of a new department and cabinet secretary to collate the work of all welfare agencies.

The senate leaders tentatively planned tonight to make the senate bill at the last moment an amendment to the house reorganization bill and return the substitute for consideration by the house.

Strategy in House.

In that event house leaders would have a choice of sending the senate bill to committee and then having it reported out for general debate and votes, section by section, or simply presenting the bill in bulk for agreement or disagreement, with the idea of getting a disagreement and sending it to conference.

A third alternative would be to send the bill to conference, but instruct the conferees to report it back to the house, section by section, in which event the house eventually would get to vote individually on the three topics it has not considered up to now. That method, however, probably would preclude either extended debate or amendment, since conference reports under the rules must be voted either up or down as presented.

WOMAN KILLED, ANOTHER HURT ON BRIDLE PATHS

One woman was fatally injured and another painfully cut and bruised yesterday in two bridle path accidents. The rider killed was Miss Bessie Meyer, 33 years old, 5309 Woodlawn avenue, a secretary for the Board of Jewish Education.

She was riding with Nathan Kalver, 1325 South Springfield avenue, at 124th street and Kean avenue, Palos Park, when her mount threw her. Her head struck the ground, fracturing her skull. She died in the Little Company of Mary hospital.

The other rider was Miss Linda Whitney, 22 years old, 730 Cornelia avenue, an artist's model. She had stopped her horse for motor trafic at Diversey parkway and Lake Shore drive, but the horse suddenly lurched in front of the moving car of Joseph Gaffin of 716 Buena avenue. She was thrown. Her back was injured, and she was taken to the Columbus Memorial hospital.

Mothers! Treat Children's Colds This Proved Way

More mothers use VapoRub than any other medication of its kind—they have proved it by use in their own homes. It was further proved in the world's largest colds-clinic. No "dosing"—just massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Almost at once, its poultice-and-vapor action starts to loosen phlegm, relieve irritation and coughing, help break local congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

VICKS VAPORUB

SOCIETY BANDIT AND 399 OTHERS SEEK FREEDOM

Get Parole Hearings Today Before Committees.

Edward [Toddy] Dillon, who was known as the society bandit when he was convicted on five robbery charges and sentenced to concurrent one year to life terms, is scheduled to appear today before a subcommittee of the state board of pardons and paroles at Menard prison to seek release.

The board's subcommittees will open three hearings today, one at Stateville and Joliet prisons, one at Pontiac, and the third at Menard. Pending are 400 convicts' cases.

Convicted in 1931.

Dillon was convicted in 1931 after more than forty holdup victims had identified him. He had moved in smart social circles in Chicago. He was arrested while escorting a debutante of 17 to a theater. He was questioned in 1925 concerning the murder of his father, Dr. William A. Dillon, in St. Louis, but was not held.

Of the 400 convicts, 120 will seek their freedom because they have completed the minimum of their sentences. No convict may appear before the board before he has served eleven months and all who are serving indeterminate sentences get a preliminary hearing at that stage.

Kent to Seek Freedom.

Among the 120 who are to appear for the first time is Ralph Clayton Kent, 53 years old, a former broker who pleaded guilty to the embezzlement of $31,000 belonging to a woman client. He was sentenced to one to ten years on April 20, 1937.

The sessions of the whole parole board are held in secret, although a law passed a year ago provided that all sessions shall be open to the public. After the subcommittee members which hear the convicts at the three prisons report to the board as a whole, all seven members vote on the paroles. Two members constitute a subcommittee.

As part of their task this time, the board must pass on thirty-six convicts returned as parole violators during the month. Among others whose cases will be up for hearing today are Lawrence Marzano, who was stabbed several times by fellow convicts at Stateville prison in 1935; Joseph Hart, chef at the prison who didn't want a parole two years ago, and Thomas Oman, now 23 years old and 6 feet 7 inches tall, sent to Pontiac in his youth as an auto thief.

Seized as Gang Ride Suspects

Emmanuel Frangella, Carmen Carboni, and Frank Giordoni, who were arrested yesterday when Joseph Giordoni accused them from his hospital bed of taking him for a gangland ride in which they failed to kill him. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

VICTIM OF GANG RIDE LIVES AND 3 ARE ARRESTED

The victim of a gangland ride lived to tell the tale yesterday. From a bed in the Bridewell hospital he taunted the three men whose arrest he caused after police found him wounded in the neck in a lonely prairie.

The attempted slaying grew out of a Mafia extortion plot, according to the victim's story. He said he boasted to the wrong man about his plan for revenge. It was the second time he had been shot while trying to settle the old score outside the law. In 1931, he said, he was wounded in the leg during a gun fight in Kenosha, Wis., with the extortionist.

Three Named in Shooting.

The victim is Joseph Giordoni, 30 years old, 7649 Dobson avenue, a truck driver. He named as his assailants Frank Giordoni, 7827 Langley avenue, who is not related to him; Emmanuel Frangella of 9059 Dobson avenue, and Carmen Carboni of 7729 Greenwood avenue.

"A few weeks ago I saw the fellow who got $500 from me in 1931," Joseph Giordoni told Sergt. Kyran Phelan of the detective bureau. "I went to Frank Giordoni's tavern at 7752 Greenwood avenue and told him I was going to get revenge.

"Saturday night when I went to the tavern again Giordoni asked me to go with the other two men in his car to get a couple of cases of whisky. As we drove away they told me Giordoni was a friend of the fellow I wanted to kill.

Tells of Death Threat.

"Carboni had a gun and said I was going to be killed instead. They drove to 73d street and Kolmar avenue. Then Carboni shot me. They opened the door and pushed me out. I was unconscious for a while. At first when I came to I thought I was dead. I started to look for a telephone and the police found me."

Police seized Frank Giordoni in his tavern. In his car they picked up a shell from a .25 caliber automatic pistol. The other two men were asleep in their homes, fully dressed.

TWO YEAR RELIEF PEAK IS REACHED; 634,000 GIVEN AID

A two year peak for relief has been reached, statisticians for the Illinois Emergency Relief commission said yesterday. There are now 198,900 cases with a total of 634,000 persons on the rolls, despite speeding up of the federal works program to absorb increasing unemployment.

Within the last few months, PWA nearly doubled its payroll, from 101,860 workers in December to 192,300 at present. The latter figure represents an estimated 769,000 persons being supported on WPA funds. City relief funds will run out during April. That will leave only $1,900,000 a month from the state sales tax to be balanced against needs of over $3,000,000. A committee of twelve appointed by Mayor Kelly will meet daily from now until Friday when it will report to him what should be done to get more funds.

CONVICTS BLAST MINE; 38 ESCAPE OVER MOUNTAIN

Dynamite Hole Through 30 Feet of Earth, Rock.

Petros, Tenn., March 27.—[Special.]—Thirty-eight convicts blasted their way through thirty feet of rock and earth and escaped from No. 4 mine at the Brushy Mountain state prison here today. They fled from a hole barely large enough for a man to squeeze through.

Seventeen were recaptured several miles from the prison by a posse aided by bloodhounds. Twenty-one still were at large tonight in the hills and were hunted by 100 townspeople and mountaineers seeking the standing reward of $25 for each escaped felon.

Where convicts escaped.

Break Discovered After Dawn.

The break was discovered soon after dawn, when only forty-seven of eighty-five prisoners who had been sent into the mine at 6 o'clock last night came to the surface to be released.

At first it was believed the thirty-eight had mutinied, as did 178 convict miners in 1933, and still were in the mine. Then one of the prisoners told guards the thirty-eight had blasted their way out of the tunnel during the night. It was believed the convicts had several hours' start and were well into the back country near the Kentucky border.

2,100 Inmates in Prison.

Brushy Mountain prison is one of two in the state system. The main prison, at Nashville, houses most of the more desperate convicts and the long termers. To Brushy Mountain are sent the short termers, especially the physically able convicts, who mine coal from five or six shafts extending a mile and a half back into the mountain, which is one of the Cumberlands. There are about 2,100 inmates in the prison.

In 1935 and 1936 the prison was investigated after there had been reports of inhuman treatment of convicts. Night shifts had been sent into the mines to speed up production of coal for sale to private contractors, who paid prices equivalent to mine labor at 37 cents a day. There also had been many floggings.

New Warden Appointed.

A new warden, Scott Swafford, was named two years ago, and there have been no reports of trouble such as the 1933 mutiny, when the 178 convicts said they would commit mass suicide before they would come to the surface. The mutiny was ended when an investigation of grievances was promised.

The method of operating the mines is to send in a crew to turn out a given stint of work in a shift of seven hours. All coal mined in excess of the stint is credited to the convicts. Labor for the excess is paid for at the prevailing rate.

5 FREED UNDER $35 BAIL IN RIOTING AT VOLKSBUND RALLY

Milwaukee, Wis., March 27.—[Special.]—Five men arrested last night for rioting in connection with the German-American Volksbund rally at the auditorium, were free today under cash bail of $35 each. All were charged with disorderly conduct and are scheduled to appear in District court tomorrow morning. They are Leslie M. Roth, 22 years old, 1113 South 62d street, West Allis; Sigmund Eisenscherr, 26, of 1012 North 9th street; Emmett M. Davis, 24, of 5414 West Vliet street; Lawrence W. Goldsmith, 47, of 2445 North 13th street, and Thomas Rusch, 18, of 2916 North 36th street.

IGOE, LUCAS ENTER HOME STRETCH IN RACE FOR SENATE

Prystalski Makes Bitter Attack on Jarecki.

BY PARKE BROWN.

The two headliners in the Democratic primary battle, United States District Attorney Michael L. Igoe and Congressman Scott W. Lucas, rivals for the nomination for United States senator, opened the final fortnight of their contest yesterday.

Igoe will attend a reception in the Hotel Morrison headquarters this afternoon but will not begin his Chicago speeches until this evening. He said yesterday the downstate versus Chicago issue has been driven out of the campaign.

Calls Ticket Best Balanced.

"We have the best balanced and most representative ticket the party has presented in twenty-five years," the statement continued. "Sectionalism falls flat before it. The fact that all shades of union labor opinion are behind my candidacy is evidence that disposes of the downstate versus Chicago cry."

Congressman Lucas, coming into the city for a quiet Sunday, fitted himself into the meeting schedule arranged for County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, the lone county candidate that his own sponsors are backing, and spoke at four gatherings.

At a meeting of the Polish-American Citizens' league at Gniady hall, 47th street and Karlov avenue, Lucas declared:

"The people all over the state know the Kelly-Nash machine is trying to bring the entire state under its domination. All over the state I have told what the Kelly-Nash machine is trying to do to Judge Jarecki."

Charges Attack on Ballot Box.

Judge Jarecki adaressed this meeting in Polish and told a reporter that he had used his principal argument—that the effort to unseat him is an attack on the sanctity of the ballot box.

From the regular county headquarters at the Morrison, Circuit Judge John Prystalski, whom the organization is backing against Jarecki, issued the most scathing attack he has yet made on his opponent.

"It is high time," read this statement, "that the county judge took off his frock coat and beribboned pince-nez and stripped for action if we are ever going to have honest elections.

BULLET WOUND ENDS 4 YOUTHS' FORAY IN CRIME

An accidental shot halted the intended robbery foray of four boy bandits last night, sent one to the County hospital with a critical wound and landed two others in police custody. The fourth is being sought.

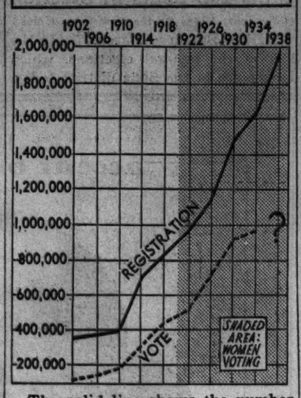
Reno Zuppa, 17 years old, 1415 South Pulaski road was shot in the right chest. Edward Kouba, 17, of 1415 South Harding avenue, and Harry Kolar, 16, of 1261 South Karlov avenue, are in custody at the Warren avenue station. Lieut. Thomas O'Hara said Arthur Eversten, 19, of 1421 South Kedvale avenue, is the fugitive.

According to the stories of Kouba and Kolar, the four drove to Springfield and Grand avenues to rob a store, but as they were alighting from the car Eversten's gun was discharged and Zuppa was wounded. They drove Zuppa in front of the Mary Thompson hospital, Maypole and Ashland avenues. Policeman Steve Howard seized Kolar, Kouba, and Zuppa there, but the fourth man escaped.

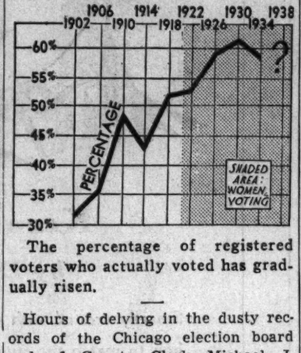
Justice Cardozo Gaining; May Quit Capital in Month

Washington, D. C., March 27.—(AP)—Associate Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo is recovering gradually from a heart ailment and may leave the capital in a month or so to convalesce at his New York summer home, friends announced today.

Getting Out Vote



The solid line shows the number of voters registered with the Chicago election board for the various years, while the dotted line shows the number who actually voted.



The percentage of registered voters who actually voted has gradually risen.

Hours of delving in the dusty records of the Chicago election board and of County Clerk Michael J. Flynn produced yesterday for the first time the figures necessary to show the ratio between the total registered vote and the vote cast in previous state and county primaries such as those of April 12.

On the basis of those figures it is expected that the total vote in Cook county two weeks from tomorrow will be above the 1,000,000 figure in spite of the lack of a serious contest for the Republican nominations. The total registration in the county is now estimated at 1,971,706. This figure will be lowered slightly by final corrections. It is estimated nearly 60 per cent of the registered vote will be cast.

Although Illinois women won the right to vote on nonconstitutional offices in 1914 they did not become fully enfranchised until the adoption of the nineteenth amendment to the federal constitution in 1920.

YOUTH ARRESTED FOR LENDING GUN TO HOLDUP GANG

Gordon Bowers, 19 years old, of 1624 North Kedzie avenue, was arrested yesterday by Albany Park police on information from nine young members of a burglary and robbery gang that he lent them the revolver they used in their crimes.

The nine, arrested Friday and Saturday, are high school students with two exceptions. The oldest is 16 years of age. They have been identified in sixteen robberies since Feb. 1, in which they obtained a total of $500.

Extra police squads patroled the Cragin and Jefferson Park police districts yesterday after four youths staged four robberies in quick succession, and attempted a fifth.

exercises, and took them into the master bedroom and trussed them. After a brief and futile search for the 18 carat ring, which they apparently had spied at the night club, the four untied Milgrim and took him into the hallway.

"Are you going to tell where that ring is?" they asked.

Milgrim shook his head. The leader floored him with a blow on the jaw. Two men held him. The other two pressed the glowing ends of cigarets against the soles of the merchant's bare feet. Milgrim groaned, but refused to talk.

Gag Screaming Wife.

In the bedroom his wife screamed for help. A wad of paper was stuffed into her mouth. The other prisoners took up the cry.

"Shut up or we'll chloroform the whole batch of you," the leader warned. He drew a handkerchief from his pocket and crumpled it significantly. The screams ceased.

Then the torturing of Milgrim was resumed. The red tips of the cigarets traced patterns on the flesh of his feet. Finally he called:

"Sally, for God's sake, tell them where the ring is!"

The robbers went into the bedroom and Mrs. Milgrim pointed to the top of the dresser. From the finger of a glove, where it stuck as she undressed after the party, a robber shook out the glittering ring, a marquise diamond flanked by two baguette diamonds set in platinum and valued at $50,000.

The Milgrims, the children, and the two servants were locked in the boys' bedroom. Then the quartet leisurely ransacked the house. From jewel boxes and dresser drawers they took:

Two platinum bracelets, set with diamonds and emeralds, valued at $15,000.

A platinum brooch with fourteen moon shaped diamonds, worth $7,500.

A man's diamond and emerald ring, set in platinum and worth $20,000.

An hour and a quarter after their arrival the robbers clipped the telephone wires and left.

A few minutes later Waller managed to free himself and drove to a police station half a mile away to notify the Nassau county police.

Resembles Previous Crimes.

Inspector Harold King of the county police believes the bandits are the same four who raided the household of J. Edward Meyer in the Kings Point section of Great Neck last Jan. 4 at 9:20 a. m., bound Mrs. Meyer, her daughter, three servants, and drove off with $30,000 in jewels and cash.

Two of the quartet, Inspector King said, appeared to be the pair who made a dinnertime raid on the home of Abraham Levitt at Cedarhurst, N. Y., last Nov. 5, and at gun point took $7,500 in jewels and $1,000 in cash.

The same two, Inspector King believes, interrupted the breakfast of Mrs. Elmer Clark and her aged mother at Hewlett, N. Y., on Oct. 7, bound the two women and took $2,500 in cash and gems.

Mrs. Milgrim designed the gown that Eleanor Roosevelt wore to the inaugural ball.

Milgrim is vice president and treasurer of H. Milgrim & Bros. The firm has branches in Detroit, Cleveland, and Miami Beach. A Milgrim agency formerly was located at 600 South Michigan avenue in Chicago.

WPA Worker Reunited with Sons After 33 Years

Sacramento, Cal., March 27.—Schuyler C. Stilson, 71 years old, a WPA worker, came "home" yesterday to his four sons, whom he had not seen for thirty-three years. He arrived here from Minot, N. D., and was greeted by his sons, Jasper, 41; Benjamin, 44; Lowell, 43, and John Schuyler Stilson, 36. The family reunion resulted from an investigation by the welfare board at Minot when Stilson applied for an old age pension.

FARMERS DREAM OF RICHES IN TVA PHOSPHATE BEDS

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Franklin, Tenn., March 27.—[Special.]—A dream of farmers hereabouts is that beds of phosphate may be discovered beneath their pastures and cornfields and that the TVA may prove the pot of gold at the rainbow's end.

The vision of wealth and of cruises to the Caribbean is inspired by the profits of $527,185 made by the International Agricultural corporation of New York in the sale last August of some 553 phosphate acres to the Tennessee Valley authority. The deal was one of the items mentioned by Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, ousted chairman, in his demand for a congressional investigation of the affairs of TVA.

The phosphate rock in this area was formed as sediment on ancient sea bottoms. The phosphate was derived from the bodies of marine animals.

Agents Make Investigation.

Yesterday crowds around the courthouse gossiped about government agents reported to have made an investigation here. The G-men departed some days later leaving the townsfolk in wonderment and conjecture. Questions raised here, when phosphate is mentioned, are: Who got the profits and who are the stockholders of the corporation? In this town, where everybody seems to know everybody else's business, even those most in the know, declare ignorance of the identity of the shareholders. Negotiations for the sale were made through the executive offices which are in New York.

A search of the records in the registrar's office here today, running down the deeds, indicated the company got title to most of the tracts involved in 1934, after creation of TVA. One of the activities prescribed in the TVA act, passed May 18, 1933, was experimental work leading to the production of more and better fertilizer and fertilizer materials.

Options Held for Years.

The agricultural company, which was incorporated about 1909, has prospected for phosphate deposits in the area and had held options for some years on the tracts sold to TVA.

Search through the records shows that of the 553 acres bought by TVA, some 338 acres of land were purchased outright, while in the case of the remaining 215 acres the phosphate rights only were conveyed. There is a difference of some ten acres in these figures, those of TVA and those actually in the deeds, which is apparently accounted for by small reservations in the instruments.

The books showed that on five parcels of land totaling 218.8 acres phosphate mineral rights were sold to TVA Aug. 7, 1937, for $263,944. For these mineral right the company paid $69,687.

Handsome Profit Revealed.

Using the TVA figure of 215 acres, the company had apparently bought the mineral rights on these lands for an average price of about $325 an acre and had sold to TVA for an average $1,226 an acre.

The registrar's books show that the 338 acres sold outright to TVA cost the company $70,110. They were sold to TVA for $414,615. The conveyances total up to 345.85 acres, but some of that is for right of way.

Thus the 338 acres sold outright to TVA apparently cost the company an average of $208 an acre. They were sold to TVA for an average of $1,226 an acre.

The phosphate tracts sold lie largely between Boyd's Mill pike and the Del Rio pike. They are fine fertile farm lands for the most part. The entire 553 acres, the books indicate, were acquired by the company for about $140,000, and were sold to TVA for $678,459.80, an average of $1,226 an acre.

The land and mineral rights were acquired by the company at varying prices, some as low as $140 an acre; some as high as $680. The deed books show 150.9 acres were sold to the company by Jenny S. Hatcher et al. March 22, 1934, for $21,000. This is an average of about $140 an acre. Parcel B near Boyd's Mill pike, 118.62 acres, was conveyed to the International Agricultural corporation March 21, 1934, by J. H. Truett and wife. The price was $20,000, or $168 an acre.

For a right of way of .44 of an acre the company paid $500. For a 50 foot strip of one acre the company paid $400.

The indenture on the sale of mineral rights on 218 acres to TVA by the company has five tracts. The deeds from original owners to the company have various dates from March, 1934, to March, 1935.

Range Down to $25.

Options are said to have been held on all these for some years by the company. Prices varied. Phosphate rights on 18 acres were conveyed to the company by Willie May Glass Polk et al. for $12,000, an average of $680 an acre. The entire 215 acres, on which mineral rights were sold, cost the company an average of $25 an acre. It cost TVA $1,226 an acre.

The general story around here is that years ago phosphate beds were found by the company on the tracts sold to TVA, but were not of high enough grade at that time. When the flotation process was developed the deposits became commercially valuable. The company, which had been prospecting for years and making laboratory experiments, got options on the tracts, then bought them outright and in less than four years sold to TVA at a profit of more than half a million dollars.

At Columbia, heart of the phosphate area, O. L. Dortch is general manager of the I. A. C. plant. He was one of the incorporators of the company, says he is the only surviving one, and that he has been active on phosphate developments hereabouts for thirty years. He has a stove plant here.

Considers it a Bargain.

In view of the impending congressional inquiry, Manager Dortch said any talking about company affairs would have to be done at the New York office by the executives. He expressed the view that TVA got a bargain and the phosphate beds are worth more than the company got, despite the half million and more profit.

The same opinion is uttered by TVA. Dr. Harry A. Curtis, TVA chief chemical engineer and Neil Bass, administrative assistant to Chairman H. A. Morgan, who has charge of the agricultural phase of TVA, say the deposit is worth all TVA paid for it. As to the half million profit to the company, the expressed TVA stand is that TVA is not interested in the profit but in whether the government is getting its money's worth.

Rogers' Son Weds

James Rogers, 22, youngest son of the late Will Rogers, and his bride, the former Marguerite Kemmler, leaving church in Los Angeles after the ceremony.

Beverly Hills, Cal., March 27.—(AP)—Society turned out last night for the wedding of Jimmy Rogers, 22 year old son of the humorist, Will Rogers, who died in an airplane crash, and Marguerite Astrea Kemmler, 20 years old. The romance began several years ago when Jimmy and Miss Kemmler met at the Riviera Country club. The bride's mother is Mrs. Charles Harold Weldom of Los Angeles; her father is Charles William Kemmler of New York. The Rogerses will make their home on Jimmy's ranch near Lompoc, Cal.

BROTHERS BOAST THEY 'KNOW COPS' AND GO TO JAIL

Town Hall police agreed last night with Edward and Ernst Saubert, brothers, that they had been around, and knew cops.

Edward Saubert, who is 28 years old and lives at 3408 North Oketo avenue, and Ernst, who is 22 and gives his address as 2147 73d court, Elmwood Park, were involved in a minor automobile collision at Buena avenue and Broadway early yesterday.

The incident might have been smoothed over except that when Sergt. Albert Glandt appeared the Saubert brothers remarked, "We've been around; we know cops." Sergt. Glandt thought that auspicious enough to arrest them. Last night the brothers' finger prints revealed that Edward Saubert is now on parole from Pontiac reformatory, where he was sentenced for robbery in 1931, and that Ernst had served a four month term for larceny in the Bridewell last year. They'll be held now for further investigation.

13 Watches Disappear with Two Women Guests

Joseph Richmond, a jewelry salesman, told police yesterday that on Saturday night he invited two women up to his apartment in the La Salle Towers, 1211 North La Salle street, to see his watches. He ordered cocktails, but after drinking one fell asleep. When he awoke the women were gone. So were thirteen watches.

BRIDGES SCORES COVER UP MOVE IN TVA SCANDAL

Roosevelt Is Accused of Moscow Tactics.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—[Special.]—Senator H. Styles Bridges [R., N. H.], leading advocate of a sweeping investigation of the Tennessee Valley authority, charged in a radio speech tonight that the administration is seeking to cover up the TVA scandal with a false counterattack. He said the President adopted the advice of Charles Michelson, the master Democratic propagandist, that the best defense is attack.

"The defense against the charges of Chairman Arthur E. Morgan was not a refutation of his statements," said the senator. "It was an attack upon him. The President ignored the statutory limitation set up in the TVA act for presidential removal of TVA directors. He ignored the fact that his legal method of removal should have been a message to a congress, three-quarters of whom are members of his own party, asking for a concurrent resolution to dismiss Chairman Morgan.

Charges Moscow Tactics.

"The very fact that the President by-passed the legal method lends added color to Chairman Morgan's charges.

"It was dramatic thus to hold a demonstration trial after the Moscow technique. It was bold. It was daring. It was defense by attack. It was Michelsonian strategy."

Senator Bridges said that Morgan aired his charges as early as before Christmas and that the administration for months sought to belittle them. When public clamor became too insistent, he said, a resolution was introduced for an investigation by the federal trade commission.

Fishing Expedition Planned.

"This resolution," he said, "directed the trade commission to go on a fishing expedition into the activities of private industries. Not only would the public attention be diverted, but we would forget all about the charges of fraud, waste, extravagance, and incompetence of the TVA itself.

"In taking this method, the administration was able to force all those who sought an honest probe of the affairs of the TVA into the false position of defending the utilities."

Demanding an honest inquiry, Senator Bridges said that hundreds of millions of dollars have gone into the project and that hundreds of millions more will be spent on it.

Hill Defends Ouster.

Senator Lister Hill [D., Ala.], who debated the issue with Senator Bridges over the Mutual Broadcasting company's network, defended the President's removal of Dr. Morgan and denied the charges leveled at the TVA.

"The power companies fought for years to prevent passage of any law to develop the Tennessee river in the public interest," he said. "When the Tennessee Valley authority act finally was passed in 1933, these companies began a campaign, which still is going on, to discredit the authority."

Senator Hill said that the record of the TVA fails to substantiate charges of illegal expenditures. During the first year of the TVA's operation, he said, only 4½ per cent of the expenditure exceptions noted by the controler general reached disagreement between the controler general and the authority.

NEGRO SOUGHT FOR RAPE.

An unidentified Negro was sought last night for the rape of Mrs. Sadie Rexford, 34 years old, of 714 East 64th street, early yesterday. He seized her in front of her home and dragged her into an alley. Mrs. Rexford was taken to St. Luke's hospital.

HAIL SPRING

By CALEB

CHRISTOPHER MORLEY, who is a friend of our business, wrote about a department store in one of his books.

"Sensitive as a standing pool," he said, "beautifully it mirrors its age and its own peculiar culture. Quick as the mind of the artist it catches a hint, a gleam, a windy ripple of suggestion; then the whole surface sparkles with glamour, seems to move and flow. . . . A store with imagination puts on, every day, a new and astonishing performance, collaborated between itself and the public."

Right now, with Easter several weeks ahead, with fresh green leaves on shrubs, with perennials pushing their firm smooth shoots up into the sunlight, with human beings as well as the verdant children of nature responding to the season of life's renewal, there is a sharp pervasive truth to Morley's words.

This week — today — now — our store wears a new atmosphere buoyantly and proudly. It is an atmosphere as old as civilization—for it is the atmosphere of springtime, and as new as tomorrow—for this is the genesis of a particular spring the world has never known before.

And there is something refreshing about it all. Our own people feel it. We can observe it in our customers, in the pleased wonder with which they scrutinize our aisle displays and windows, our abundance of new merchandise, and the "best bib and tucker" of our various sections, all of them interpreting spring in their own ways.

Chris Morley might have pursued his thought a bit further. He might have added:

"Which plays the more important part in this collaboration between store and public, only a most discerning observer could tell. For the store reacts to the public and the public reacts to the store. The department store picks its cue from some remote place in the world—or from an original expression of the inspiration of a smart individual anywhere. The result is like prairie fire sweeping through an August field. The public, catching the cue, consumes it."

It is an interesting phenomenon—this intimate, quick interplay and exchange of reactions between a great store and its own sector of the public. We are eternally conscious of the debt we owe the people we serve, for their appreciation keeps us constantly on the qui vive.

'37 REAL ESTATE TAX BILLS IN CITY TO BE CUT BY 8%

First Reduction from Year Before Since 1933.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

Chicago real estate tax bills for 1937 will average approximately 8 per cent less than those of 1936, according to a preliminary analysis completed yesterday. It will be the first time since 1933 taxes that the bills have been smaller than in the preceding year.

The study disclosed an indicated 1937 tax rate for Chicago of $8.70 per $100 of assessed valuation compared with the 1936 rate of $9.52. The final rate may vary slightly from the $8.70 figure, depending on late revisions and allocations of railroad and capital stock assessed valuations within the county.

Expected in Mails by May 1.

County Clerk Michael J. Flynn's staff is now working out official valuations and rates from which the 1937 tax bills will be computed. The bills are scheduled to go into the mails by May 1.

The decrease in 1937 bills will result from two circumstances, both favoring the real estate taxpayer. First, the total assessed valuation of taxable property is approximately 6 per cent larger than in 1936, furnishing a broader base on which to extend taxes. Second, the total tax bill of the six governments levying in Chicago is nearly 6 million dollars less than for 1936.

2 Billion Assessed Valuation.

The total assessed valuation for the city is tentatively placed at $2,075,300,000, compared with $1,956,928,663 for 1936. The increase is more than accounted for by a $136,600,000 increase in personal property assessments added to the rolls by Assessor John S. Clark. Real estate and railroad valuations were smaller than a year earlier.

The levies for the six governments in Chicago are estimated at approximately $180,500,000, compared with $186,300,000 for 1936.

The six governments passed 1937 levies totaling $189,974,759, but subsequently abated $2,654,060 because of reductions in bond charges. This made net original levies of $187,320,699. However, the levies for some funds are in excess of what the legal maximum rates for these funds will produce and further reductions are made.

Cut by Legal Maximum.

For example, the city passed a levy of $3,252,618 for police pensions, but the 13 cent legal maximum rate for this purpose will produce only about $2,697,000.

The estimated total tax extension within the city based on revised 1937 levies for the Chicago governments compare with those for 1936 as follows:

	1937 estimated.	1936 actual.	Change.
Schools	62,881,000	66,144,189	— 3,263,189
Park dist.	18,005,000	20,547,751	— 2,542,751
Sanitary dist.	13,282,000	13,307,115	— 25,115
County	11,622,000	12,328,651	— 706,651
Forest pres.	2,075,000	1,761,236	+ 313,764
Tot.	$180,500,000	$186,299,609	—$5,799,609

	1937 estimated.	1936 actual.
City	$3.50	$3.69
Schools	3.03	3.38
Park district	.87	1.05
Sanitary district	.64	.68
County	.56	.63
Forest preserve	.10	.09
Total	$8.70	$9.52

The city, school board and park districts rates are based on the estimated $2,075,300,000 assessed valuation for the city. The county and forest preserve rates are against an estimated valuation of $2,520,800,000 for the county. The county, it is estimated, will extend an additional $2,495,000 taxes outside the city and the forest preserve an extra $445,000.

The sanitary district levies in all the city and part of the remainder of the county. The 1937 preliminary rate is on an estimated assessed valuation of $2,455,000,000 to produce a total tax of approximately $15,712,000.

Hearing on objections against more than $5,000,000 in tax levies in the city's 1938 budget will be started today before County Judge Jarecki.

MISSING STORE EMPLOYE FOUND IN NEW ORLEANS

Dougald P. Thompson, a credit department employé of Marshall Field & Co., who has been missing from his home at 8024 Ingleside avenue for a week, was reported recovering last night in New Orleans, La., where he was taken from a train Saturday, apparently suffering from amnesia.

Dougald P. Thompson.

H. C. Thompson, a brother, who is personnel manager for Butler Brothers, talked last night with Dougald, who told him: "Things are just beginning to come back to me now." His first inquiry was as to the welfare of his wife.

X-rays were taken at the hospital to determine if there were any internal or skull injuries which might have caused the loss of memory, H. C. Thompson said.

3 DIE IN CHAIR IN PENSYLVANIA FOR MURDER OF 4

Bellefonte, Pa., March 28 [Monday].—(AP)—Three men—a farmhand and two underworld figures—died early today in Rockview prison's electric chair for the slaying of four persons.

They were Ralph Hawk, 21 year old farmer and "torch slayer"; Fred Reibaldi, 27, and Albert Gregg, 32, both of Philadelphia. Hawk went to the chair first, quickly followed by Reibaldi and Gregg.

Hawk burned a bungalow at Marion on New Year's day, 1937, in which Mrs. Hazel Gelwix and her daughter, Helen, 15 years old, died. He had sought to escape marrying Kathryn Gelwix, an expectant mother, who escaped death in the fire. She was a sister of Helen Gelwix.

Reibaldi, a paroled convict, killed Maurice Handloff, Philadelphia policeman, who surprised him robbing a motorist.

A former Milwaukeean, Gregg shot and killed C. Morgan Knight, a bond broker, in a Philadelphia department store holdup. Gregg was paroled from the Joliet [Ill.] penitentiary in 1934. He admitted department store robberies in Chicago, Seattle, Wash., and Los Angeles.

ESTRANGED WIFE TO AID STATE IN OLD KILLING CASE

The principal witnesses against Soccorso D'Andrea when he goes on trial today for the murder fourteen years ago of his brother-in-law, Vincenzo Alleruzo, will be his estranged wife, Mrs. Maria D'Andrea, who turned him over to police.

D'Andrea, according to Assistant State's Attorney Leslie Curtis, has confessed he shot and killed Alleruzo because of his brother-in-law's treatment of his wife, who was D'Andrea's sister. At the time of the shooting D'Andrea was suspected, but was released when his sister took the blame.

D'Andrea was arrested last December in Milwaukee when his wife, after a quarrel, told police he was the killer. Although Mrs. D'Andrea cannot testify to the actual killing, Curtis said, she will be asked to tell of the ownership of the gun she has turned over to police and which she declares was used by her husband.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL MISSING.

Miss Dorothy E. Hill, 18 years old, 5140 Woodlawn avenue, a student at Hyde Park High school, was reported missing to Hyde Park police last night by her father, Arthur Hill, who said she packed her suitcase and left home without explanation.

CHICAGOAN DIES; HITCH-HIKER, 20, ADMITS SHOOTING

Burlington, Ia., March 27.—[Special.]—Robert Lyon Slosson, 51 years old, of 810 Eastwood avenue, Chicago, died today in Mercy hospital here of bullet wounds inflicted Friday by a hitch-hiker.

John C. Cook, 20 years old, of Butler, N. J., arrested last night in a tourist rooming house in West Burlington, is said to have confessed the shooting. County Attorney Raymond Wright announced that a charge of murder will be placed against Cook tomorrow.

In his confession Cook said Slosson stopped and gave him a ride near Fairfield, Ia., and he shot the motorist as he turned on a cut off road into Burlington after robbing him of $40.

Cook said he mailed the gun to his mother at Hightstown, N. J., and postal inspectors were asked to be on the watch for it. Slosson, a world war veteran, was a salesman for U.S. Fidelity and Guaranty company. He was a bachelor.

SPRING ABANDONS COY ROLE; BARES ALL HER CHARMS

Fields and Ponds Unite in Strident Song.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

A foam of pale green in tree tops, a strident green underfoot where bluegrass grows, and a fully awakened clamor from sloughs and boughs to quicken the pulse, yesterday informed city visitors to forest preserves that spring is through with the rôle of coyness. She is revealing her charms, and even the most unaware city dweller who walked along forest preserve trails could not escape them.

The week since spring's official debut mingled low temperatures and rain with sunshine and warmth, all of which hurt nothing and did much good, according to Joe Reichert, superintendent of division No. 5 of the forest preserves. Here in the Palos Park region full blossoming threatened to come too early, with dangers of frost to come.

Cool Spell Halts Budding.

The approaching burst of snowy hawthorn, the breathless perfection of flowering crabapple, and the pink, white, and purple of hepatica, now is safely halted.

With Dr. J. A. Steyermark, botanist of the Field museum, and Reichert, miles of forest trails were covered, and heavily budding, but not unfolding, wild flowers were found—anemone, spring beauties, and hepatica. "They were more open Tuesday," said Reichert. "When cool weather came they actually closed up."

Fat green leaves, with flower buds inside visible, have burst their sheaths on hawthorn trees and bushes. Blackberries flaunted little leaves, wild honeysuckle was even more fully leaved out, and the gooseberry was vivid in its greenness.

Elms at Peak of Blooming.

Groves of American elm flung high their light blossoms, now at peak of blooming; weeping willows were trunks topped with a mist of joyous yellow and red maples, among the loveliest trees of spring, spread redly against the sky, budding out fully.

The air was loud with the ringing chorus of swamp tree frogs, congregated in every little slough or pond, chanting the virtues of the season. In several ponds Dr. Steyermark found clusters of frogs' eggs, evidence that their song will soon be ended, as it does not extend beyond the laying season.

Here also were the minute fish life which appear only in spring—cyclops, so named for their one eye, daphne and the delicate fairy shrimp, the latter swimming on their backs according to their custom. A boy was found digging crawfish, for fish are biting, and "crabs" make bait. Along the Sag canal a few fishermen were seen.

Just in case some stubborn visitor was left unmoved by the assault of the frog's spring song upon his senses, that of meadowlarks had increased in volume. From every side came the piercing sweetness of their calls, mingled with the more occasional ones of other birds.

Fort Knox, Ky., March 27.—[Special.]—Demonstrations of the U. S. army's advance in the use of mechanized fighting equipment will be given this week by Maj. Gen. John K. Herr, who yesterday became chief of cavalry. On the proving ground here Gen. Herr will observe maneuvers of the 7th Cavalry brigade, the only army unit thus far equipped with high speed combat cars.

Use of the combat car by the 1st and 13th cavalry regiments, which with headquarters company and the trains make up the brigade, gives the unit a striking power never before attained by a combat unit. Equipped with two-way radio and armed with both light and heavy caliber machine guns, the new model combat cars travel with ease on highways or across country at speeds up to 60 miles an hour.

As a defense against hostile aircraft the cars are particularly effective. Great speed and maneuverability permit gunners in protected turrants to keep machine guns trained on targets at high angles. These guns always are ready to fire on a few seconds notice.

Two New Planes Tested for Soviet Russia's Use

Farmingdale, N. Y., March 27.—[Special.]—Tests were successfully completed here today of the two new war planes built at the Seversky aircraft plant for soviet Russia. One of the planes carries seven machine guns and 600 pounds of bombs. The other, an amphibian fighter, is equipped to take off on land, snow, ice, or water. Its pontoons can be removed, turning it into a pursuit plane capable of about 300 miles an hour speed. It has a cruising range of nearly 6,000 miles.

JEAN BARABASZ.

Four suspects were held by the Brighton Park police yesterday while a search was being made for the lovers' lane bandits who shot and killed Park Policeman Martin Wolski in a revolver fight in McKinley park near 37th street and Damen avenue Saturday night.

Three youths were seized at their homes early yesterday. They are Victor Labuchas, 19 years old, 4605 South Paulina street; Walter Tarnowski, 17, of 1739 East 43d street, and John Meswich, 19, of 4451 South Marshfield avenue.

Labuchas confessed he had robbed two couples in the park at that place during the last three weeks and implicated Bruno Muzydlo, 17, of 4338 South Hermitage avenue, in the robberies. He denied, however, taking part in the shooting. Muzydlo denied the shooting and also being present with Labuchas in the robberies.

Miss Jean Barabasz, 20 years old, 5114 South Sawyer avenue, who was with Joseph Rusilowicz, 2630 Montgomery street, when he was robbed of $5 and his automobile in the park on March 17, identified Labuchas at the station yesterday.

Purse Snatchers on 'Gold Coast' Seized by Police

Lincoln Park police captured two purse snatchers near the Drake hotel early today after firing two shots that echoed through the gold coast. The prisoners are John Kestler, 25 years old, of Ettrick, Wis., and James Stratton, 21, of Cleveland, O. They stole the purse of Signe Eng, a housekeeper for a family at 219 Lake Shore drive, in front of 181 Lake Shore drive. Her screams attracted Policemen George Swane and John Gira. Swane caught Stratton, and Gira, after firing two shots, seized Kestler. They confessed.

6 RAIL CROSSINGS CALLED WORST IN CHICAGO AREA

Grade Separations Urged to Reduce Death Toll.

BY HAL FOUST.

The Chicago Motor club yesterday named six railroad grade crossings as the most dangerous in the metropolitan area. Three of the six have gates and watchmen.

"The gates are of undoubted value," said Charles M. Hayes, president of the motor club, "but are not a certain protection against death. Grade separations must be built as rapidly as money is available. Until this is done lives can be saved if authorities will give attention to details. At some places visibility is poor or lighting is bad. But at others trafic is so heavy that accidents cannot be eliminated without grade separation."

Six Crossings Listed.

The six crossings considered the most deadly are 107th street near Stewart avenue, at the Chicago and Eastern Illinois tracks; 95th street [C. & E. I.] near Harvard avenue], 130th street [Michigan Central] west of Stony Island avenue, Michigan City road [Pennsylvania] east of Torrence avenue, Ridgeland avenue [Oak Park] crossing of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin and the Chicago Great Western, and the Pine street [Winnetka] crossing of the Chicago and North Western and the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee electric tracks.

On 107th street there have been three fatalities in the last two years. Motor club engineers favor installation of gates there to supplement the present flashing lights and warning bells. On 95th street there are gates and a watchman. But overhead lamps at the intersection blind motorists. Two persons were killed there in 1936 when their car smashed through the gates at 1:20 a. m.

Old Sign in Use.

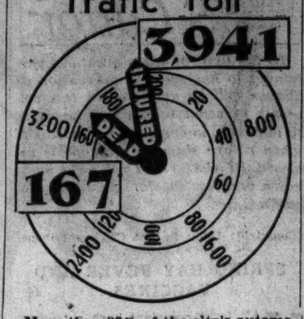
On 130th street, the Michigan Central crossing has an old-fashioned cross buck instead of a modern reflectorized warning sign. Two were killed there in 1937. A grade separation for this location is on the Cook county highway department's program for 1940.

On Michigan City road, where six persons were killed in a single crash two years ago, there are flashing signals but the visibility of approaching trains is limited by an embankment covered with weeds in summer. Illinois commerce commission tests have found that only a minority of drivers stop for the flashing red lights although statutes prescribe a stop.

The Ridgeland avenue crossing in Oak Park has watchmen, gates, lights and a warning bell, but illumination is inadequate. Two persons were killed there in 1936.

The Pine street crossing in Winnetka, where two were killed last year, also has watchmen and gates. The motor club is supporting a move to elevate the railroad tracks through the lake shore towns north of Evanston. According to the club, there have been an average of two deaths a year for the last eighteen years on North Western's grade crossings in these suburbs.

THE MASSACRE Chicago's 1938 Trafic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

BODY OF TRUCK LEAVES CHASSIS; BOY, 15, INJURED

A freak accident on a picnic outing yesterday resulted in an injury to Victor Licgo, 15 years old, 1005 South Morgan street, that may necessitate the amputation of his left foot.

With a dozen other boys he was riding on a truck when, at Archer avenue and Mannheim road, the truck body became detached from the chassis. The other boys and the driver, Ysmael Luna, 28, of 1039 South Racine avenue, jumped to safety, but Victor was caught under the falling body, and his foot was crushed.

Willow Springs county highway police took him to the Berwyn hospital, and later to the county hospital. Police said the accident occurred when bolts holding the truck body were sheared off.

GARY MAN KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE; DRIVER ACCUSED

Anton Svelnis, 65 years old, 1520 Arthur place, Gary, was killed last night by an automobile at 15th avenue and Garfield street, Gary. Henry Derring, 45 years old, 1168 Durbin street, Gary, the driver, was charged with involuntary manslaughter, an automatic procedure in auto fatalities in Gary.

An unidentified man, about 37 years old, was killed last night when he was struck by an automobile at Western avenue and 140th street, Dixmoor. Otto Kruschinski, 49 years old, 17945 Homewood avenue, Homewood, the driver, told police that the man ran in front of his car.

Edward Skwiat, 10 years old, 1227 Marion court, suffered a skull fracture yesterday when he was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile near his home. He is in St. Mary's hospital. The automobile driver was Bruno Strzalka, 19, of 1721 Ellen street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 207 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 167 were killed in Chicago where 3,941 were injured in the same period.

TO THE AMERICAN BAR: WAKE UP.

Frank Gannett, the newspaper publisher, is chairman of the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government, which opposed the Supreme court packing bill and now opposes the governmental reorganization bill for reasons identical for both, each being an approach to autocratic power.

Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana is chairman of the senate lobby committee, succeeding Hugo Black, formerly of the Alabama Ku Klux Klan. Senator Minton, endeavoring to be as tough as his predecessor and as indifferent to constitutional rights, sent two investigators to the New York offices of the Gannett committee March 17 with a dragnet subpena demanding the production of all records in Washington at 10 o'clock the following morning. All the private papers were to be in room 160 Senate Office building, Washington, D. C., at that hour—or else.

Mr. Gannett and his attorney, Elisha Hanson, refused to comply. Both have stated their reasons to the country. They are protected by the fourth amendment in the bill of rights against unreasonable searches and seizures.

"The committee is proud of its record and its achievements," Mr. Gannett told the country in a radio talk a few days after Senator Minton had undertaken to become the head of the American secret police. "It has nothing to hide. If our rights can be violated today, then your rights in your home, on your farm, in your shop, store, or factory may be invaded tomorrow. Twice before the Black [now Minton] committee has been convicted by the federal courts of violating the liberties of American citizens in the seizure of their private papers. We believe the senate should refer the record of the Black committee to an impartial United States attorney to prosecute under the criminal code of the United States for conspiracy to violate the constitutional rights of American citizens."

Mr. Gannett's committee has been engaged in the work of opposition to a bill so saturated with the intent and practice of autocracy that it could not possibly be passed without the pressure exerted by a White House lobby, threatening the withdrawal of patronage and promising the extension of subsidies to get votes. It is the same lobby which tried to put over the court packing bill and failed. It failed then because the scheme was too apparent to the public, too well outlined and easily understood. Its opponents had public support. The reorganization bill is more dangerous because its meaning has eluded the public understanding and its opponents fight the administration without the necessary backing from the country.

The senate lobby committee has paid no attention to the lobby work to put the bill over but, with the terrorist methods of secret police, has tried to silence a group of citizens headed by a newspaper publisher. He and his attorney have the courage to defend themselves and their rights and they ask the country to understand what they are doing and what the national stake in it is. It is noteworthy that the fight for constitutional liberty is being conducted almost exclusively by newspaper men. Once that was the historical duty of the Bar, which in America's present struggle for the retention of constitutional rights and privileges has been inert, lackadaisical, voiceless, and ineffective.

Gilbert H. Montague of the New York Bar in a lecture before the school of law at the University of Michigan several years ago when the fight was beginning, challenged this attitude in the presence of the entire Supreme court of Michigan and many of the state's lawyers.

"In previous struggles for human freedom and constitutional government," he said, "the Bar has taken the lead. But in the present crisis, due to economic conditions and to coercion, it has stood aside and the battle for freedom is being won by newspaper editors and newspaper publishers."

There have been lawyers as individuals who have spoken their minds, but the legal profession, organized as it is all over the country in Bar associations, has avoided the issue. The legal profession has appeared formidable only on the other side. It has produced such men as Cohen and Corcoran to write weazel bills which become statutes, and it has contributed polecat speakers like Ickes, Jackson, and Minton to attack, subvert, and violate the essential principles which the constitution, if upheld and not destroyed, will guard.

Newspapers recognize that they have a duty, and it also is historical. It goes back to the establishment of the printing press and it enrolls John Milton as one of its earliest champions. It has a duty which found Peter Zenger of New York responding in colonial days against the suppression undertaken by a dictatorial governor. Then the legal profession thought itself likewise in duty bound to support constitutional rights and Zenger had the aid of the Bar and the invaluable services of a most distinguished lawyer, Andrew Hamilton.

The indifference of the American Bar sometimes is reflected in the subservience of judges. They will hold in some cases with autocracy and against fundamental provisions.

The American Bar has become indifferent to its own best traditions. It isn't ignorant. Its members should be the first to perceive where constitutional rights are threatened or violated. It should be the first in the line of defense. The apathy is a strange one and the Bar should shake itself out of its lethargy and assume the rôle of defense which properly is its own. The Bar and the newspapers together can protect American liberties, but the silence of the legal profession gives encouragement to the autocrats.

THE RUSSIAN INVITATION DECLINED.

The United States and Great Britain have declined the invitation of Max Litvinov, soviet Russia's foreign minister, to sit in a conference of nations, Germany, Italy, and Japan excluded, to discuss peace measures.

Soviet Russia, between outbursts of internal terrorism, would like to be recognized as one of the great democratic powers. It assumes that rôle, ignoring for the time being the unbridgeable distinction it makes between itself and the democracies.

The United States is what the bolshevists call a bourgeois republic. As such it is a more durable and formidable enemy of communism than is fascism. Fascism is an epidemic in the countries it has taken. It is a plague which may be expected to reach a crest and subside. For the moment it is a great danger to communism in spite of similarities and degrees of kinship. In both Italy and Germany fascism may painfully serve a purpose, although what residue of good it will leave we don't know.

Fascism to endure as a form of government must perpetuate a slavish docility seemingly beyond the endurance of masses of people who once knew something of personal freedom and independent thought. Historical realities deny long tenure to such a system. If soviet Russia avoids a great war it may outlive its fascist enemies. We don't know what form its government and economy will take, but so long as it has even in theory a communist formula its enduring enemies will be the democracies.

Although Stalin is supposed to be addicted to the theory that socialism can be maintained in one country with capitalism prevailing elsewhere, he says that the ultimate objective is world revolution with the overthrow of bourgeois democracies by the dictatorship of the proletariat. When soviet Russia proposes to join the democracies as one of them it offers the truce of the bear.

The military necessities of France have put it in alliance with Russia. If together they won a continental war against Germany and Italy it would be a triumph of the Reds. The dictatorship of the proletariat would sweep over Europe and democracy would be dead in France.

THE SHIPBUILDING BOOM.

The house of representatives is learning, through debate, what it might have discovered from the columns of THE TRIBUNE a year ago—that no ambitious plan for a larger navy or the immediate rejuvenation of the merchant marine is possible because of the lack of shipyards. There were only three bidders for the construction of the Manhattan-type ship authorized by the maritime commission three months ago. Only a half dozen firms submitted tenders on the much smaller C-2 ships, the contract for the building of which was awarded on March 2. The United States has not been seriously considered as a "maritime" nation since civil war days, so that it is not surprising that so few yards are available, to say nothing of competent craftsmen. Only a fraction of the tonnage discussed by Mr. Kennedy as being sorely needed has been ordered, and yet the United States shipbuilding industry is booming at the present time.

But the Great Lakes yards are exceptions. At the congressional discussions no mention is made of that section of the industry that supplies our inland seas with the most efficient carriers in the world. It is true, of course, that because of the limitations of the St. Lawrence canals, our yards cannot bid on Manhattan, C-2's, or battleships, but these vessels form only the spectacular part of the building program. There is no reason why inland yards should be ignored in plans for destroyers, auxiliary cruisers, gunboats, and coast guard cutters. The treaty with Canada might prevent the mounting of guns on such vessels, but the emplacements can be completed and the batteries added at an Atlantic coast navyyard. It is also true that many vessels in these categories could be built in Great Lakes yards and reach the sea via the Illinois-Mississippi waterway.

The canal at Sault Ste. Marie is the busiest in the world, outdistancing in the matter of transited tonnage both the Panama and the Suez. The channels of Lakes Superior, Michigan, Huron, and Erie form the busiest long distance highways of water carriage in the world. Great Lakes shipyards built hundreds of vessels for the great war overseas emergency fleet, but these facts are always forgotten in congressional discussions of shipping matters. For some occult reasons naval construction is the particular plum of the seaboard states—except in a crisis.

Editorial of the Day

IDEALISM INTO JOBHOLDER.

[Baltimore Evening Sun.]

One of the lesser masterpieces of Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, father of the TVA, is the one chamber legislature of his home state. He whooped it up for many years, and on Nov. 6, 1934, the voters of the state finally approved. The first session of the new legislature was held last year.

It has forty-three members and they are elected on a nonpartisan plan, with no party designations on the ballot. The idea was that the voters would pass over the low political hacks who pack the ordinary two chamber legislature and elect decent men. But the same old politicians got themselves elected and they have been carrying on in the traditional manner.

A disillusioned Norrisista named Clarence Reckmeyer of Fremont, Neb., thus describes their performance in the New Republic:

> I voted for the unicameral legislature and was enthusiastic in support of it, but I cannot say that it is much of an improvement. . . . It has passed more laws—many of them objectionable—than any previous legislature, and made the biggest appropriations ever made. According to the Omaha World-Herald, 370 new jobs were created at an expense of about $35,000 a month to the taxpayers. Many of those jobs were on the state highway patrol, which was established by the unicameral after it had been voted down in a state-wide referendum four years ago.

It seems to be generally agreed that Senator Norris is a perfectly honest man. He has served his country faithfully, according to his peculiar lights. But such benign mushheads are extremely costly to the taxpayer. Whenever one of their gaudy dreams of Utopia is realized it turns out that there is another big gang of jobholders at the public trough.

FLYING GRANDMOTHERS are old stuff, but a flying great-grandmother was in town the other day. She is Mrs. Tia Bates, who is departing shortly for Arequipa, Peru, by plane, accompanied by her great-granddaughter. Mrs. Bates, a trim, gray haired woman, is known to most visitors to South America because of her famous pension at Arequipa. Harriet Monroe, distinguished Chicagoan and patron saint of American poets, was staying with Mrs. Bates at Arequipa when she died a year or so ago. William S. Monroe, Miss Monroe's brother, went to see Mrs. Bates at the Palmer house before he left for Los Angeles, thence to Peru.

Not the girls with jumping ropes
Prove that it is Spring;

Not the crocus pushing
Through the forest mold,
Not the robin's joyous call,

But the organ grinder
Limping mile on mile,
In his heart hope welling up
As his tired eyes smile.

Not the girls with jumping ropes,
Nor boys who make a ring . . .
But an old man with tired eyes
That smile . . . proves it is Spring!

THE SIGHT OF CARL D. BUCK, 72, dean of American philologists, finishing a tennis game at the University of Chicago, then going to his office, probably to work on his dictionary of selected synonyms, started a train of thought. Life may begin at 40, but a man's important life work may begin after the age of retirement. The University of Chicago retires its professors at 65, yet literally dozens of them are busy at some of the most important work of their lives after retirement. Professor Emeritus Buck's "Dictionary of Ideas," upon which he is now at work, is a case in point.

JOHN M. MANLEY, 73, chairman of the English department since 1898, will bring out this year the definitive edition of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales upon which he has been working some fifteen years. Retired for years, he spends much of his time in his office in Wieboldt hall, which boasts a Chaucer room with 84 manuscripts, some photostatic, some original. Mr. Manley spends six months of every year in London, much of the time engaged in research work in the public recorder's office. Professor Emeritus Edith Rickert is working with him on the Chaucer book, four volumes of which will be published at one crack.

IT WAS TWO YEARS AGO that Andrew C. McLaughlin's "A Constitutional History of the United States" was published, but it was written after his retirement. He now is 77, and at work on new projects. Ira Maurice Price, orientalist and Old Testament scholar, 82, author of many books, goes to his office on the campus every day. Robert Moras Lovett, brilliant editor, teacher, and author, is several years past retirement age, although he looks ten years younger, and is busy on many projects close to his heart.

SPRING HAY FEVER AND VACCINES.

HAY fever occasions such a tremendous amount of distress and is so destructive of efficiency that its annual cost is incalculable. There are between twelve and fifteen million sufferers in the United States and some day we will become aroused to its prevalence sufficiently to insist upon the eradication of certain plants—ragweeds especially—which are responsible for approximately 50 per cent of all cases.

In April the season will be upon us. Pollens from grasses and from the blossoms of oak, elm, birch, hickory, ash, and poplar trees will affect many. Spring winds will aid the dissemination of these tiny protein particles and sneezing will begin.

Try as we may, we cannot keep dust out of the home. It will invade every nook and cranny unless we build airtight houses. This requires that potential patients should use all means available for the acquisition of immunity.

If one knows that he is allergic or if the malady was encountered last year, the time to secure assistance is now. Some are not bothered by grasses, but those who are should endeavor to obtain help through vaccines. Physicians have found that solutions of the offending substances can be injected under the skin with the result that the individual frequently is rendered nonsensitive.

Many kinds of pollen may be combined in a single vaccine, and thus freedom from several sources of annoyance may be secured. This is the usual method, inasmuch as the majority of those with hay fever respond to more than one irritant. In fact, some are in such delicate balance that beginning with spring they will react to the fertilizing elements of grasses and trees, later to ragweed, and still later to the emanations from fall flowers.

Of course, for the all-year round victim pollens can be ruled out as the single inciting factor. The origin must be traced to a food allergy, to dust within the house, dandruff from animals, or vegetable components, some of which form the chief ingredients of face or toilet powders. Among these may be mentioned orris root, rice, cornmeal, wheat flour, and dust from hay or straw. Foods include almost everything on the menu and drugs make up a long list.

How can we determine the cause exactly? By means of scratch or patch tests, or the injection of a small quantity of the suspected material between the layers of the skin. If one particular substance is guilty a reddish swelling, much like a mosquito bite, will appear at the site of inoculation. This may occur within a few minutes, although several hours should elapse before the reading is declared positive or negative. A dozen or more scratches may be made on each forearm.

When foods are at fault the procedure is rather simple, namely, the harmful article may be omitted from the diet, and many instances have been reported in which keeping a food diary and watching for symptoms served to detect the culprit.

But the typical hay fever patient is the one who is free most of the year until the air becomes filled with pollen. We often make the mistake of assuming that plants with gaudy blossoms are dangerous. This is rarely so, as the inconspicuous blooms—those which produce huge quantities of fertilizing granules—are more menacing. A visit to the physician now as a safeguard against spring outlaws is advisable, as resistance must be developed before the proteins have had a chance to play their mischievous rôle.

Unfortunately these seasonal injections are not permanent. On the contrary, the course of treatment must be continued year after year, although many will finally wear out the disorder and become increasingly less susceptible.

Let us resolve to abate the ragweed menace, so that later in the year comparative comfort may come to our hay fever army.

EYES AND EARS AT BIRTH.

Mrs. B. J. E. writes:

1. Is it true that a baby cannot see for a number of days after it is born?
2. Does a doctor have to shape a baby's head at time of birth?

REPLY.

1. Neither eyes nor ears are completely developed in a newborn baby. The infant gradually learns to distinguish dark and light, and after a few weeks can recognize objects.
2. No, but he can aid in preserving the normal contour of the skull by skillful handling during delivery.

CLEANING FRESH FRUITS.

R. A. L. writes: I have read recently that it is dangerous to use raw fruits and vegetables because they are sprayed with arsenic to prevent spoilage by insects. Can the residue of these poisons be washed off with water?

REPLY.

Thorough washing or peeling of fruits and vegetables is desirable.

CITIZENS BY BIRTH.

Chicago, March 18.—[Friend of the People.]—If a man comes to the United States in 1920 and marries and has children born here, and the father does not become a citizen until the children become 15 years old, do the children have to take out citizenship papers? G. B.

No, the children are citizens by birth. All persons born in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States under the fourteenth amendment to the constitution.

CITIZENSHIP STATUS.

Chicago, March 18.—[Friend of the People.]—My parents were born here and went to Canada in 1903 to homestead. I was born there in 1907. We came back here in 1919. Am I an American citizen? F. A. W.

If the parents became Canadian citizens before the inquirer was born there the inquirer is not an American citizen.

FLESH AND BLOOD.

Fond du Lac, Wis., March 25.—In today's Tribune Mr. A. J. Gibbons says your advocacy of getting out of the Philippines exasperates him. He also says we should join England or Russia and send our navy to put Japan in its place.

Just what does he mean by our navy? Will he join to go? Will his son join to do this thing? Or does he plan to do it with my son, and the sons of his friends and neighbors?

It is high time the fathers and mothers of the boys who will be used in the next war spoke. We must protest vigorously against these thoughtless people who would so easily, so cheerfully, send our young men, the sons whom we love beyond any earthly thing, to suffer again in the bloody, futile, frightful wars of Europe.

It is not only ships and planes we will send into the next war. It is our very flesh and blood. Children whom we have struggled to educate, boys who are just at the beginning of life. We take them in their prime, maim and kill them, and send them back, if they are fortunate enough to escape death, aged and broken by this war.

I think THE TRIBUNE is doing a fine thing, trying with its news items and editorials to keep us sane.

MRS. FRANK M. YORDY.

SO WHAT?

Chicago, March 25.—Richard Weil complains because Bill Holman's octopus has ten tentacles. So what? Bill has people's ears flying off, and has the firemen taking hydrant, hose, and all to fires, and has holes in the desk for the chief to put his feet through, and holes in the helmet for the ax handles to go through and cats carrying signs, and the driver's feet on the ground, under the car, as he travels, and lots of other odd things. That's what makes Bill Holman and his stuff worth while.

SPUD OF BLUE ISLAND.

LOWLY BEGINNINGS.

Chicago, March 16.—I laugh to think how you contradict your American code of ethics when you contemptuously call Hitler a "house painter." If a man rises to prominence from a humble beginning is he not all the more to be admired? Where is all that American respect for honest labor, however humble?

T. CHESLEY.

THREE PUNS.

Chicago, March 23.—There may be some who do not rate Franklin D. Roosevelt very highly as a statesman, but none will dispute that as a laundryman he would be a huge success. In addition to soaking the rich and putting the small business man through the wringer, he keeps the rest of us constantly in hot water.

MAURICE LAZARE.

WHEN CHICAGO WAS YOUNG.

Chicago, March 23.—It was with great pleasure that I read the letter of Mrs. Herma Clark in "When Chicago Was Young" in last Sunday's TRIBUNE. From the many calls that I have had from my old time friends I am sure the column must be widely read.

WILLIAM A. BOND.

YOUR EVIDENCE SUGGESTS A GOOD COLLEGE.

Chicago, March 23.—When I enrolled at Wilson Jr. college through necessity and not choice, I anticipated, incurable optimist that I was, a chance to prepare for senior college and life in general by means of opportunities for self-expression and development of any inherent potentialities by means of participation in school projects and functions and student government, as well as academics. Instead I find that we are subjected to regimentation and restriction not to be found in even elementary schools.

Any group projects such as entertainment programs or selling refreshments at school functions to enlarge the school fund are picked apart and either discouraged or forbidden. To give specific examples of these asinine restrictions: Conversation by small groups of students in corridors is forbidden; we are cautioned to have not too much "swing" music in our school dances, and, this takes the prize for imbecility, a student was reported to the dean and reprimanded for, of all things, bouncing a rubber ball in the corridor. This in college and in the 20th century!

Upon these facts I rest my case and leave you to draw your own conclusions about our progressive junior college system.

MORTON ROBBINS.

FOR SHORTER LETTERS.

Chicago, March 25.—At the top of the Voice of the People column is printed the following: "Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words." Today's column as well as on other days finds the ramblings of some one to the extent of 500 and more words. Most of these long winded expressionists never say anything anyway. Let's have a greater number of varied subjects. I speak the voice of many who have discussed this situation with me. If Mr. Eckhoff and others must talk to unlimited lengths on "Virgin Prairie," etc., let them print their own newspaper.

M. D. S.

ADVICE.

Chicago, March 25.—I think if the P.-T. A. would watch the youths and not the double features there would be less crime. They said it makes them nervous and their eyes hurt to see a triple movie. But it makes me nervous and my eyes hurt to read about all the crime that's happening now.

EARL CASTILE.

IDEA.

Chicago, March 23.—How about dealing with our politicians, city, state and national, as we deal with drunken drivers and take their license away?

W. W. HOFFMEISTER.

UNCLE SAM'S TENANTRY.

Chicago, March 25.—In order to obtain a flat in the federal housing project must one ncessarily lie? I make $26 a week, have a wife and child, and help support an aged widowed mother who circulates from one married child to another. I was turned down because I am making too much money for a 3 room apartment and to qualify for a 4 room I'll have to buy two more babies.

Where we are staying there are eleven people, three families living together in a cottage. I was asked the condition of the cottage. None of us own the place, we just rent it. The place was in bad shape, but we fixed it up a bit so that the roof doesn't leak, etc.

I know a party who lives in the group house who has 4 rooms and makes more money than I do, and there are only three in the family.

HOPEFUL.

LANDLORD VS. TENANT.

Chicago, March 25.—I am a landlord and wish I were a renter.

Does the renter realize the advantage of living in a $40 to $50 per month flat? For his money he receives a warm place to live, police and fire protection, elementary, high, and vocational schools for his children [any one of the last named would amount to more than his rent were he to pay tuition], parks for both him and his children to play in, fieldhouses to play and study in, and gyms and what not? Some one has to pay for these benefits; so we, the landlords, pay taxes and when election comes along the renters vote for more and more bond issues for more and more benefits, so we get more and more taxes. Why cry about the high rents?

C. M. C.

TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT.

Evanston, Ill., March 25.—Please write several front page editorials, a few days apart, against the reorganization bill, the most dangerous bill of all time. Tell the people to wire or write their congressmen to vote against it. Do not let the TVA overshadow this bill; keep the people awake to its dangers.

It would be a wonderful idea to write all editorials on the front page. Most people do not realize what is really happening to our government right now.

N. E. M.

AUSTRIAN REFUGEES.

Chicago, March 25.—The writer believes that petitions should be made immediately to all representatives of the people in Washington protesting the open-door policy as a haven for refugees from Austria and Germany.

IGOE—A LEADER IN FAT AND LEAN YEARS OF PARTY

Laughs at Charge He Is Machine Bossed.

[This is another in a series of informal sketches of major candidates for state offices in the April 12 primary.]

BY PERCY WOOD.

Michael L. Igoe.

Probably better than any candidate on either the Democratic or Republican state tickets, Michael L. Igoe knows his way around in politics. He has been in office when the Democrats were in power and he has been in office when they were out of power and all a fellow could do was to stick and slug. He has been an organization candidate and an anti-organization candidate, and now, with substantial organized support, he is seeking the senatorial nomination.

The charge the Horner Democrats are making is that Igoe and his slate associates were penthouse-picked by the Nash-Kelly Chicago machine and are, therefore, bossed by it. Igoe is laughing at that. He says no one has ever bossed him during his twenty-five years in politics and this is no time to try it. By his attitude he seems to regard his Chicago indorsement as something he won by merit.

His Work in Lean Years.

For sixteen years—mostly in Republican times—Igoe was the foremost Democratic crusader in the Illinois house of representatives at Springfield. For six years the vulnerable Small administration was his target; for four years more—at the height of the prohibition repeal fight—it was Gov. Louis L. Emmerson, a dry.

Under these advantageous conditions, Igoe reached the top rank of his party. Excellent at either party strategy, oratory, or rough and tumble debate, he was a thoroughly competent minority floor leader. When it seemed good politics to castigate the Republicans in general, or some leader in particular, he would command attention such as is rarely given on the house floor and would pack the galleries with statehouse employés or visitors.

Standing beside his favorite seat in the rear of the vast old chamber, a note of warning in his deliberate "Mr. speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the house!" Igoe would throw his head back slightly in a well remembered gesture, wait for the silence that always came, and then begin to enumerate the sins of his Republican opponents.

Slow Start, Fast Finish.

He would start slowly and calmly but as he warmed up, his voice would rise to concert pitch, his round, Celtic face would take on a reddish glow, and his condemning words would pour out, rapidly, but without losing syllables on the way.

Igoe's denunciation of Gov. Emmerson for vetoing the state dry law repealer followed this formula and was one of the most vitriolic of his legislative career. Sheer weight of Republican majorities never bothered him much for he knew the rule book as few of his opponents and when he wanted to tie them up with a filibuster, it generally worked.

These years of fighting legislative battles for his fellow Democrats are bearing fruit in Igoe's current campaign. His tour party reports that present and former member of the house turned up at almost every downstate meeting to offer support and, more often than not, take him to see a bridge, a strip of hard road, an armory, or some other improvement that Igoe had helped materialize.

Old Friends Working for Him.

Igoe carried forty downstate counties when he broke with the Cermak Chicago organization in 1932 and ran for governor, and many of his old friends down there are working for him again this year. His independence was not readily forgiven in Chicago and he lost his patronage and his membership on the national committee.

This he took with a smile and in 1934 he was elected congressman at large with help from both the governor and the Chicago Democrats. The following year President Roosevelt appointed him United States attorney for the northern district of Illinois, which post he still holds.

Igoe has been in politics for twenty-five of his 52 years. He was born in St. Paul and was brought to Chicago when he was 9. His education was obtained in the parochial schools, De La Salle institute and Chicago and Georgetown universities. He is married and has one son, Michael Jr.

HOW TO AVOID BALDNESS

Watch these danger zones

DEFINITE warning signals always precede baldness. When your scalp itches or is laden with dandruff, and when your hair falls abnormally in the "danger zones" (forehead and crown) you are being warned that baldness is approaching. You must act at once if you wish to avoid baldness.

Do what a quarter-million other men have done — consult Thomas. Thomas treatment is proved by almost two decades of success — is reliable, dignified, and inexpensive. It ends dandruff, stops abnormal hair loss, and promotes hair growth on the thin and bald spots. Call today for a complete scalp examination. No charge is made for the examination nor for consultation and if you do not come within the scope of Thomas treatment you will be promptly told.

They are better-looking, more efficient and cost you less to own and operate.

Low prices and easy terms make it easy for you to drive the kind of a car you want.

The generous selection of values offered in the Tribune automobile want ad columns enable you to get the model and make you prefer at the price you want to pay.

Despite the $250,000,000 spent by taxpayers on streets in the last 20 years, the surface traffic tangle constantly grows more acute. Last year Chicago licenses were issued for 504,207 passenger automobiles, an increase of 42,680—the largest number in history. There were also 67,407 licensed commercial vehicles which further added to street congestion.

A THOUGHT FOR "traffic dodgers"

No other single factor contributes so much to "L" YOUR SAFETY AS the L

"L" passengers ride an average of about 8 miles per trip. Every weekday they ride a total of approximately 3,800,000 Passenger miles...miles of travel over a private right of way unused by any other form of traffic... entirely out of the high accident hazards of the congested streets. Were this great traffic added to that already on the surface, what would be the increase in the daily toll? Without doubt, the elevated Rapid Transit System is the greatest single factor for public safety in Chicago.

A MARKET LESSON from a cake of SOAP

A CAKE of laundry soap may not seem important in your business—but it is. Where this cake of soap sells best, your product too will sell best, most quickly and most profitably in the rich New York market.

Our research department has been tracking down the sales of this cake of soap, and of many other products. There is news in our findings.

Laundry soap is a simple household item—universally used. Because it is a staple item, the pattern of its sale in New York may safely be used by advertisers as a guide in the marketing of any staple product.

In New York, branded laundry soap sells fastest to above-average families—and there are enough such families to constitute a major and profitably cultivated tonnage market. Details of this study are shown in the table.

Many alert advertising executives are already profiting from this new market information. It gives a fresh picture of New York, in which The New York Times reaches the greatest number of above-average families—as well as many tens of thousands of the important average-income group.

Laundry Soap Sales in New York City

SCOPE: Sale of six advertised brands of laundry soap in 671 retail grocery outlets, distributed 99 in above-average neighborhoods, 208 in average neighborhoods, 364 in below-average neighborhoods—the proportion in which they occur in these neighborhoods in the city as a whole.

FINDING:

Number of Stores	Number of Families Served	Total Weekly Sale All Stores	Average Weekly Sale Per Store
99 in above-average areas	14,500	46,003	465
208 in average areas	27,000	74,922	360

Note that the average weekly sale of advertised laundry soaps is nearly three times as great in typical above-average neighborhood outlets as in typical below-average outlets. In below-average stores, this study finds, a large percentage of sales are of cheap, unwrapped, unbranded soaps.

WHICH MEANS: The quickest, most economical way of building a volume market is by directing your advertising to above-average neighborhoods where greater purchasing power means greater advertising responsiveness, bigger sales and profits.

Send For These Facts

THE NEW YORK TIMES market research department keeps in constant touch with retail merchants throughout New York City. On the basis of 18,000 interviews during the past year, covering sales of a wide variety of products in a wide range of prices, a new and valuable market picture of New York has been drawn. Salient facts from typical studies:

COFFEE: Sales of packaged coffee are three times as great in typical above-average outlets as in typical below-average outlets.

CRACKERS: Cocktail cracker sales are almost four times as great in typical above-average grocery outlets as in typical outlets in below-average neighborhoods.

COLD CREAM: Unit sales of two leading brands are 100 per cent greater in above-average drug stores—and more purchases are of the large-size units.

PINEAPPLE JUICE: Sales of canned pineapple juice are three times as great in typical above-average outlets as in typical below-average outlets.

Complete information on all market findings will gladly be sent to interested executives. Please specify which products or types of product you are most concerned with. Address: Market Research Department, The New York Times, Times Square, New York, N. Y.

Marice Murphy Is Betrothed to J. I. Clarkson

BY JUDITH CASS.

SEVERAL engagements are of interest this morning. At a party in their Kenmore avenue home Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Murphy announced the engagement of their daughter, Marice, to James Inglis Clarkson.

Miss Murphy attended the Francis Parker and the Mary Burnham schools, the University of Chicago, and the University of Paris. She made her debut in 1928.

Mr. Clarkson, who attended George Watson college and now lives in Santa Fe, N. M., is a son of Mrs. George Clarkson of Edinburgh and Bigger Lankarshire, Scotland. His brother, Robert Hunter Clarkson, is married to the former Miss Louise Wells of Chicago and they now live at Polmood Farms, Tesuque, Santa Fe.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Margaret Geraldine Gurley Engaged to Harry A. Dow.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Gurley entertained at tea yesterday afternoon in their home at 2726 Sheridan road, Evanston, to announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Geraldine, to Harry Augustus Dow Jr., son of Mrs. Harry Augustus Dow and the late Mr. Dow of 1236 Judson avenue, Evanston.

Miss Gurley attended Lindenwood college, the University of Nebraska, and was graduated from Northwestern university. Mr. Dow is a graduate of Exeter and of Yale university. No definite plans have been made for the wedding.

Betty Byrne to Wed John Echols Sykes Jr.

At a family dinner in their Kenilworth home recently Mr. and Mrs. John Kehoe Byrne announced the engagement of their daughter, Betty, to John Echols Sykes Jr., son of Mrs. John Echols Sykes of Winnetka, formerly of Columbia, Mo.

Miss Byrne attended the New Trier High school in Winnetka. Mr. Sykes attended the Clark school at Hanover, N. M., and the University of Illinois. The wedding will take place this summer.

Ione Vivian Johnson Weds Eugene Cary Jr. Tomorrow.

Although no formal announcement of their engagement has been made, friends of Miss Ione Vivian Johnson and Eugene Cary Jr. have been hearing with pleasure that they are to be married. The wedding will take place at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Johnson.

The Rev. Lowell Ditzen of the Pullman Presbyterian church will officiate, and a small reception for relatives will follow. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sindelar will be the only attendants. Because young Mr. Cary and his bride are both in business, they will delay their wedding trip until later and will be at home immediately on the south shore. Mr. Cary's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Cary of the Drake Towers.

First Patterson-Applegate Prenuptial Party Given.

The first of many prenuptial parties that are to be given for Miss Julia Patterson and her fiancé, Ralph W. Applegate, was given yesterday by Miss Kathleen Kelly, who entertained from 5 until 7 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kelly. A surprise guest at the party was Mr. Applegate's sister, Mrs. Will C. Rice, who flew here from Kansas City Saturday to spend the week-end.

Miss Patterson, daughter of Mrs. Wayne Wills, and Mr. Applegate have set their wedding date for June 4. The ceremony will be a small one at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at St. Chrysostom's church, and there will be no formal reception afterward. Instead, only the members of the bridal party will return to Mrs. Wills' apartment to drink a toast, as the bridesmaids and ushers did following the wedding of Miss Kelly's sister, Patricia, to John L. Irving, last New Year's eve. Miss Kelly is at home from Vassar for the spring holiday.

Miss Patterson's cousin, Mrs. Giuseppe Fantacci [Marjorie Moore], and Mr. Fantacci returned to New York from Europe in the Queen Mary last week after several months in Italy. She will come to Chicago soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Orson Welles Welcome Baby Daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Orson Welles, of New York, are being congratulated on the birth of a baby daughter yesterday afternoon in New York. Mrs. Welles is the former Virginia Nicolson, of Chicago. Her mother, Mrs. Leo Nicolson, is in New York now. Mrs. Welles is in the Sloan hospital in Rockefeller Center.

Many will drive south tonight to hear Fernando Germani in an organ recital that was postponed from March 13 until this evening. It will

New Slippers Have the Touch of Cinderella

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Do you yern for slippers with the Cinderella touch? Such can be found and we dare you to hang onto your pennies after the first look. These gay and giddy new things, as feminine as a lipstick, make irresistible loot.

New and ready for your best dancing and party gowns are the pastel tinted satin smoothies with flowers attached to the toes. Besides making your number sevens look petite size two, these newcomers are as frivolous as lace and tucks.

The heels are high; there's a back strap to hold them snugly on the foot; the tiny toe apertures are mere trifles. On each instep is a posy. You take your pick from gardenias, camellias, roses, cornflowers or the good bridal finds of valley lilies. There is no objection to a daisy or any other bloom you desire, but the cornflowers with matching blue satin run a good popularity race with the rose tinted beauties with coral pink camellias and roses decorating the instep.

Swathed sandals are here to stay. Every one likes them because they, too, make the foot smaller and come in grand mixups of colors and materials. The floral printed soft challis prints are causing the most excitement. Satin and jersey make dress parade affairs that are especially spectacular in red and purple. Some combine chalk white and Kelly green contrasts, and these ought to take a lot of votes.

And you should see the snappy pigskin models dyed in bonbon tints, the robin's egg blue being especially effective. See the kidskin pumps in copper and colors with the kid as thin and smooth as the gloves you wear. Tucked or folded in crisscross straps over the instep, these particular models are knockout finds for summer street wear. Patent, suede, fabric, and kid in every imaginable color are plentiful!

Lake Shore Club Concert.

The Lake Shore-Hamilton male chorus will make its first public appearance since becoming associated with the Lake Shore Athletic club at a concert this evening at the Lake Shore club.

Concert Master, 20, Plays with Surprising Authority

BY CECIL SMITH.

Edward Stack, baritone, a former Northwestern university student and present cantor of Temple Sholom, was scheduled to appear with the Illinois Symphony orchestra under Albert Goldberg's direction in the Great Northern theater yesterday afternoon.

Shortly after noon it became apparent that an illness which had attacked him earlier in the day would not permit him to fulfill his contract.

Nothing daunted, Mr. Goldberg and his gifted concert master, Fritz Siegal, 20 years old, were fully equal to the occasion. The Max Bruch G-minor concerto was rehersed and ready for Monday's concert at Hirsch High school. Why not play it Sunday as well and turn the customers' disappointment into agreeable surprise?

So the Great Northern audience heard a fiddlers' war horse by Bruch instead of vocalists' war horses by Massenet and Tschaikowsky. Mr. Siegal played with a musical authority quite beyond what you would expect his short life to give him, maintaining good tone and technical precision throughout.

The symphony of the day was Borodin's First. It was a less happy event. Mr. Goldberg's tempos were monotonous and rigid, and the score lost a good deal of its delightful sparkle and crispness both in the scherzo and in the finale. The strings played with expressive color in the slow movement, but the phrasing was dull and unconvincing.

Another good violinist, William Hector, played a joint recital with Alexander Joseffer, pianist, in the Fine Arts building last evening. In the almost grotesquely bombastic First Grand Concerto of Vieuxtemps the violinist enjoyed a glorious field day, displaying his well groomed tone, his good projection, and his coolness in the face of technical difficulties. Mr. Joseffer contributed an excellently conceived accompaniment.

Vytautas Finadar Beliajus, Chicago Lithuanian dancer, appearing at the Woman's club theater with the occasional assistance of a group of other dancers, presented a series of compositions showing the native styles of a bewildering number of countries, both oriental and occidental. He was equally at home in Lithuanian, Palestinian and Hindu material. While the whole idea of trying to cover so much territory is a bit dilettantish, Mr. Beliajus' movement is fluent and unfailingly makes an agreeable impression on his audience.

The Woman's Concert ensemble, Fanny Arnsten-Hassler, conductor, played the second concert of its young career in the Auditorium recital hall yesterday afternoon. A feature of the program was a new "Recitative and Aria" for chamber ensemble by Irwin Fischer of Chicago. Paula Zwane, dramatic soprano, was assisting soloist.

The Kenwood Society Service club will meet at 2:30 o'clock today at 4430 Ellis avenue with Mrs. Ralph Pinkerton and Mrs. John McInnis as hostesses.

The Housewife

Have you seen the new designs in the waterproof and heatproof tablecloths? These cloths are a joy to the busy housewife, for they can be kept clean simply by wiping them off with a soapy cloth and then with one wrung out of clean, warm water. They are not oilcloth. They are a fabricated material that looks much like linen, but is heavier. It is quite pliable, however.

You can get this same material for little cushion pads for your dinette chair seats and you can use the same for your kitchen window curtains. The pads are ready made. The curtains you make yourself, buying the material by the yard.

The new patterns show little baskets of flowers in colors on a white ground and a yellow one. The tablecloths measure 36 by 36 and 54 by 54 inches.

EDITH WEIGLE.

Roland Hayes Is Heard with Fisk Singers

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Fisk university of Nashville, Tenn., an institution devoted to the education and advancement of the Negro race, sent to the Auditorium theater yesterday its choir, its Jubilee singers, and one of its most distinguished alumni. The last is Roland Hayes, a tenor who is fervently admired in many countries for the sensuous glory of his voice and for the thoughtfulness and sincerity of his interpretations.

With admirable precision and fair tone quality the Fisk university choir sang standard European music and a group of Negro spirituals. Confining themselves to the latter type of music, the famous Fisk Jubilee singers, seven custodians of a tradition running back to civil war days, revealed to a delightful audience that melting, emotionally supercharged tone quality which the massed Negro voice can produce in all its purity and power.

Mr. Hayes sang Scarlatti, Beethoven, Brahms, Franz, and Schubert, as well as a generous group of spirituals. Did any one else in yesterday's audience get the impression that the great tenor is marring his work somewhat by a tense, nervous musical and stage manner which makes impossible the relaxed, tranquil delivery which certain types of song require?

Isa Kremer, international balladist who adds the expressive power of pantomime and of an extremely mobile countenance to all her songs, provided at the Civic Opera house last evening a great many ecstatic experiences for those who are partial to that sort of thing. As Miss Kremer boxed the compass in search of material which would provide that enchanting combination of particularity and universality, the audience hung excitedly on her words, gestures and facial expressions.

The concert was sponsored by the Workmen's circle and the Young Circle league and offered as assisting artists Ivan Bailevsky and Aaron Rosen. Bailevsky not only played Miss Kremer's accompaniments, but presented on his own responsibility a very free and highly personalized performance of the Chopin A-flat Ballade. Aaron Rosen, a tiny boy who would almost fit inside his violin, offered a facile and accurate version of the first movement of Bruch's G-minor concerto.

Roselle Bezazian, a pianist who does not know how to coax an ugly sound from her instrument, played a recital at the Goodman theater yesterday. So great are her technical and musical gifts that she would be justified in displaying all of the time that relaxed confidence which is now in evidence much of the time. This would remedy her occasional difficulty in maintaining a consistent and well thought out melodic line and would help to keep a legato phrase eloquent and perfectly balanced [between the hands] from first to last.

Vitya Vronsky and Victor Babin, Russian duo-pianists who played the thumpy double concerto of Igor Strawinsky in the candlelit audience hall of the Arts club last evening, succeeded by means of an aptly calculated dynamic scheme and a reasonable care for texture in rubbing round some of the sharpest edges of their countryman's angular muse. This means in English that they played fairly soft much of the time and that they kept their ears alert for opportunities for tonal beauty. Thus the concerto seemed less haughty and uncompromising—less concerned with "pure" as distinguished from humanly significant form—than many of the more pessimistic of us had feared.

Preceding the concerto were five études by Victor Babin himself, interesting not only in themselves, but because of the fact that they are almost the only [perhaps the only] pieces of this type written specifically for two pianos.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

The Week's Wash

Hollywood, Cal., March 27.—Heiress Muriel Phelps Vanderbilt of the "Sixty Families" and Woody Malone, her San Francisco escort, called it off a few hours back. . . . Frances Langford will wed Jon Hall, "Hurricane" husky. . . . The Randy Scotts did not bet on Battleship, 40 to 1 Grand National winner, on the pessimistic advice of Trainer Hobbs. The great Man o' War colt wasn't rated highly in England, because, believe it or not, Man o' War isn't even listed in the English stud blue book. . . . Benny Goodman, swing king, is wooing Eunice Healy. . . . Yurmi Stern of the late-lamented Casino de Paree is suing Warner's because of the Al Jolson picture of that tag, alleging they caricatured him as a Hooligan. He's asking a million. . . . Cleo Manning will become Mrs. Artie Auerbach. He's on the Phil Baker program. . . . Mother of one of the kids who clicked in "Tom Sawyer" is telling locals she's a widow. Her eastern husband, when he learns, may explode on page 1. . . . Henry King, orchestra leader, speeding east to beat Sir Stork to his wife. . . . Mister Stork has called off his planned visit to the Andy Devines.

"International Casino," on Broadway, grossed $861,000 in the first three and a half months, and lost $80,000. And they kid Hollywood! Despite recession Cantor's "Ali Baba" has grossed over $1,000,000 in this country. . . . The Harpo Marxes' [Susan Fleming] baby boy arrived Saturday; a year old boy adopted in New York. . . . No mystery to the eastern trip of Melvin Purvis, Dillinger exterminator. The former G-man is liquidating the estate of his sister, who died. . . . Al Lichtman, out $5,000 at roulette, hit five numbers quickly and cleaned up $3,000. . . . Songwriter Lew Brown, out $9,000 at dice, got on a roll and won several G's. He penned "That Old Feeling," so make up your own jokes. . . . Baby girls for Bob Burns and Monte Westmore. . . . Gloria Dickson and Perc Westmore have set the date. . . . John Barrymore's "ptomaine poisoning" is a recurrence of ulcers. . . . The Allan Joneses, the Spencer Traceys, and the Gene Raymonds [Jeanette MacDonald] east bound; the Joneses by train, the Tracys by boat, the Raymonds by car. No pogo-sticks?

New Hollywood Games: At the Clover club—Cary Grant, Phyllis Brooks, Doug Fairbanks Jr., Marlene Dietrich, and Countess Dorothy di Frasso attracting starers with a burning race horse game. A race track is sketched on chemically treated paper, with dots representing horses at the post. The race starts when you touch lighted cigaret ends to the dots, which burn a path to the finish line. "Horse" ignited by Marlene Dietrich wins. . . . At the Trocadero: Connie Bennett, Virginia Zanuck, Mrs. Jock Whitney, Frank Morgan, and Gilbert Roland absorbed in a tablecloth tiddlywinks tournament. Roland proves to be the No. 1 tiddler, flipping five thin tin slugs into a demi-tasse cup.

Week-end pairings: Ilona Massey and Gene Markey, La Dietrich and Willis Goldbeck, Loretta Young and Bernie Newman. . . . Luise Rainer, who has been swooning around town for years, suddenly has gone gay on the "Toy Wife" set with Melvyn Douglas and Bob Young. Studio attachés can't believe it. Young, incidentally, had a 20 minute vacation, rushing from "Three Comrades" to the Rainer comedy. . . . Paramount's cash position at the end of the year will startle hecklers. It'll startle even Paramount. . . . George [Scandals] White made 22 passes at dice, which is unusual weather, too!!

Joan Crawford officially is on vacation from M-G-M. So she goes to the studio every day to make operatic recordings! . . . Phyllis Welch, Toledo youngster who will be seen opposite Harold Lloyd, would rather be seen opposite Chip Cleary, Variety scribe.

Items Romantic: Tommy Lee and Judith Barrett, Lucille Ball and Al Hall, Jean Rogers and Danny Winkler, Pat Knowles and June Spence. . . . Susan Jane Quealy, whose sister married Wolf Barnato of the Diamond clan, is wearing an engagement ring. She's prominent in San Francisco society.

George M. Cohan will be banqueted April 24 at the Astor by the Catholic Actors' guild. . . . Real reason Zanuck picked England in May for his vacation is because of polo. One of his teammates abroad will be Charles B. Wrightsman. He's the Standard Oil of Kansas biggie. Aidan Roark and Cecil Smith will complete Zanuck's zowies. . . . Recommended: Dorothy Lamour's tuneful caroling at the Ambassador, with Hubby Herb Kay's okay accompaniment. . . . First, Don Ameche was felled by infected teeth; now Universal's president, Nat Blumberg, had to have all of his molars yanked. . . . Howard Hughes, who disappeared from town mysteriously, is secretly shooting an aviation epic. . . . Joel McCrea is Sam Goldwyn's trading post; now he goes to 20th Century-Fox, because Zanuck lent John Ford to Goldwyn to direct "Hurricane."

Albertina Rasch was offered $50,000 for a half interest in her lottery ticket on Royal Mail; she refused and he finished out of the money. . . . Danielle Darrieux, who posed for plenty of 'em, refuses flatly to permit any more leg pictures, on the ground it isn't dignified. But it's pretty. . . . William Powell, who was more critically ill than any one knows, won't be out of the hospital for another ten days. Cancer rumors were ridiculous. . . . Victor, of the local Victor Hugos, marries Gladys Scrivener on April 5. He's John Steinberg's partner.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

The daring fair one with the flamey name who heroines this story is a star newspaper reporter. She's engaged to marry a police inspector, Steve McBride.

This state of affairs between Torchy of the Globe and smart Inspector McBride is a cause of great irritation to reporters and publisher of a rival newspaper. They believe that Steve gives Torchy advance tips on stories, thus accounting for the damsel's many scoops. This both hotly deny. Torchy gets the pickin's because Torchy's just always on the job!

Be that as it may—a man—same's a woman—convinced against his will is of the same opinion still. . . . Which brings us to the opening plot situation, i. e.:

Torchy and Steve plan to be married on the day the story opens. . . . The Herald boys and their publisher plot a hoax, whereby Torchy shall turn in a "scoop" story of a murder. . . . No sooner shall the yarn be printed than the murderee [an actor, in need of publicity] shall, so to speak, throw aside his shroud and prove to be very much alive. . . . [Dirty trick, what?]

So far so good. ONLY, to the consternation of the conspirators, Actor Brand is really a corpse when discovered! He has ACTUALLY been strangled with a woman's silk stocking. . . .

And then commences the button, button business. . . .

Torchy solves the mystery of the murder. . . . And, you ask comfortably, marries her inspector and lives happily ever after?

Not so's you'd notice it, Alannas! . . . Air races—and stomach pumps! —respectively, engage the attention of the lovers and a visit to a minister becomes just one of those things that'll have to wait. . . .

Ah, well! "He still loves me!" smiles Torchy, as the picture closes. And you feel she knows her man.

Let's have some more of these "Torchy" pictures. The one at the Oriental provides an hour's interesting entertainment. Not big time stuff —but pleasant time stuff.

See you tomorrow.

SYNOPSIS.

Karen Gilbert meets Gordon Stone returning to Burranca after 5 years in prison. Gordon was framed by Karen's ruthless uncle and guardian, Lyn Gilbert, owner of Bar B B ranch, and his foreman Curt Ford. Because Karen has a friend, Hal Ferguson, take her to the hideout of Gordon and Jack Turnbull and warn them in time to save them from a posse of Gilbert's men, her uncle imprisons her at his ranch. Gordon and Jack start a campaign against Gilbert. The affidavit of Linc Conway, who was kept by threats from coming to Gordon's aid, is published in the Courier. It accuses Gilbert and Ford. Gilbert starts suit for libel and hires his rider, Cheyenne, to rub Linc out.

INSTALMENT XIX.

DEFIANCE.

Gilbert and Ford walked into the house. Karen took off her shoes and slipped down the back stairs. She passed through the kitchen into the dining room. Voices came from the small room adjoining it, which was used as an office. The first was Ford's obviously worried.

"If the damn little squirt backs up his affidavit we'll be in a fine jam."

"You will," corrected the squeak of his employer. "Not I."

"Don't you think you won't. Don't think it for a minute. Conway has got you in it and, by Moses, you'll be in it if I am."

The listening girl heard her uncle urging the other man to keep his voice down, not to get so excited. She caught a word of reassurance. "Cheyenne will fix it."

After that they spoke in murmurs, too low to be heard. It must have been five minutes later that there came the scraping sound of a chair being pushed back.

"I'll drive up and see old John Fleming first," Gilbert said. "Got to fix it so he and his friends don't line up with his scalawag nephew."

"The old man will likely do anything you ask of him," the foreman said with heavy sarcasm. "You've sure been a friend to that old-timer."

Gilbert ignored the thrust. "I'll talk with Karen and see if she's come to her senses yet. Tell Glenna to bring her down."

Karen thought it time to be gone. She softfooted it from the dining room into the kitchen and ran up the stairs. When Glenna knocked on the door of her room she was reading the newspaper.

"Your uncle is here and wants to see you," she said.

"How nice of him to remember I'm still alive though buried," Karen answered, turning a page of the newspaper.

Glenna sat down in the easiest chair. She was inclined to puff a little when she climbed stairs. "Better hurry, dearie," she advised. "He doesn't like to be kept waiting."

Karen did not hasten. At sight of her Gilbert snapped his annoyance. "Broke your neck coming, didn't you?"

"Do you want to see me—or don't you?" the girl asked coldly. "If not, I'll go back to my room."

"Sit down," he ordered. "And don't get sassy with me. I come up here in a friendly spirit to find whether you're inclined to be anyways reasonable now you've thought your conduct over. And you start in by jumpin' down my throat."

She heard her uncle say, "Cheyenne will fix it."

"I'll be entirely reasonable," Karen said. "Turn over to me my property and I'll let you alone—never speak to you again."

"I'm your guardian, and you're under age. I am to look after your property like the law requires me to do. . . . Have you thought any more about getting married?"

"I've thought about not getting married," his niece told him sharply.

"Edgar Firkins sends all kinds of love to you, my dear. I expect he would have written you a poem if he'd had time."

She ignored that, eyes flashing angrily. "How long do you expect to keep me here a prisoner?" she demanded.

"I wouldn't call you a prisoner. You go riding, don't you? Have the run of an eighteen hundred acre range. If you mean when can you go back to town, why that depends entirely on you. Soon as I'm convinced you aren't going to consort with my enemies—go trollloping around with bad men and outlaws—the welcome sign will be out for you at my house in Barranca."

"I don't want to go back to your house—ever. But I'm not going to stay here, and I'm not going to make any promises. I read today's Courier. I believe that story, and I intend to break with you publicly."

"So you're going to throw in with that villain Stone—get yourself talked of all over the county. Not if I can help it. You're my brother's daughter. You'll stay right here, and there will be a bolt on your door at night. I'll set bounds for your walks and rides. I'm not going to have a scandal in the Gilbert family, missy. From now on you'll follow a chalk line."

"That's the way I want it," Karen cried defiantly. "You frightened me in your office when you talked of reform school. I know now there is nothing to it. I'll fight. This is America. You couldn't do such a thing, not even with the help of your corrupt politicians. I have friends who'll support me. You'll see. So do your worst and see where you get. Handcuff me if you like."

Gilbert did not want to drive her too far. What she had said was true. Just now, with public opinion in flux, he had no desire to weaken his power by an open fight in his own family.

"All I'm asking is for you not to mix in my business," he said mildly. "Is that too much?"

"All you want is to run me the way you've been doing everybody else in the county—and to make me marry some nitwit who will let you go on controlling my property. I won't have it. It isn't yours. It is mine. And I'm not yours to dispose of. I'll have you know that."

The girl faced him, her slender body tall and erect, her eyes stormy.

He shook his head sadly. "Temper, my dear. That is not the spirit in which to adjust your difficulties. You understand I didn't send you here as a punishment, but to protect you from the impetuosity of youth."

"I understand that you are a hypocrite," she cried, and walked out of the room.

Gilbert shrugged his heavy shoulders, hoisted himself from the chair, and shuffled out to the car. Ford joined him there.

"The young lady doesn't seem to think much of you, Lyn," he jeered. "Seems to be on to your curves."

"Naturally you were listening," his employer countered. "You would be!"

"Her voice carries when she is annoyed," Ford said. "I reckon the boys heard when she called you a hypocrite. O, well, they probably had their own notions anyhow. You heading for the Fleming place?"

Gilbert put the clutch in and started without answering the question.

The foreman shouted advice after him. "Because, if you are, you'd better go loaded for bear. You'll be welcome as loco in his pasture."

Gilbert knew that Ford was right. Old John Fleming hated him with a bitter and passionate animosity. There was still enough explosive force in the owner of the J F ranch to make his visit dangerous. But Gilbert was no coward. He had never courted peril nor taken pleasure in it. There was nothing of high adventure in his cold blood. His preference was to attain his end by tortuous chicanery inside the law. Yet when it seemed wise he could take a risk boldly.

Fleming was an individualist, a cattle man of the frontier type. He had fought Comanches, drought, cattle diseases, bad markets, and rustlers with unflinching courage. But he was now in a new age, one in which the virtues of the old-timer were not important. His enemies were now the subtleties of political chicanery, combined with a sabotage none the less criminal because it operated under legal protection. Gilbert was back of these. He intended to take over the J F ranch at the proper time to round out his holdings, and for years he had been nibbling at Fleming's range and at his solvency.

When Gilbert drove into the yard Fleming was sitting in a rocking chair on the porch reading a newspaper.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: A Chip Off the Old Shoulder

Youngsters of Same Age May Vary in Weight

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

I am often asked, "How tall should a child be at a certain age and how much should he [or she] weigh?"

I purposely do not have tables of height and weight charts. They have been worked out, of course, and can be found in some books on child health. But I feel it best not to broadcast these details because they may set up in some parents' minds a great deal of unnecessary worry.

Several young boys around the age of 12 used to frequent our house. Two were of equal height—one slim, one rather broad of beam. A third was shorter and between the two, neither slim nor stocky. All were healthy lads, but chart standards would not have applied to all three.

Three little children all of about the same age present a similar picture. One is medium in height and weight; one is stall and thin; one tall and heavy. To all appearances they are in excellent physical condition. I feel confident no amount of additional feeding, sleeping, cod liver oil, and other vitamin-rich products, or exercise would make an appreciable change in their height and weight, though I must not neglect to add these factors are essential to a child's health.

So we cannot lay down rules as to poundage and inches for young children at certain ages. Too many factors enter in. A child's heredity, either in his immediate parents or his grandparents or his race, may bestow upon him a large frame or a small one. Even those bones may vary, for there are such things as heavy bones and light bones.

Then, there's the covering for those bones. On a similar diet one child will be fat, another stocky, another slender but with muscles of steel, and another slender but without much muscle strength. The body does different things with the fuel we call food, that it takes in.

Don't worry about charts. Don't worry if a small neighbor eats more than your son or daughter. But, be intelligent and persistent in observing the well-known rules of health in running your child's life.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Under the title of "Tools for Tomorrow's World," Dr. Halford E. Luccock, of Yale Divinity school, New Haven, Conn., last night told members of the Sunday Evening club, Orchestra hall, that the mechanisms of applied science are not enough. Although he reviewed with high praise recent technological advances which have produced the airplane, television, the cotton picker, and other astonishing inventions, yet he asked what useful purposes these served unless motives of men advanced with mechanical improvements.

"Any world," said Dr. Luccock, "that will be fit to live in must have other tools for its building than merely the mechanical and scientific ones. There must be spiritual tools as well. Without spiritual tools we shall merely have new powers for old purposes—be putting 20th century tools of vast power into the control of the purposes of greed.

"Three tools necessary for making an endurable world are faith in God; people in whom love and brotherhood are dominant desires, and a type of social thinking which fits the intermeshed, interdependent world which science has given us in the last fifty years.

"Science as well as religion is telling us that if we will not live like brothers we cannot live at all."

AMAZING VEGETABLE WAY RELIEVES CONSTIPATION

If you suffer from constipation, here's amazing relief. Relief so nearly natural you'll hardly realize you've taken a laxative except for the wonderful results you'll get. be held at 8:30 o'clock in Mandel hall on the University of Chicago campus under the auspices of the Renaissance society. Mr. Germani, who is virtually the state organist of Italy, played with the Chicago Symphony orchestra in 1928 and there is a possibility that he will return to play another engagement with that organization next year.

Dr. P. C. Chang, professor of philosophy at Nankai university in Tientsin, China, will speak at a luncheon meeting of the American Friends of China at 12:30 o'clock today at the Arts club. Dr. Chang will discuss the effect of conditions in Europe on the conflict in the far east.

Arts Club Announces Second Nabokoff Lecture.

The Arts club has cards out to a lecture and a triple exhibition. The lecture is to be a second one given by Nicolas Nabokoff on the "History of Conducting," at 11:30 o'clock Thursday. There will be a tea from 4 until 6 o'clock next Monday to open the exhibition of contemporary Italian painting, paintings by Henry A. Botkin, and water colors by Raoul Dufy.

The annual woman's squash racquet tournament at the Lake Forest Winter club was won last week by Mrs. L. Thomas Kelley, who defeated Mrs. Wilson Jaicks in a 3 to 2 match. Mrs. Jaicks had previously won a 3 to 2 victory over Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter in the semi-finals.

Harold C. Bodmans Sail for Florence.

An Italian spring is in store for the Harold C. Bodmans and Mrs. Bodman's mother, Mrs. Nicholas de Teresa, but it will not be a new experience, for every year at this time they go to their beautiful villa near Florence. They sailed Saturday on the Rex and will not return to Chicago until late November.

Mrs. Barton F. Plimpton and her small daughter, Deborah, arrived last Wednesday from Massachusetts to visit Mrs. Plimpton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland. They will be here a week.

Mrs. John B. Drake Jr. and her children, Barbara and George, left Friday to spend a month in Bermuda. Mr. Drake will fly south to join them this week.

Mrs. John T. Pirie Jr. left Saturday for a visit in Palm Beach with her father, Franklin P. Smith.

Mrs. Claude Peck and her son and daughter arrived yesterday by motor from their home in Cleveland to visit Mrs. Peck's mother, Mrs. Hermon B. Butler, in Winnetka.

Dennis F. Kellys to Stay at Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis F. Kelly are giving up the house in Sheridan road, Lake Forest, they have been renting, and will move to the Deerpath inn, in Lake Forest, about May 1. Mrs. Granger Farwell arrived at the inn Saturday after a holiday in Palm Beach.

Mrs. Charles S. Frost and Miss Virginia Frost are returning from Palm Beach tomorrow. Bernard Boutet de Monvel will arrive at the inn from his villa, La Folie Monvel, in Palm Beach, April 15 to resume work on portraits of Mrs. John F. Jelke Jr., Mrs. Laurance Armour, and Miss Joan Ryerson.

Mrs. Francis S. North, who has been spending the winter in New York, will return at the end of next month or early in May to open her Lake Forest home. Francis North Jr., who is studying medicine in New York, will not return until the end of his term.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Connors are returning today from a holiday in Jamaica.

Exacting Care Is Insurance for Your Looks

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

"Beauty insurance" is a term New York's smartest women are using when they discuss ways and means of remaining young and beautiful. Experts advise taking out beauty insurance because it means beauty assurance. They agree that this type of policy pays dividends in the form of a fresh and glowing complexion only when careful daily skin treatments are followed.

At this time of year many women are victims of excessively dry skin, after the long winter months. To combat a dry and potentially old skin, its troubles accented by indoor heat and nervous tension, the daily application of a good skin food is necessary.

In order to erase those tiny lines around the eyes and mouth and to smooth out pinched, taut skin at the nose and temples, a skin food that has been especially created for such needs should be used. The skin food should combine the essential lubricating, softening, and tonicizing qualities that refine and soften texture.

How to use a good skin food? First, the skin must be thoroughly cleansed and toned with a tonic which will bring up the circulation. A good cleansing with cleansing cream, followed by a soap and water washing of the face, and this followed by plentifully applied cold water rinsing, makes the perfect base upon which to proceed. The cold water is a tonic.

Massage with skin food and remember that massage movements should follow the up and out course. Around the eyes, smooth on the cream with a rotary motion, from the bridge of the nose, over the eyelid to the outer corner of the eye, back under the eye to the nose again. If you aren't perfectly sure of yoor strokes watch in your mirror, and if you notice the skin wrinkling under your fingers you will know that your movements are in the wrong direction.

Grease your palms with skin food and "palm" your brow, starting with palms together in the middle of the forehead and working palms out and up in opposite directions.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Please, please look at those flower pots you'll see beckoning to you from a couple of cosmetic counters around town! And look closely. Beneath those blooms there are bath salts! They're that "breath of spring" you're always hearing about. Two of these pots on the bathroom window sill will brighten any cynic's little nest.

The one that looks for all the world like an honest-to-goodness geranium in a snowy white pot contains geranium scented bath salts, pink and fragrant. You may prefer a lovely hyacinth plant with lilac scented and pink tinted salts.

Or you may like a little pot brimming over with brilliant field flowers. The salts in this one are a bouquet scent, delightfully fragrant and a pretty, pretty yellow. If you're a fanatic about the first flowers of spring you'll go for the yellow and blue crocuses, which conceal cologne scented salts to make your bath do as much for your spirits as the sight of the flowers would. You can get lavender and white scented crocuses, too.

These are a marvelous spring gift for yourself or for some one else. They're unbelievably inexpensive. The salts are the "soft" kind we like best; they dissolve quickly and do a nice perfuming and softening job.

ELEANOR NANGLE.

Duet of Practical Coats

WOMAN'S AND MISS' COAT.

"Mix your own," applies as much to fashion these days as it does to refreshments at informal parties. What we mean principally is coats. Long, short, fitted, swagger, all kinds of toppers. No spring wardrobe could possibly be complete without a wide variety of coats, to be mixed with frocks and sweaters and skirts. The pattern offered today presents two styles. One is a boxy swagger, the other a casually fitted reefer.

With one-piece woolen or silk dresses, and colorful combines of blouse or sweater and skirt, nothing can compare with the boxy short coat. It has a youthful air about it and does wonderful things for every type of figure.

The seven-eighths length reefer coat is a grand topper for crisply tailored frocks and two-piece suits. It has squared shoulders, notched lapels, and two capacious pockets.

One pattern fashions both coats.

Style No. 2080 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3⅛ yards of 35 inch material.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Whirlwind" is one of those patterns designed by the early New England settlers to be used as everyday coverlets. It was set together block to block to form an all-over design. One of the ingenious features of this pattern is the way the pattern lends itself to a variety of arrangements. For example, if printed material is substituted for part of the blue and light blue pieces diagonal stripes and other effects are startling in number. The original coverlet was pieced in two shades of blue and white. The finished square measures 18 inches and thirty pieced blocks are required for a coverlet which measures 90 by 108 inches.

For a limited period Nancy Cabot offers 10 quilt patterns of her own choice at a price of 10 cents for the group (12 cents by mail). Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

Beef heart and beef tongue, being two very active muscular parts of the animal, are known as "tough" cuts of meat, yet they are palatable and tender when properly cooked. A beef heart, when purchased, should be firm and full, and the more fat surrounding it the better.

Beef tongue may come from either a cow or a steer. Steer tongue is considered better in texture and contains less waste than the other. The fat and glandular tissue at the root of the tongue should be well trimmed.

Calf, lamb, and pork hearts are more tender than beef hearts, but not as large; therefore they aren't quite as convenient for cooking. Calf, lamb, and pork tongues all make excellent meat dishes, too, although they are smaller than the beef tongues. The cooking methods are the same for all hearts and for all tongues, although the more tender hearts and tongues require less time than the larger and less tender ones.

COOKING HEART.

Heart is cooked just as a pot roast is cooked. First it is dipped in flour and browned in hot fat. Then the temperature is reduced, salt and pepper are added, with a little liquid, and the heart is cooked slowly in a covered pan. An excellent way to prepare it, and to increase the size of the servings, is to stuff it with any good bread dressing before it is cooked.

COOKING TONGUE.

Tongue is cooked in simmering water until tender, then trimmed and the skin removed. Spices such as cloves, bay leaf, and peppercorns may be added to the water in which the tongue is cooked. Or the tongue may be allowed to cook until nearly tender, then skimmed, trimmed, and baked in a covered dish with seasonings and a little of the liquid in which it was simmered. It is baked until tender and until the liquid has cooked away. Tongue may be served sliced, cold or hot. Usually some relish, such as mustard sauce, catsup, or horseradish, is served as an accompaniment.

Stuffed Beef Heart.

[Serves Three or Four.]

1 beef heart
3 slices bacon
1 cup fine bread crums
1 small onion, minced
Salt and pepper

Wash heart and remove any hard parts. Dice bacon and fry until crisp. Add crums, onion, salt and pepper, and moisten with a little hot water. Fill heart cavity and sew or skewer the edges together. Roll heart in flour and brown all over in hot fat. Add one cup hot water, cover and cook gently over low heat until tender—about two hours. To serve, slice across the heart so that each person will have both heart and dressing. Thicken the liquid in the pan for gravy. Prepare pork, lamb, or calf hearts in the same way.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: I am inclosing a hand played recently by a foursome from the University of Chicago. The hand was the funniest that I ever have played. My partner, a co-ed, nodding for a moment, bid one spade when she meant to say one heart, and it was this mistake that gave us a game and cheated the opponents out of a small slam that would have been a laydown.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 spade	2 diamonds	2 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

"When North bid the spades East thought that North had all the spades that she [East] didn't have and consequently didn't bid them, as she afterward said she had intended to do. Instead, she bid diamonds and gave me a chance to show my heart suit without raising the contract. West having, as she thought, a very poor hand kept a discreet silence and thus the marvelous fit in spades and, incidentally, in diamonds also, remained undiscovered. North, now wide awake, jumped to game to shut off the bidding, sensing the fact that East and West might have a fit between them with the uneven distribution in her [North's] hand and hoping that East would be afraid to bid five diamonds after receiving no support from her partner.

"West opened the diamond ten and East jumped on it with her king. The ace of diamonds was led back and the king of spades followed. This was the last trick East and West took, since I caught West's club ten after East had shown me where it was when she played her singleton queen. As a result we ended up with a game in hearts.

"If North had bid one heart East would have followed with one spade and my partner and I would have been taken to the cleaners when East and West got together with their spades and diamonds. We would have taken only one club trick. This is one case in which it paid to make a mistake, to the tune of 2,000 points.

"D. H. B., Chicago."

I agree that the result was highly satisfactory and amusing to the North-South team, but I imagine that their chuckles were somewhat heartier than those of East and West. North's slip of the tongue undoubtedly made matters difficult for East, who probably knew that North never made psychic bids and who, therefore, had to credit North with the balance of the spade strength. Still, I think that East might have maneuvered more adroitly than by merely overcalling with two diamonds. Had East made a takeout double it is true that she would have risked a heart response from her partner, but if this came at the mere two level East then could afford to show possession of an excellent spade suit by bidding two spades. It should be noted that this is the one method whereby it is possible to show a suit previously bid by an opponent. East could not overcall one spade by bidding two spades, because such a bid would be a cue bid showing no length but merely first round control. The initial takeout double, followed by the latter bid of the suit, advertises length and strength in the suit itself. Obviously had East ever intimated that she held an excellent spade suit West would have raised vigorously, if only as a sacrifice.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

A rugged, aggressive St. Xavier basketball team wore down the stubborn resistance of Loyola academy's quintet and went on to a 31 to 22 victory, thereby winning the national Catholic high school basketball championship last night in Loyola gymnasium.

The triumph of the rangy, fast stepping Louisiana players fulfilled the expectations of most of the tournament followers, who had seen them pile up fifty-three points against two of their previous opponents, but the Loyola boys refused to give up until they had run themselves into exhaustion. The Chicago team's skilful floorwork and vigorous guarding made a hard struggle out of what might well have developed into a runaway.

But Loyola Rallies.

It was not until the last quarter that St. Xavier's power finally asserted itself. Loyola had taken a 9 to 4 lead at the end of the first quarter and had then been held scoreless while St. Xavier forged into a 10 to 9 advantage at the half.

When Gates of St. Xavier opened the third period by hooking one in, it seemed that St. Xavier now was hitting its customary stride and that Loyola might quickly be overcome. But Loyola came back with a wallop that carried it into an 18 to 14 lead. By the end of the period, however, St. Xavier's had stepped out again to a 20 to 18 advantage.

In the final period St. Xavier quickly ran its lead to 26 to 18. Mangan's basket and Brice's two free throws gave Loyola another flash of hope. But that was the end of the Chicago team's scoring, and St. Xavier moved on to its final 31 points.

Third Title for St. Xavier.

This is the third time in the fifteen year history of the tournament that a St. Xavier team has won, its other titles having been taken in 1926 and 1935. It was the first time that a Loyola quintet had gone to the finals.

As usual, the scoring was pretty evenly divided among the St. Xavier players, Miller, Crimmins, Robben, and Waldner each getting three field goals, and Gates two. Robben also made two free throws and Graves one.

Kelly's three baskets and one free throw led the Loyola scoring, Buckley being second with three baskets.

In the game for third place between the teams which had been beaten in the semi-finals, Reitz Memorial of Evansville, Ind., defeated La Salle High school of Cumberland, Md., 37 to 25.

Cretin of St. Paul took the consolation title, beating St. Thomas academy, also of St. Paul, 30 to 27.

BY ARCH WARD.

THE New York Yankees, a more effective machine than the one constructed at great cost by the government, have put the so-called lively and dead baseballs through comparative tests. . . . In a series of exhibition games with National league foes, the world champions batted against the new Frick brand through nine innings of competition twice and the old Harridge ball once. . . . The consensus is that the chief difference is in the label. . . . Only one member of the pitching staf, Monte Pearson, believed the National league ball is easier to curve, and he expressed the belief that the old sphere is as effectively controled as the new, once the maker's gloss is rubbed away. . . . George Selkirk, Joe Gordon, and Tom Henrich all claimed they could drive the new ball as far as the old. . . . Maybe the National powers can attain the results they desire by restricting Joe Medwick, Wally Berger, and Dolph Camilli to half swings at the plate. . . .

Dink Templeton, track coach at Stanford, says the dates of the 1940 Olympic games are the least of his worries. . . . Dink is of the opinion that most of the lads of competitive age will be tossing hand grenades by that time. . . . Templeton does not subscribe to the idealistic theory that Olympic games competition fosters good will and sportsmanship. . . . In his own words: "Conflicting standards of sportsmanship make it next to impossible for an Olympic meet to be conducted without some kind of a beef." . . . Men who accompanied the American team to Berlin for the 1936 games still snicker when they recall how Herr Hitler was forced to duck out of the stadium to avoid hearing the cheers for Jesse Owens. . . .

Elmer Boeseke, former high goal polo player, probably never will play again because of complications following a broken leg, suffered in a polo accident two years ago. . . . It is believed an operation involving the transfer of a piece of bone from his right leg to his left will be necessary. . . . The late Frank J. Navin of the Detroit Tigers would tolerate no welchers on his club. . . . Scout Eddie Goosetree once signed a Texas collegian to a Tiger contract, paying him a bonus of $300. . . . Later the boy wrote Goosetree that he had been offered $1,500 to sign with Brooklyn. . . . "Have him return the $300," Navin ordered, "we don't want that type of player in our organization." . . . Incidentally, the young man failed to make good with the Dodgers.

We'll Be Seein' You, Zeke.

So long, you big genial Italian,
Here's a bunch of verbal confetti;
And a hope that you'll panic the seaboard
With your grin and your yen for spaghetti.

You may have been quite fumble footed,
But your spirit was never called weak;
And a lot of us rooters will miss you—
Here's luck to the Nats and you, Zeke.

AMERICANS WIN IN 4TH OVERTIME; HAWKS' NEXT FOE

Eliminate Rangers in 3-2 Hocky Duel.

New York, March 28 [Monday].—(AP)—Lorne Carr, right wing, drove a long shot into the New York Ranger nets after 40 seconds of the fourth overtime period this morning to give the New York Americans a 3 to 2 victory over the Blue Shirts in Madison Square Garden. A capacity crowd of 16,340 saw the Americans win the deciding game of the series and qualify to meet Chicago's Blackhawks in the semi-final round of the Stanley cup playoffs.

Carr, Stewart Tie Score.

The longest game on record went 176 minutes and 30 seconds, on March 24, 1936, with Detroit beating the Montreal Maroons, 1 to 0, after 60 minutes of regulation play and 116 minutes 30 seconds of overtime.

The Americans scored two goals in the final regular period to send the game into overtime. The Rangers carried a two goal lead into the third period, the result of goals by Alex Shibicky and Bryan Hextall in the first seven and one-half minutes of the second period, but Lorne Carr and Nels Stewart counted for the Americans in the first eleven minutes of the final period to produce the tie.

Play Waiting Game.

The two teams remained deadlocked at the end of the first overtime and, after the ice was scraped, continued their sudden death play. Both obviously were waiting for a break and refused to open up and chance elemination. The same tactics were followed in the second and third overtime periods.

HAWKS IN EAST

Ticket sales for the second game of the D series in the Stanley cup playoffs, in which the Blackhawks will meet the New York Americans on Thursday night in the Chicago Stadium, will go on sale today.

The series will open in New York tomorrow night. The Hawks went to New York immediately after eliminating the Canadiens from the C series in Montreal Saturday night. They scouted the Americans in last night's game in Madison Square Garden and will work out there today.

GETLIFFE MAY BE OUT

TORONTO, Ont., March 27.—(AP)—Ray Getliffe, left wing, may not be available to the Boston Bruins Tuesday when they resume their National Hocky league championship playoff series with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Getliffe suffered a deep cut in his leg while the Bruins were losing their second straight game in the series last night and Dr. J. W. Rush, Toronto club physician, said it was doubtful if the cut would mend sufficiently to permit him to play.

THOMAS BUILDS TITLE PLANS ON BODY PUNCHES

Harry Thomas concentrated on a body offensive in a three round workout yesterday in Trafton's gymnasium for his fifteen round heavyweight championship bout with Joe Louis in the Stadium Friday.

He is following this routine on the advice of Paul Berlenbach, former light heavyweight champion, who has been giving the Eagle Bend, Minn., boxer lessons.

"Body blows will score a knockout quicker and more effectively than a head punch," Berlenbach explained. "I chalked up fifty-four knockouts in sixty-seven bouts during my career and most of those knockouts were the result of body blows."

Thomas was followed on the gymnasium floor by Louis. The champion sparred six rounds, two each with George Williams, Tom Jones, and George Nicholson. He appeared to have recovered from the cold which bothered him Saturday.

Louis will be given a rest today, while his opponent will continue workouts. Thomas will rest tomorrow and attend a luncheon in his honor in La Grange.

BY FRENCH LANE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Orleans, La., March 27.—The great thoroughbred family of Sir Gallahad III. carried on in the 17th renewal of the Louisiana Derby over the old Fair Grounds race course this afternoon.

Wise Fox, a worthy scion of the family, drove up in the stretch to snatch victory by a nose in a photo finish. The victim of that last final charge of the fleet footed bay was Bunny Baby, Maryland filly. Sir Raleigh, the favorite, was in third place at the windup.

Sir Ally Runs Fourth.

Sir Ally, a son of Sir Gallahad, was fourth and the highly regarded Kentucky color bearer, Bourbon King, was fifth after he had encountered much bad racing luck in the early part of the battle.

After a delay of a minute and a half at the post, Bosto was away first when Starter Morrissey gave them the word. Sir Ally was right with him and so were Sir Raleigh and Dolly Val.

At the first turn, however, things began to happen. Bunny Baby was rushed to the front by Jocky Vedder and Wise Fox moved into second place. Sir Ally was third, Feng fourth, Dolly Val fifth and Sir Raleigh was sixth.

Jocky Arcaro attempted to rush Bourbon King forward, but instead rammed him directly in a pocket. Before the Kentucky colt could get out, he dropped back from third to last place, then attempted to take the overland route.

Down the back stretch they went, with Bunny Baby showing the way to Wise Fox by a half length. Sir Ally was third again by this time. Bourbon King was showing very little speed, but Sir Raleigh moved forward with a rush on the last turn.

Just as they headed into the stretch Wise Fox moved up into the lead and Sir Raleigh took third place. They thundered home in that order, with Wise Fox and Bunny Baby furnishing all of the excitement. Their ding-dong finish, with the Fox determined to keep his head in front, was one of the most thrilling finishes the race ever has offered.

Owned by Canadian.

Wise Fox is owned by A. G. Tarn, a western Canadian horseman. He went into the battle fresh from two victories scored in Florida. He paid his backers $12.40 to win, $6.20 to place, and $4 to show. Bunny Baby was at $6 to place and $3.60 to show. Sir Raleigh paid $2.80 to show.

Wise Fox ran the mile and a furlong in 1:51 1-5. The track record of 1:50 1-5

SHORTSTOP OUT 5 WEEKS WITH BROKEN ANKLE

Pitcher Strains Arm in 10-9 Victory.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 27.—The White Sox today got around to accomplishing their first victory in their 1938 formal exhibition series. They eked out a 10 to 9 triumph over the Cubs, but the joy over their belated victory was destroyed when Luke Appling, one of baseball's greatest shortstops, incurred the fracture of his right ankle and Monty Stratton, their outstanding pitcher, suffered a recurrence of the arm injury which kept him out much of last season.

Appling's injury came on that familiar menace to ball players, a decision to stop a slide after starting it. Luke, the major league batting champion in 1936, had gone to second on a foul ball and sought to pull up when he learned there was to be no play. Bill Jurges, covering second, realized instantly that Appling had been injured seriously and shouted for both the Sox and Cub trainers, Ad Schacht and Andy Lotshaw. The Sox star was carried from the field and immediately taken to a hospital on orders of a physician summoned from the stands.

Out Five Weeks.

At the hospital tonight it was said that Appling's break is not a bad one insofar as danger of complications is concerned, but that he will be out five or six weeks. The ankle was not put in a cast tonight, pending observation and further X-rays tomorrow.

After retiring the side on three infield grounders in the eighth, Stratton took himself out of the game in the ninth following successive singles on which Bob Mattick, Ken O'Dea, and Coaker Triplett filled the bases to open the inning and Augie Galan had been struck out.

The arm was being treated with ice packs tonight. Trainer Schacht said there is no clue as to the difficulty, but explained that the arm acts as it did when Stratton threw it out in New York last August.

Stratton says he hurt his arm all at once, just as he did against the Yankees. He had struck out Galan in the ninth and got one pitch past Herman. The Herman pitch got him, he says. The injury is a pulled muscle between the shoulder and the elbow.

Cubs Make Merry.

Dykes said tonight he is afraid Stratton will be out longer than Appling, or a month at least. He added that he'll try to get a shortstop who can hit, but has little hope and will use Boze Berger, who is fielding well, but knows nothing about battting. Berger will be eighth in the new batting order and Kuhel will supplant Luke in the cleanup spot.

With Stratton out of the way, the Cubs proceeded to score six runs, including home runs by Frank Demaree and Joe Marty, before Rookie Bill Cox could rescue Rookie Bob Uhle and retire Pinch Batter Carl Reynolds to end the game. In addition to the aforementioned homers, Uhle was assessed for Rip Collins' fourth single.

The game, played before a crowd of more than 10,000, seemed a breeze

Stanley Rakel and Louis Felix of Cincinnati, blasted their way into second place in the doubles standing of the American Bowling Congress tournament in the Coliseum yesterday with a total of 1,293 on games of 355-490-448. Felix warmed up with 189, followed with a 267 and coasted in with 211 for a 667 tabulation. Rakel got away to a modest start with 166, caught his partner's spirit and banged out 223 and then piled up 237 and a 626 series.

The Unit Cost corporation five of Toledo slipped into fourth place in the five man competition with 3,012 last night. The Ohioans opened with 928 and then added 1,047 and 1,037 to move in with the leaders.

Henry Leibold of Cleveland compiled the best singles total of the day's competition and moved into a tie for fourth place in the standings with 689.

is shared by Grey Count and Rushaway. Owner Tarn shipped the same Rushaway to the Fair Grounds some years back to win the same race with the same jocky, Johnny Longdon, in the saddle.

In the lineup of the mighty house of Sir Gallahad III. was one of the great 3 year olds champions of modern time, Gallant Fox. At the end of his 3 year old career he was retired from racing and went to the nursery in which his father was the sultan.

Omaha Was Good, Too.

Next came Omaha, a son of Gallant Fox. He became a 3 year old champion. Then along drifted Granville, also a son of Gallant Fox, to win still another 3 year old title. And now ups another son, Wise Fox, whose price in the Kentucky Derby future books was 60 to 1 yesterday, but which is 12 to 1 today, to jump into prominence and head for a 3 year old title.

Even more highly regarded for 3 year old championship honors, despite Wise Fox's courageous triumph in today's Louisiana Derby, is another son of Gallant Fox and grandson of Sir Gallahad III., known as Fighting Fox. This member of the noted family will race for the Bellair stud, just as Gallant Fox, Omaha, and Granville did.

The Derby had a gross value of $13,000. Wise Fox's share was $9,510. Bunny Baby picked up $2,000 for finishing second, Sir Raleigh's third place prize was $1,000, and Sir Ally got $500 for finishing fourth.

Race Attracts 15,000.

The weather was sultry with much humidity but not a drop of rain fell to mar the lightning fast track.

Heavy plungers were rare in the crowd, except for a few Kentuckians, who placed their wagers early on Bourbon King and another small group from Chicago that backed Sir Raleigh.

The New Orleans folks explained they had been going to the races steadily during the winter and spring for 113 days and that they had very little left with which to wager.

The original field of twelve was reduced to nine starters when Miss Mars, Peller, and Prince Argo were withdrawn early in the afternoon.

LOCKWOOD PIRIE WINS FROSTBITE DINGHY SERIES

Lockwood M. Pirie sailed his Frostbite racing dinghy to victory in a series of six races held yesterday in Belmont harbor for the Commodore Andrew Henninger trophy. He won five of the half dozen events, capturing the trophy permanently. Joe Haller and Gilbert Haffner alternated as Skipper Pirie's crew.

A fleet of seven dinghies, all D class Dyer boats, competed. A light wind that varied from north to south kept the skippers and their crews hunting breezes. Two courses, windward-leeward and triangular, each one and one half miles in length, were sailed.

Leeds Mitchell Jr. was runner-up on points, his consistency giving him the place although he did not win the sixth heat. Walter Etzbach was his crew. Temple Smith and Mrs. Pauline Goltra tied for third place. Grover Steffen and Edward Schnabel Jr., in the latter's boat, won the sixth race.

Glen View Country Club Holds Final Trapshoot

The Glen View Country club held its final trapshoot of the season yesterday. The winners: Straight run, F. S. Gorham, 86-11-97; protection shoot, F. Bunte and C. M. Spainhour, 97; season's prize, president's trophy, F. L. McNally; high average for season, C. M. Spainhour; attendance trophy, J. J. Healy.

N. C. A. A. RAISES WEIGHT LIMIT IN 3 MAT CLASSES

State College, Pa., March 27.—(AP)—The wrestling rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic association today raised the weight limit in three classes.

The group, headed by Dr. R. G. Clapp of the University of Nebraska, voted to incorporate in next year's rules a recommendation that "weight reduction shall be strictly in the hands of the college or high school physician and that periodic medical examination by the physician shall be made during the season and particularly before a meet."

In changing the weight classifications from 118, 126, and 135 pounds to 121, 128, and 136, the committee adopted a recommendation of the American Amateur Wrestling Coaches association that most college wrestlers could not make the 118 pound limit and retain their strength.

3 MORE QUINTETS MOVE AHEAD IN WALTHER MEET

St. Matthew, St. Stephen, and St. John of Elgin entered the quarter-finals of the Walther league basketball tournament as a result of victories last night in Concordia college gymnasium.

St. Matthew's west zone entry, won, 32 to 27, over St. Andrew, second place southwest section winner. St. Stephen's disposed of St. Paul of Aurora, second place entry of the Fox River valley zone, 33 to 25. St. John of Elgin beat St. Paul of Kankakee, 30 to 21.

St. Xavier Five Wins National Catholic Title

Loyola into the lead soon after the start, but Waldner tied it up with a tipin. Buckley took a short pass from Kelly and scored with a quick flip, but again Waldner tied it up. A basket by Mangan, a free throw by Kelly, and a long toss by O'Brien gave Loyola a 9 to 4 lead at the quarter.

During the second period Loyola was unable to score. Meanwhile, Robben made one field goal and Gates made two, giving St. Xavier a 10 to 9 lead at the half.

Gate's hook shot increased St. Xavier's lead as the third period began, but Buckley scored on a brilliant shot for Loyola. Crimmins of St. Xavier's sank one, then Loyola scored four times in succession, Kelly making two baskets, Buckley one, and O'Brien a free throw. Then Miller's two baskets and Robben's one gave St. Xavier a 20 to 18 edge as the third quarter ended.

In the fourth period Mangan's basket and Brice's two free throws were the only Loyola points. Meanwhile Crimmins got two field goals and Miller and Waldner one each, while Robben was making two free throws and Graves one to bring the total to 31 to 22.

C. Y. O. QUINTET NAMED TO MEET B. B. Y. O. STARS

The Catholic Youth Organization has selected its basketball team to meet the all-stars of the B'nai B'rith Youth Organization Wednesday night in Lane Tech High gymnasium, Addison street and Western avenue.

The C. Y. O. team includes Paul Eischen, Queen of Angels; Agis Bray, St. Elizabeth; Cyreni Singer, St. Bernard, and Emanuel Guagliardo, Immaculate Conception, forwards; William McKinnis, St. Elizabeth; Ben Budrick, St. George; Tom Hayes, St. Mel, and Ed Calishan, St. Anselm, guards; Ed Karas, St. Stanislaus B. & M., and Stanley Zadel, Blessed Sacrament, forwards.

Basket Coaches to Discuss Ban on Center Jump

The National Basketball Coaches association will hold its annual convention in the Morrison hotel next Monday and Tuesday. George Edwards, coach of the University of Missouri, is president of the association.

Discussion is expected to revolve around the issue raised by the elimination of the center jump. Some coaches have expressed dissatisfaction with the rule after a year's trial. They fear that basketball without the momentary respite offered by jumps at center is too hard on the players.

CARDS HIT OFTEN TO ROUT YANKS, 10-3; WIN SERIES

Baugh's Double One of 14 Safeties.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 27.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals won their exhibition series with the world champion New York Yankees, four games to two, today when they battered three pitchers for 14 hits and a 10 to 3 triumph over the American leaguers.

Dizzy Dean yielded only one run and two singles in four innings, and the veteran Guy Bush and Lon Warneke were equally effective.

The Cardinals clinched the game in the first inning when they pounded Monte Pearson for five hits and five runs. Included in St. Louis' 14 hits were a pair of doubles by Mickey Owen, a two base drive by Sammy Baugh, and a triple by Don Gutteridge.

GIANTS, 6; INDIANS, 0.

Baton Rouge, La., March 27.—(AP)—Behind three hit pitching by Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher, the New York Giants blanked the Cleveland Indians, 6 to 0, today, to take a 3 to 1 lead in the teams' spring exhibition series.

Bob Feller faced the Giants for four innings, fanning four and allowing the first run, in the fourth, when Joe Moore tripled and scored on a passed ball. The Giants pounded Johnny Allen for four runs in the fifth, with Mel Ott's first homer of the season and Jimmy Ripple's triple doing most of the damage.

PHILS, 6; ATHLETICS, 5.

Biloxi, Miss., March 27.—(AP)—Chuck Klein's double, scoring Heinie Mueller in the last half of the ninth, enabled the Phillies to defeat the Athletics, 6 to 5, today and gain a 3 to 1 advantage in the exhibition series between the two Philadelphia teams.

Errors by Finney and Newsome coupled with three singles gave the Phils three runs in the fourth and wiped out an early Athletic lead. The Phils drove Ed Smith from the mound and scored two runs in the sixth, but Easterling came over for the A's in the seventh to tie the score.

Mueller and Scharein had three hits each for the Phillies and Easterling and Finney collected the same number each for the Athletics.

BEES, 1; SENATORS, 0

Bradenton, Fla., March 27.—(AP)—A rookie pitcher, Ira Hutchinson, today turned in the best performance of the Boston Bees' training season as the National leaguers blanked the Washington Senators, 1 to 0.

Hutchinson yielded eight hits in seven innings. He was relieved by Dick Errickson. Wes Ferrell limited the Bees to three hits in the five innings he worked, but in his last inning the Bees got to him for the game's only run.

CUBS TO BATTLE ANGELS; SOX TO PLAY HOLLYWOOD

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 27.—Tomorrow's Cub program covers a bus trip to and from Ontario, Cal., where there'll be an exhibition during the afternoon with the Los Angeles team. Manager Grimm is taking along a lineup made up of regulars and Yannigans. The pitching will be assigned to Clyde Shoun, the lefty, and Albert Paul Epperly, the Moline rookie. Players not taken on the trip will enjoy a day of rest.

The White Sox also have minor league opposition to contend with tomorrow. They'll be here in Wrigley field for a joust with the homeless Hollywood team of the Pacific Coast league. Manager Dykes will employ Bill Dietrich, Jess Dobernic and George Gick on the mound.

The Cubs have released their vanishing rookie pitcher, Walter Kirby Higbe, to the Birmingham, Ala., club. The move was made several days ago but the club forgot to make the announcement. Higbe is the kid who made three starts for camp and turned back to his home town, Columbia, S. C., each time. He finally was told to stay there until a minor league job could be found for him.

Clyde Shoun has been offered to the Los Angeles club but thus far Truck Hannah, the manager of the outfit, has revealed little interest in the proposition.

The rookies with the White Sox can rest easily until they get to Dallas, Tex., two weeks hence. Manager Dykes plans on carrying all his present hired hands at least that far.

Mike Kreevich was the victim of his own deed in the first inning against the Cubs today. He fouled a ball which bounced up off the plate and plunked him squarely in the right eye. Except that the stars came out for a few minutes, Mike was undamaged, so continued to work.

The Sox manager has been insisting right along that Larry Rosenthal is going to be his center fielder this season. Today he made a move indicating he might be weakening. He dropped Rosenthal from second to sixth in the batting order because of the athlete's light hitting. The next move may be Rosenthal to the bench and Radcliff back to the outfield.

Rip Collins, who is given to wisecracks, would have given a ten spot if he could have thought up a few mirthful words in the fifth inning today. He was speechless, having been picked off first base by Luke Sewell's old trick of snapping a throw to the first baseman.

DEMAREE'S WIFE SEEKS DAMAGES IN LAND PURCHASE

Hollywood, Cal., March 27.—[Special.]—King Vidor, motion picture director, was named defendant with Mark A. Robin and an engineering company in a Municipal court civil action yesterday in which Mrs. Nadine F. Demaree, wife of Frank Demaree, Chicago Cub outfielder, seeks $1,000 damages.

Mrs. Demaree, according to the complaint filed by Attorney Max M. Gilford, purchased a lot in a Beverly Hills subdivision partly owned by Vidor on recommendation of the engineering company that it was only partially filled land.

Later, she says, it was discovered the lot was entirely filled land and not suitable for the buildings she desired to erect. Demaree and his wife bought the lot with the intention of building a winter home here, Gilford said.

FIREMEN TO OPEN THEIR HANDBALL TOURNEY TODAY

Twelve first round matches in the Chicago fire department singles handball tournament will be played today in the Madison Athletic club, 4717 Madison street.

There are forty-eight competing for the championship. The finals will be Sunday.

The opening match this morning pits the favorite, Lieut. Bob Quinn, against Bill Celmar. The meet is sanctioned by the Central A. A. U.

Decatur to Build a New Gymnasium Seating 4,000

Decatur, Ill., March 27.—[Special.]—Unable to seat many of the Decatur High school basketball team's followers during the regular season and having turned hundreds away from the armory during the recent sectional tournament, the board of education has announced plans for a new $340,000 gymnasium. The new structure will be financed in part by the federal government. It will seat 4,000.

Game to Pick Sparta's Foe Creates Riot

New York, March 27.—[Special.]—Timely intervention by the police quelled a riot today at Starlight park as the New York Americans conquered the St. Mary's Celtics of Brooklyn, 2 to 1, in the first game of their two game, total goal soccer series in the eastern final for the national challenge cup.

The sudden uprising of a part of the overflow crowd of 8,000 came at a dramatic point. Less than five minutes of the contest remained. Disagreeing with a decision rendered by Referee Manuel Antonio, a group of Brooklyn rooters stormed on the field near the American goal.

Police See Duty, Do It.

There were fifty or more aroused spectators busily engaged in pushing and otherwise manhandling the referee when the police rushed to the rescue. It was ten minutes before the field was cleared and the game resumed.

A few minutes later, upon the completion of the game, police lost no time in surrounding the referee and escorted him to the dressing room. The enraged fans, despite the police, made an effort to get at the official, hurling sticks, stones and other missils.

Star Suffers Broken Ankle.

The game was a keenly contested one, with plenty of roughness as an added feature. The one serious casualty fell to the Americans, early in the first half, when Joe Martinelli, their star center half, suffered a fracture of the left ankle during a scrimmage at midfield.

The teams will clash again Saturday at Celtic park in Brooklyn. In Chicago the first game of the home-and-home series for the national title will be contested April 10.

SPARTAS WIN, 9 TO 3

The Sparta soccer team defeated the Deutscher Sport club of Racine, Wis., 9 to 3, yesterday in Sparta stadium. The new western champions, awaiting their battle for the national championship with the eastern title holders, made the most of the opportunity to polish their offense.

Most effective Sparta workman yesterday was MacDermott, who penetrated the Racine defense for four goals. The Maccabees beat Peoria, 5 to 1, in Kuppenheimer stadium. Four of the Maccabees' goals came in the first period. Other scores yesterday:

Allison Will Compete in River Oaks Net Tourney

Houston, Tex., March 27.—(AP)—Wilmer Allison, veteran Texas tennis star, is hitting the comeback trail tomorrow, his first serious try at the game since he stepped down from America's No. 1 spot. The Austin, Tex., player, who defeated Fred Perry in 1935 and ranked as the country's leading player in 1936, is entered in the eighth annual River Oaks tournament which opens here Monday. Current stars who may upset his plans include Bobby Riggs, Wayne Sabin, Bryan Grant, and Hal Surface.

APPLING'S ANKLE BROKEN AS SOX WHIP CUBS, 10-9

for the Sox at the time Appling was layed low. The Sox, after spotting the Cubs runs in the first and second innings, pulled ahead in the third on a homer by Appling. They made nine hits off Larry French in five innings, and in the seventh, the inning in which Appling was hurt, they teed off on Bill Lee for five runs, including Gee Walker's second homer in two days.

A double, two singles, a walk and an error in the first inning netted the Cubs the same harvest as they got without a hit in the second inning—viz.: One.

Herman Hits Double.

After Thornton Lee had struck out Galan to get the game under way, Herman doubled to left center and scored on Collins' single to center. Demaree singled to left, putting Collins on second and when Walker fumbled the ball Rip reached third and Frank second. Marty walked, filling the bases, after which Hack hit into a double play, Appling to Hayes to Kuhel.

In the second inning Jurges landed on Hayes' low throw, Hartnett walked, and French sacrificed. Jurges scored when Hayes became confused after capturing Galan's grounder.

In the first two innings French confined the Sox to a single by Rosenthal, but in the third the Comiskeys busted through for three runs and the lead. Thornton Lee led off with a double to the left field wall, held second while Hack tossed out Hayes, and stopped at third on Kreevich's single to center. Lee scored while Herman was throwing out Walker. Appling smacked his homer high over the right field screen, scoring Kreevich. Kuhel struck out.

The south siders fattened their advantage with runs in the fifth. Hayes opened against French with a single to center, but was forced by Kreevich. Walker singled to center, Kreevich stopping at second. Appling caromed a single off Collins' glove, Kreevich scoring and Walker reaching third. Kuhel walked, filling the bases, whereupon Rosenthal flied to Galan, Walker scoring. Herman threw out Owen.

The Cubs touched up Stratton a bit in his first inning, the sixth. With one out Hack tripled over Rosenthal's head and scored on Jurges' double to right center. O'Dea batted for Hartnett and was thrown out by Appling. Cavarretta batted for French and was tossed out by Hayes.

That Fatal Seventh.

Walker opened the seventh with his homer, an enormous shot over the wall in deep left center. Appling walked and when Kuhel knocked the ball to Collins Appling ran and slid into second, suffering the accident to his ankle. Kuhel's effort then was adjudged a foul and after Appling had been carried off the field Berger went to first to run for Luke. Kuhel walked, after which Rosenthal sacrificed and the bases were loaded when Herman, covering first, dropped Collins' throw on Rosie's sacrifice. Owen singled to center, scoring Berger and Kuhel, Rosenthal reaching third. Owen got to second on Marty's throw to third. Bill Lee was yanked and Root went in. Schlueter delivered his second straight single, scoring Owen and Rosenthal. Stratton sacrificed and Hayes and Kreevich supplied infield outs.

Then came the big Cub blast in the ninth.

LEADS ELKS' TOURNEY.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 27.—(AP)—C. Kersten of Detroit bowled games of 257, 200, and 235 for a 692 total and the singles leadership in the National Elk tournament tonight.

ENTRY OF 1,400 DOGS CREATES A SHOW RECORD

25 States and Canada to Be Represented.

Fourteen hundred entries, a new record, were announced yesterday for the thirty-seventh Chicago all-breed dog show which will be held next Saturday and Sunday in the International amphitheater, 42d and Halsted streets.

Exhibitors and dogs are coming from twenty-five states and Canada. Illinois has the most entries, with New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, and Missouri also contributing heavily to the record total.

An entry from Hollywood was listed by Mrs. Jack Oakie, who hopes to carry off premier honors with her Afghan champion hound, Barbarrey-hill Dolly.

Champion Poodle Entered.

Mrs. Milton Erlanger of Elberon, N. J., is sending her famous champion poodle, Pillicoe Rumpelstilskin, for exhibition only. This dog was selected as best American bred dog for 1937 by the American Kennel club. Mrs. Erlanger has listed six other poodles for competition.

Cocker spaniels lead the ninety-four breeds to be judged in point of entries. Chow chows are second. Then come Dobermann-Pinschers, English setters, Scottish terriers, English springer spaniels, Boston terriers, Irish setters, wire haired fox terriers, bulldogs, collies, and great danes.

Among Chicago Entries.

Listed among the Chicago entries are Harold M. Florsheim with four airedales and two Welsh terriers; Count Giovanni Cadelli, who will show an airedale; Mrs. Janet H. Henneberry, with three English springer spaniels; Charles H. Morse Jr. of Lake Forest with two great danes; Mr. and Mrs. Orrin H. Baker with two kerry blue terriers; Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Reynolds with two Dobermann-Pinschers; Stuyvesant Peabody with one toy Manchester terrier; Dr. and Mrs. Noel S. Young with Sealyham terriers, and C. J. Casselman and Thomas M. Halpin, who will show nine collies.

Terry Calls Nugent; Finds Phil Pitchers Not for Sale

Baton Rouge, La., March 27.—[Special.]—Manager Bill Terry's efforts to add either Bucky Walters or Claude Passeau of the Phillies to the New York Giant pitching staf were stymied today. In a telephone talk with Gerald Nugent, president of the Phillies, Terry learned that no Philadelphia pitcher was for sale.

ANCIENT MILLS TO REND QUIET OF SALEM VILLAGE

Smithy to Be Rebuilt in Lincoln's Home Town.

New Salem State Park, Ill., March 27.—(AP)—The peaceful quiet of the restored village of New Salem soon will be broken by the noise of an ox powered carding mill and a rumbling grist mill on the nearby Sangamon river bank.

The two mills are included in plans of the public works and buildings department to bring the village, where Abraham Lincoln lived from 1831 to 1837, a step nearer this year to its original condition.

Smithy to Be Rebuilt.

Other major structures to be added soon to bluff-top settlement are the Herndon brothers' residence between Offut's store and the Rutledge tavern and the Miller blacksmith shop east of the Miller house.

Barns, smokehouses, rail and picket fences, herb and vegetable gardens, flower beds, and a few scattered fruit trees and bushes are among the immediate plans to recreate the scene as it was more than a century ago.

Plans Checked Carefully.

The grist mill plan has been checked for authenticity and sent to Dean M. L. Enger of the University of Illinois department of hydraulics to determine if the machinery designed will produce the required power.

The Hill carding mill, to be located between Dr. Regnier's and Waddell's cabins, will have a wheel 40 feet in diameter set at a 45 degree angle and operated by two oxen.

The parking area to the west of the village is to be enlarged to provide for 350 more cars and screens are to be planted on the stage of the nearby natural amphitheater. Also scheduled to get under way this year is the construction of a custodian's lodge.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN FOUND DEAD.

The body of a neatly dressed man, about 58 years old, apparently the victim of a heart attack, was found last night in the rear of 3606 South Winchester avenue.

CALLS MEETING TOMORROW ON AIRPORT DISPUTE

Judge Evan A. Evans of the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals, who has agreed to settle the city's price dispute with Raymond E. Herman, owner of 2.78 acres of land needed for expanding the Chicago airport, said yesterday he has called a conference of attorneys for both sides tomorrow.

Under the agreement reached between the city and Herman, Judge Evans is to hear evidence concerning the value of Herman's land and then determine a fair price for the tract. The city has agreed to pay the price and Herman has promised to abide by the judge's ruling.

Judge Evans said the purpose of tomorrow's conference was to talk the matter over with both sides and determine what procedure will be taken. Both Herman and Assistant Corporation Counsel Arthur Sullivan, representing the city, are anxious for a speedy settlement.

RADIUM WORKER CHARGES SHIFT IN POISON DEFENSE

If radium was a poison once, it's a poison now, it is contended in a brief to be filed today before the state industrial commission in behalf of Mrs. Catherine Donohue, 35 years old, of Ottawa against the Radium Dial company, which formerly had its factory there, and for which Mrs. Donohue worked.

Mrs. Donohue is petitioning the commission for permanent disability and medical fees on the claim that she is suffering a living death from radium poisoning. The disposition of her case will govern that of thirteen others brought by women employés of the company.

The brief to be filed today by Attorney Leonard J. Grossman asserts that in a previous case the company contended successfully that radium was a poison and the company therefore was not liable under the section of the compensation act on which the suit was based. It now contends, in the cases of the fourteen women, that radium is not a poison, the brief states.

DEDICATE CHAPEL FOR PATIENTS AT GEORGIA RESORT

Warm Springs, Ga., March 27.—[Special.]—In an unpretentious white chapel, built as a place of worship for those afflicted with infantile paralysis, the President of the United States this morning bowed his head at services dedicating a unique religious structure.

The Rt. Rev. Henry J. Mikell, Episcopal bishop of Atlanta, intoned services dedicating the chapel. In an open pit in front of the President's pew, seated in wheel chairs, were the patients of the infantile paralysis resort he founded here.

Mrs. Roosevelt arrived here a few hours after the dedicatory services to join the President in a belated celebration of their 33d wedding anniversary, which passed last March 17.

PROF. L. W. STERN, PSYCHOLOGIST OF WORLD NOTE, DIES

Durham, N. C., March 27.—(AP)—Prof. Louis William Stern, 67 years old, noted psychologist, died today. A former director of the psychological institute at Hamburg, Germany, he had been professor of psychology at Duke university since 1934.

Stern originated the concept of the I. Q. [intelligence quotient]. His philosophical point of view, personalism, became well known in this country and in Europe.

In many investigations he had the collaboration of his wife, Clare Stern. A son and three daughters, Guenther and Hilda Stern of New York and Eve Stern of Switzerland, also survive. A native of Berlin, he came to this country with the rise of the present government in Germany.

YOUTH KILLED AS HE CLEANS TARGET PISTOL

Clifford Kutzer, 22 years old, of 1978 South Sheridan road, Highland Park, shot and killed himself by accident yesterday as he was cleaning a pistol in preparation for target practice. His brother, Matthews M. Kutzer Jr., returned Saturday with his bride after a wedding trip. Clifford had been working a short time as a bond salesman after two years at the University of Illinois. His father is district salesman for a chemical company.

J. A. Carney, Locomotive Engineer Chairman, Dies

Springfield, O., March 27.—(AP)—James Arthur Carney, 61 years old, of Indianapolis, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, died in a hospital here tonight of a heart ailment. Carney headed the brotherhood for eight years. Previously he was employed for thirty-five years by the New York Central railroad.

OBITUARIES

Baron Ashburton.

[Copyright, 1938, By the New York Times.]

LONDON, March 27.—Baron Ashburton, one of Great Britain's foremost yachtsmen, died of a heart attack aboard the Queen Mary today while returning from a two month stay in New York. He was 75 years old. Baron Ashburton, who was accompanied by Lady Ashburton, the former Frances Donnelly of New York, suffered several heart attacks during his stay in New York. He was a descendant of Sir Francis Baring, founder of the Great British banking firm of Baring Brothers, and the Lord Ashburton who negotiated the treaty of that name with the United States. Ashburton's son, Alexander F. Baring, director of Baring Brothers, succeeds to the title as sixth Baron of Ashburton.

Myron Pearce.

Myron Pearce, brother of Mrs. Henry A. Blair, died yesterday at the Drake hotel after several days' illness. He was 80 years old and lived at 430 Diversey parkway. Besides Mrs. Blair, whose husband was president of the Chicago Surface lines until he died in 1932, Mr. Pearce is survived by a brother, John Irving Pearce Jr. Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. today at Graceland cemetery chapel.

Francis J. O'Connor.

Funeral services for Francis J. O'Connor, assistant purchasing agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. in St. Patrick church. Burial will be in Green Bay, Wis. Mr. O'Connor, who lived at 1013 Wade street, Highland Park, died Thursday in Phoenix, Ariz. His widow, Ida, three sons and a daughter survive.

Andrew Michalakopoulos.

ATHENS, Greece, March 27.—(AP)—Andrew Michalakopoulos, premier of Greece in 1924-'25, died today. He was 62 years old. He also held the foreign affairs portfolio in a number of ministries. He dissolved the Conservative-Republican party in 1935 and retired from active politics. His widow and daughter survive.

The Rev. A. E. Wright

Funeral services for the Rev. A. E. Wright, for twenty-four years pastor of Grace United Brethren church, Greenwood avenue and 72d street, will be held at 2 p. m. today in the United Brethren church of Glenn, Mich., near South Haven. The Rev. Mr. Wright died last Friday at his home in Glenn. He is survived by his wife, Katherine, and two daughters, Mrs. Kathryn Jacobsen, 7241 Yale avenue, and Mrs. Ninon Walden, 7226 Ellis avenue.

John Henry Farling.

John Henry Farling, 6342 Ellis avenue, died yesterday at the age of 75 in the Woodlawn hospital. Born in Mendota, La Salle county, Mr. Farling came to Chicago as a youth, and established a carpentry shop at Wabash avenue and Randolph street. There he came to know such distinguished men as the elder Marshall Field, Emanuel Mandel, and Medill McCormick. Funeral services will be held at noon tomorrow in the chapel at 63d street and Harvard avenue.

Frank J. Gazzolo.

Frank J. Gazzolo, a real estate dealer on Chicago's west side, died in the Columbus Memorial hospital last night at the age of 67. He lived at 4749 Washington boulevard. Mr. Gazzolo was born in Italy and came to Chicago fifty years ago. Funeral services will be held at St. Thomas Aquinas church at 10 a. m. Wednesday.

BOCKELMAN—William Alexander Bockelman. A tribute of love in memory of my beloved brother, who was suddenly taken away from my midst March 28, 1937.
How we pause and think of you,
And think of how you died.
To think you could not say good-by
Before you closed your eyes.
No one knows the silent heartaches.
Only those who have loved can tell.
O, the grief that is borne in silence.
For my dear brother we loved so well.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

GEN. ELECTRIC'S ORDERS, PROFITS MOUNT IN 1937

Record Is Set in Use of Electricity.

Owen D. Young.

Orders received by the General Electric company, one of the world's largest companies engaged in the manufacture of machinery and equipment used in connection with electricity, totaled $379,273,619 in 1937, compared with $296,748,219 in 1936, representing a gain of 30 per cent, Owen D. Young, chairman, and Gerard Swope, president, said yesterday in their annual report.

From these orders and other income the company derived a profit of $63,546,762, equal to $2.21 a share on the common stock, against $43,947,166, or $1.52 a share, in 1936. The company has no preferred stock or funded debt. Earned surplus at the end of 1937 was $121,456,521.

More Electricity Used.

Young and Swope said that worldwide use of electricity reached a new high in 1937 and that total business available to the electrical manufacturing industry in America during 1937 was larger than for any other year except 1929.

Taxes paid by the company in 1937 totaled $23,266,000, against $15,072,000 for 1935, an increase of 54 per cent.

Current assets as of Dec. 31, 1937, including $47,536,253 cash and marketable securities, totaled $167,752,722. Current liabilities amounted to $37,943,805.

Expenditures on plant and equipment totaled $20,593,146 in 1937, against $8,620,012 in 1936.

The report disclosed there were 201,219 stockholders on Dec. 31.

Show Employés' Interest.

Young and Swope devoted a considerable part of their report to a discussion of the employés' interest in the company. On Dec. 31, 1937, there were 72,446 employés, compared with 68,026 a year earlier. The average for 1937 was 75,212. Total earnings of employés in 1937 were $145,358,000, compared with $106,784,000 for 1936.

Average annual earnings per employé amounted to $1,933, compared with $1,728 in 1936. The 1937 average was the highest in the history of the company. The purchasing power of the average annual earnings per employé in 1937 was 23 per cent higher than in 1936, the report said.

The company paid $2,499,893 during 1937 to 3,436 retired employés. On Dec. 31 there were 3,214 on pension and retirement rolls, with an average annual payment of $768.

RAIL FREIGHT BOOST AVERAGING 5 PER CENT IS PLACED IN EFFECT

Washington, D. C., March 28 [Monday].—(AP)—The nation's railroads began charging higher freight rates at midnight last night.

The carriers put into effect rate increases averaging slightly more than 5 per cent, which were authorized recently by the interstate commerce commission.

The trucking industry also had I. C. C. authority to increase its rates at the same time to the same extent as the rail carriers.

Iron and Steel Exports Dip, but Are Above Year Ago

Washington, D. C., March 27.—[Special.]—Iron and steel exports from the United States were 46 per cent greater in volume and 28.5 per cent greater in value in February than in the corresponding month last year, the department of commerce reported today, but were 11.3 per cent lower in quantity and 15.5 per cent less in value than in January.

U. S. Treasury Halts Mexican Silver Buying

policy of kindly tolerance extended Cardenas' three year old régime by the United States government.

The fate of the Cardenas government was said to rest upon working out the difficult economic situation precipitated by the expropriation—a task which would be made immeasurably harder, it was agreed, if United States support were withdrawn.

"Prepared," Says Cardenas.

"We are prepared to prevent the effects of this [the silver] decision from reacting injuriously upon our economy," Cardenas said.

"We desire that, once the nation learns of this fact, it be judged with the necessary serenity and justice, since it is an act executed by the will of that [United States] government.

"We have taken the necessary steps so that the funds derived from the exploitation of petroleum will be used preferentially for the development and utilization of the industry, and for the amortization of the debt contracted with the nationalization of petroleum."

He said a move would be made to put Mexican silver on the world market.

Cardenas announced he will send to congress tomorrow a bill providing for a 100,000,000 peso loan [the old rate for the peso before foreign exchange dealings recently were suspended was 3.60 to the dollar. Saturday private banks quoted the peso at 4.15 to 4.20 to the dollar].

N. Y. STATE CONTROLER TREMAINE MAY GET STOCK EXCHANGE JOB

New York, March 27.—[Special.]—Reports that State Controler Morris S. Tremaine, who guards the $1,301,000,000 in the New York state treasury, is to be offered the job of paid president of the New York Stock exchange came from financial circles today.

Tremaine, who admitted he was aware that his name had been mentioned in connection with the exchange post, denied there had been any official action, however. Reached by telephone at his home in Buffalo, the financial expert said:

"I have heard the reports that I've been selected, but they are strictly reports. No formal offer has been made to me."

Wall street observers commented that an official bid for the paid president's position, a job created under the exchange's new constitution, may not be extended until after the nominations for the new board of governors is completed April 7.

STEEL DEMAND GAINS SLOWLY; OUTPUT RISES

Steel ingot production last week was estimated yesterday by the magazine Steel at 35 per cent of capacity, an increase of 3 points over the preceding week's rate. Output was increased in seven steel making centers, and only one, Detroit, showed a lower operating rate.

The decline of 5 points at Detroit was more than offset by gains in the Chicago, Wheeling, and Youngstown districts, with other smaller steel centers contributing to the rise in the national rate.

"General demand for steel is making a steady advance, though at a slow rate," Steel said. "Consumers in a wide variety of channels are increasing their commitments as inventories become exhausted.

"Failure of the automotive and railroad industries, however, to take any considerable part of their ordinary tonnages is a severe handicap to the upward movement usual at this season."

Scrap steel prices were largely nominal last week. Export buying is light at present, but prices have held steady. Steel's composite of steelmaking scrap prices declined 4 cents to $13.21 a ton.

MONTH'S OUTPUT OF SLAUGHTERING PLANTS REDUCED

Inspected slaughtering plants in the United States reduced output 24 per cent in February as compared with January, the Chicago Federal Reserve bank reported yesterday. The February production was 5 per cent larger than in the corresponding 1937 period.

The number of workers in the industry at the end of the month was 10 per cent less than a month earlier, the report showed. The amount of wages paid dropped 15 per cent.

Inventories continued to rise, being within 12 per cent of the 1933-'37 average. Tonnage sold was 13 per cent less than in January but 5 per cent more than in February, 1937.

BOARD OF TRADE 'DODGING,' SAYS HEAD OF CARGILL

Assailing the Chicago Board of Trade's action of last Friday in expelling the Cargill Grain Company of Illinois and three of its officials on charges of causing a corn squeeze last September, John H. MacMillan Jr., president of the parent Cargill, Inc., charged yesterday that the Board of Trade is "trying to dodge responsibility" for bear raids which he said it "permitted and aided last July, August, and September."

MacMillan's statement, made in Minneapolis, was his first in answer to action of the board's directors in expelling the Cargill Grain company, MacMillan and Edward J. Grimes and Philip C. Seyles, vice presidents.

"It is evident the board is attempting to dodge responsibility in advance of the time when it will be compelled to defend itself before the federal commodity exchange commission against Cargill's pending charge that the board manipulated the corn market downward in the interests of short sellers," MacMillan Asserted.

The federal hearing is set for April 18.

LITTLE BUSINESS ASKS REST FROM NEW LEGISLATION

A plea that congress give business, big and little, a "long holiday" from additional regulation or taxation was voiced by little business men of Chicago in reply to a questionnaire sent out by Donald P. Blake, the results of which were announced yesterday.

Blake, an official of the Charles G. Blake company, monument firm, was a delegate to President Roosevelt's recent conference of little business men. Blake disclosed the survey in an open letter sent to Representative Raymond S. McKeough [D., Ill.].

Business men replying to the questionnaires, of which 2,500 were sent out in the Kenwood, Hyde Park and Woodlawn districts, urged curtailment of expenditures to balance the federal budget. They opposed federal wage and hour legislation and the proposed federal corporation licensing bill, and expressed the opinion that little business prospers when big business prospers.

Retail Trade in Chicago Improves During Week

Retail trade in Chicago showed considerable improvement last week, the Chicago Association of Commerce reported yesterday. Business was still far below that of the corresponding week of last year, but it was pointed out that the early Easter date in 1937 was a partial cause of the large buying at this time last year. Wholesalers reported a continued lag in new business.

Bumper Wheat Crop Forecast by U. S. Bureau

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The prospect of a bumper wheat harvest in the United States in 1938 is reënforced by the appraisal of the outlook by the bureau of agricultural economics, a division of the department of agriculture. The bureau forecasts that the combined yield of the winter and spring crops this year will aggregate about 830 million bushels, or 160 million bushels larger than the average annual yield in the years 1932-'36.

Furthermore, the bureau points out, the country will enter the new crop year on July 1 with a substantial surplus of wheat remaining from the 1937 harvest. This carryover is estimated at about 200 million bushels.

This outlook—which may be altered before harvest—is having a depressing effect on wheat prices.

Crop Condition Considered.

The bureau of agricultural economics bases its production forecast on reports on the condition of the winter crop gathered by the department of agriculture. Less than normal acreage abandonment because of winter killing is epxected, and the production of the winter grain is placed at 630 million bushels.

The estimate of 200 million bushels yield of spring wheat is a far more speculative prediction. The harvest of the spring crop is still months away, and a midsummer crop blight might cut production far below the indicated figure. The estimate is arrived at by estimating the prospective acreage—using reports from farmers on seeding plans, and apply the average yield per acre over a period of years.

Wheat Lower; Corn Higher.

Wheat sank further in the Chicago futures market last week, but corn prices strengthened and closed the week moderately higher.

Rochester Gas and Electric.

Investors' Guide: I am interested in Rochester Gas and Electric bonds. Has this company more than one issue outstanding? If so, what is the underlying issue and how is it secured? Are franchise provisions of the company satisfactory? Do you regard the corporation's bonds as sound?—M. B.

Answer: The Rochester Gas and Electric corporation is controled by the Associated Gas and Electric system through the New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey Utilities company. Rochester Gas does the entire electric light, power and gas business in Rochester, N. Y., and several adjoining towns. Population served with these utilities is about 487,000 persons. In addition, the company supplies steam for heating and industrial purposes.

Practically all the bonds of Rochester Gas and Electric are secured by a general mortgage on the company's property. The only issue ranking ahead of the general mortgage bonds is approximately $76,500 in bonds of a subsidiary, the Genesee Valley Power company 6s of 1953.

The company's property, plant and equipment, including intangibles, are carried on the balance sheet at about $78,900,000. Total funded debt is about $35,323,000. Fixed charges have been covered by ample margins in every recent year. In view of the security and earnings record the bonds are regarded as sound.

With minor exceptions, franchises of the company are perpetual.

Helsingfors 6½s.

Investors' Guide: I understand that the City of Helsingfors external 6½ per cent bonds due April 1, 1960, have been called. Was all of the issue called or only part? How can I find out whether my bond was called? If it was called, where can I collect?—Mrs. E. T.

Answer: The City of Helsingfors has called $72,000 of its external 6½s of 1960 for payment at par on April 1, 1938, at Brown Brothers, Harriman & Co., New York. If you care to send us the number of your bond we shall be glad to let you know whether it was called.

Your banker will be glad to collect on the amount due you if your bond was among those called.

Western Union.

Investors' Guide: I notice that Western Union stock has recently sold below $20 a share. What was the 1932 low of this stock?—R. T. L.

Answer: Western Union capital stock sold as low as $12.37½ in 1932.

Brokers' Brokers.

The business of many stock brokers consists almost entirely of handling business for other brokers. These firms or individuals are known as brokers' brokers because they have little or no direct dealing with the public.

This type of business was handled chiefly by Richard Whitney & Co., the firm of the former president of the New York Stock exchange which failed recently. The public generally had no stake in the firm. In addition to those other brokers, the firm had a few large accounts such as the New York Yacht club and the gratuity fund of the New York Stock exchange.

Many firms that are members of the New York Stock exchange and other markets do not keep representatives on the exchanges at all times. The business handled in many cases would not justify the expense. Consequently, they turn the business over to other brokers who charge a member's commission for executing the order. This commission is smaller than is charged a nonexchange member and spread between the two provides the profit for the firm which originates the order.

Anaconda, Union Carbide Earn More.

Edward G. Seubert.

Edward G. Seubert, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, yesterday issued a preliminary estimate indicating that the company's net earnings in 1937, including its share in the profits of subsidiaries, were about $55,900,000, compared with $46,883,448 in 1936. The estimated 1937 earnings are equal to $3.66 a share on the 15,267,030 shares outstanding at the end of the year, compared with $3.09 each on a smaller number of shares, 15,196,241, in the preceding year.

In reporting the year's profits, which he described as "among the best in the company's history," Seubert warned that they cannot be considered representative of earnings "under the changed conditions now prevailing.

[The company earned $55,098,764 in 1936, $85,099,754 in 1929, and $46,371,438 in 1930.]

Report Due April 13.

The $55,900,000 estimate represented the consolidated profit of all the companies controled by Standard of Indiana stockholders, after deduction of the share due minority interests of the subsidiaries.

Exact figures on earnings and other phases of operations will be announced to stockholders in the pamphlet report which will be mailed about April 13, fifteen days prior to the annual meeting of the company at Whiting, Ind., on April 28.

All profit figures reported are after deductions for federal income and undistributed profits taxes, depreciation, depletion, amortization, and other charges.

Union Carbide Profit Rises.

The Union Carbide and Carbon corporation yesterday reported that its net income in 1937, after provisions for taxes, depreciation, depletion, and fixed charges, was $42,782,128, equal to $4.75 a share on 9,000,743 shares of capital stock outstanding, compares with 1936 net of $36,852,208, or $4.09 a share.

Dividends declared during 1937 amounted to $3.20 a share and totaled $28,802,378. During 1936 dividends declared amounted to $2.60 a share and totaled $23,401,932.

The corporation spent $34,124,182 for construction in 1937, all of which was financed out of current assets. The company reported current assets of $89,404,833 as of Dec. 31, 1937, compared with current assets of $97,040,109 on Dec. 31, 1936.

Anaconda Profit Rises.

The Anaconda Copper Mining company and its subsidiaries yesterday reported that net income in 1937 was $31,387,861, equal to $3.62 a share of capital stock, compared with 1936 profit of $15,881,829 or $1.83 a share. The report of the company, of which Cornelius F. Kelley is president, said copper output during the year set a new high mark of 843,622,162 pounds, or 4.9 per cent more than the previous record, set in 1929, and 52.6 per cent more than the 1936 copper output.

The company's mines also produced 42,827 ounces of gold during the year and 8,535,455 ounces of silver.

Subsidiary Earns More.

A subsidiary, the Anaconda Wire and Cable company, reported net income in 1937 of $1,985,241, which was equal to $4.70 a share of capital stock. Net profit in the preceding year was $2,289,471, or $4.69 a share.

The Addressograph-Multigraph corporation reported net profits for 1937 of $1,950,802, compared with $1,319,885 for the previous year. The 1937 profits amount to $2.58 a share.

The company's annual report to stockholders, signed by Frank H. Woods, chairman, and Joseph E. Rogers, president, said current assets on Dec. 31 were $8,356,130, compared with $7,236,400 a year earlier, and current liabilities were $1,513,996, compared with $1,159,428 Dec. 31, 1936.

New Product Marketed.

It said that in November, 1937, the research and engineering divisions released to the sales organization a new, lower priced duplicating machine, together with a complete line of supplies for the product.

Net incomes of companies reporting yesterday follow:

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

An Early Spring.

March 27, 1938.

THE extremely early spring weather has made it necessary for the manager of THE TRIBUNE'S Wheaton farm to lay plans for starting field work several weeks earlier than last year, if conditions remain favorable. Frost has been out of the ground several days, while this time last spring the ground still was frozen to a depth of twelve inches even in the open fields. In the shaded spots the ground was frozen to a depth of 16 to 18 inches as late as March 21 last year.

With favorable weather men expect to start sowing spring grains at the Wheaton place within the next week. Oats sowing is first on the schedule and the manager expects the ground to be dry enough for that work this week. If the oats can be put in the ground this week they will be sown more than a month earlier than last spring.

Oats sowing was not started on the farm last year until about the second week in May. The sowing was not completed until the latter part of May. Plows were not started in the corn fields until the first week in May last year.

Do Best When Sown Early.

Workers say that it is unusual to be able to sow oats this early in northern Illinois. They point out, however, that oats often do best when sown early. If it is possible to get the seed in the ground this week the crop will be given a good start and will mature before extreme hot, dry weather sets in.

The manager plans to sow sixty-three acres of oats this spring. Legumes and timothy seed will be sown in with the oats. In most cases a mixture of clover and red timothy will be sown. Grimm alfalfa will be seeded in one field.

Corn is the second crop on the spring planting program. All the ground to be used in growing corn this year was plowed last fall. A comparatively small acreage of corn will be planted on the Wheaton farm this season. The present plan is to grow eighteen acres for silage and only five for grain. Several hundred bushels of ear corn raised last year still are unfed.

Soy Bean Schedule.

The planting of soy beans is third on the field work schedule. According to preliminary plans, thirty-two acres of soy beans will be planted this year. This includes twenty-seven acres to be used for feed and for soil building purposes, and five acres of the vegetable varieties to be grown for sale.

The field varieties of soy beans will be planted on land where rye was sown last fall. The rye will be plowed under and the ground pulverized before the beans are planted. A sixteen acre field of rye will be harvested for grain; clover and timothy seeds were sown in this field.

Pastures are getting off to a good early start this spring. Sheep already are finding plenty of young grass to graze on in pastures near the barn.

The manager says he will not turn horses and cows in the pastures for a while because the grass is too watery and short. Then, too, the ground is so soft that horses and cattle would cut the sod and injure the grass.

Six Railroad Grade Crossings Described as the Most Dangerous for Motorists in Chicago's Metropolitan Area

AND NORTH WESTERN R. R. (WINNETKA)
LOOK OUT THE CARS
GATES, LIGHTS, BELLS AND WATCHMEN—YET DEADLY

These six railroad grade crossings were designated yesterday by the Chicago Motor club as the most dangerous for motorists in the metropolitan area of Chicago. Three of the six have both gates and watchmen, but Motor club officials asserted that safety requires the building of grade separations at such danger spots as rapidly as money is available. Special hazards at each of the crossings are indicated on the pictures. The death toll indicated is for both 1936 and 1937. (Story on page 9.)
